SEVEN MILLIONS IN ORE

This is Estimated Product of Year in Black Hills.

GOOD, CONSIDERING SHUTDOWN

All Workings Delayed by Deep Snow—Homestake Proceeds with Million Dollar Water Power Plant.

DEADWOOD, S. D., Jan. 14.—(Special.)—In the absence of figures compiled by State Mine Inspector Nicholas Treweek of Lead, whose annual report has not yet been made public by Governor Vessey, no official figures for the output of 1909 from the Black Hills are obtainable but from the best sources, carefully secured, it is learned that the output totaled about $7,000,000. Of this amount the Homestake produced about $3,000,000, which figure would have been increased but for the labor trouble which caused the property to suspend operations thirty-five days short of a year. Other companies, notably the Mogul, Golden Reward, Portland and Clinton, Imperial and Wasp did not work the full year, most of them being seriously hampered by the June flood, while the Wasp closed down several times during the year to make repairs and increase its equipment. The Minnesota Mines company also had some production during the year, as did a few small properties spasmodically. In the southern hills there were a few irregular producers such as the Golden Slipper, Gold Medal, Continental Copper and Smelting company, the Westinghouse company being the sole regular producer, it turning out during the year over $100,000 worth of mica which was shipped to its factories.

Other Good Producers.

Next to the Homestake, the Mogul was probably the most steady of any of the Black Hills producing properties and had the best record. At one time when conditions were most satisfactory, the company succeeded in pushing its daily production up to 420 tons, but this figure fell back owing to weather and other untimely conditions and the average was below 400 tons daily. Still for the year the company produced about $450,000, which is considered an excellent showing. The Golden Reward averaged over 200 tons daily and produced upwards of $300,000 worth of bullion for the year. Their Bald mountain mines were seriously hampered by the water of the June floods.

The Lundberg, Dorr and Wilson mill at Terry, treated custom ore and handled its own product mined in the Buxton and Bonanza properties and adds $180,000 to the general figures.

The Portland and Clinton beside striking and developing new rich ore, continued its old work with over forty men and turned out in the neighborhood of $75,000 for the year.

The Imperial worked under difficulties but kept up a steady operation and showed something over $100,000 for the year.

Snow Stops Work.

Frequent and heavy snowstorms in this section have placed the mining industry around here temporarily at a standstill. Nearly every one of the mines has been forced to suspend operations for short periods during the last week owing to the railroads becoming so blocked with snow that the ore trains cannot get through, and with one or two more good sized snowfalls a complete suspension will result. Coming as it does with the Homestake lockout, with so many men out of work, it has worked an extra hardship. The Golden Reward and Imperial companies will be unable to resume until much of the present snow is got out of the way. The Mogul, which shut down for four days, has resumed and will continue unless another severe snowstorm sets in. The Portland and Clinton property is working right along and shipping some ore to Omaha. The Lundberg, Dorr and Wilson custom mill at Terry has closed down and will remain so until conditions forced by the weather improve. All this has greatly curtailed the ordinary production in this section and it is probable that the month of January will have a poor showing, due entirely to the snow, which has not been equalled in this section in many years.

Consolidation Big Help.

One of the most important events affecting Black Hills mining conditions is the consolidation of the Hidden Fortune and Columbus Consolidated Gold Mining companies, completed at Denver through the efforts of Henry J. Mayham, the original promoter, of New York. By the merger, the Hidden Fortune, which has had a checkered career, loses its individuality, all the warring factions having been pacified. The new company is known as the Columbus Consolidated Mining company. Its officers are: President, Henry Frawley, Deadwood; vice president, Roswell A. Breed, Chicago; secretary, J. G. Thomas, Deadwood; treasurer, N. E. Franklin, Deadwood; directors, Otto P. Th. Grantz, Deadwood; A. J. Kirkwood, Chicago. The debts have all been paid, there is a small surplus in the treasury and arrangements have been completed for a working capital, so that operations on the property, which lies near Lead, and contains several million tons of low grade ore, are expected to start this coming spring. It is understood that such operations will be on a large scale and the development of the property is awaited with much interest throughout the Hills.

The Wasp No. 2, on Yellow creek, had a production of about $100,000. The company has the record for being the most economically handled in the Hills, its ore seldom averaging above $2 per ton, but for years it has been a steady dividend payer.

New Water Plant.

In the matter of new and important work during the last year the Homestake has been foremost by beginning its $1,000,000 waterpower plant in Spearfish canyon, which will not be completed until 1911 and on which a force is still busy despite the lockout in the mine and mills. The Homestake also increased the capacity of its slime plant and was handling 2,000 tons daily of slimes when it closed down.

The Golden Crest company, in Two Bit district, has created a new 200-ton wet crusher, while the Hercules is also building a milling plant which will be completed in the spring.

The Harney Peak Mining company, so long in litigation, was reorganized and the new company known as the Pahasa Mining company, is carrying on an extensive sampling and preliminary developpent work on the ground near Hill City.

The Black Hills Financial and Development corporation, known as the Bunce deal, by which forty-three prominent Black Hills properties are combined and are to be worked by a system of a parent and numerous subsidiary companies, is believed to mark a new era in Black Hills mining, as it carries out the idea of mining by means of general consolidation, the plan being to erect only mills cayable of treating at least 1,000 tons per day.

It is announced that James T. Gilmore, owner of the Montezuma and Whizzers property up Deadwood gulch, near this city, has closed a deal for the sale of the property, the new owners not being made public yet. The property was at one time an extensive shipper of the best copper prospects in the west, having been favorably reported on by numerous experts during the last few years. The new purchasers are said to be prepared to sink a shaft 1,000 feet deep and to systematically develop the ground some time this spring.

Government After Lax Homesteaders.

MITCHELL, S. D., Jan. 14.—(Special.)—The Interior department at Washington is still retaining its interest in the matter of settlers living on their claims according to the land laws of the country. This was evidenced when Mrs. Tammie Chamberlain of Parkston was brought to this city for an examination before a referee concerning her intentions when she lived the full length of time on a claim west of the Missouri river. Mrs. Chamberlain, who is a widow, lived the fourteen months on the claim and returned to Parkston to take up her residence on a homestead owned by her late husband. It was learned that after Mrs. Chamberlain left the claim she disposed of a part or all of her buildings, which would not indicate that she intended to make her permanent residence thereon. It was on this point that Special Agent York of the Interior department questioned her. Judging from the inquiries of the special agent, it is evident that the government is going to pay close attention to the people taking land and then trying to avoid the law which requires certain things in order to prove up.

Letter to Mother Shortens Term.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Jan. 14.—(Special.)—Ralph Kniss, a young man who a few weeks ago was arrested at Luverne, Minn. and brought back to Deuel county, South Dakota, to answer to the charge of forgery now has entered a plea of guilty before Judge Marquis of the state circuit court, who sentenced the defendant to a term of four months in the Deuel county jail. The fact that Kniss' parents are highly respected residents of Luverne, Minn., and that he recently wrote a leter to his aged mother promising her that hereafter he would leave intoxicating liquor alone and live a correct and respectable life, caused Judge Marquis to make the sentence as light as possible.

Prominent Ranchman Under Cloud.

SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Jan. 14.—(Special.)—E. N. Edwards, a Pennington county ranchman, was arrested and taken back to Lyman county by Sheriff Sam Sheldon of the latter county, where he was wanted on the charge of securing money under false pretenses. It is alleged that Edwards failed to account for moneys which he secured while acting as a representative of an eastern carriage company. His preliminary examination resulted in his being held for appearance at the next term of state circuit court, bond being fixed at $500. The arrest caused something of a sensation, owing to the prominence of Edwards.

Hay Scarce on Ranches.

PIERRE, S. D., Jan. 14.—(Special.)—Eb Jones, one of the well known ranchers from the Cheyenne river country, while in the city yesterday reported hay getting to be a scarce article, especially north of the Cheyenne. Two large grading outfits are in camp for the winter a short distance north of Leslie, and are getting hold of all the hay in that section which they can secure, paying $15 a ton for it. The ranchers are selling at this price, and letting their stock take chances. There is plenty of hay along Cheyenne river, he says, but on account of the deep snow it is almost impossible to get the hay to the cattle, or the cattle to the hay, and, while it is cheap, it is hard to utilize it.

Corn Prizes to Boys.

HURON, S. D., Jan. 14.—(Special.)—Prizes have been awarded to Beadle county boys for the best seven ears of corn grown by them in the county. The first prize, a gold watch, was given to Carl Wistrand, three miles west from Huron. The seven samples weighed eight and a quarter pounds. The second prize, $8 in cash, went to Herman Kopplin, in the southwest part of the county, the weight of the seven ears being even eight pounds. George Kuth took third prize, the weight being seven and a half pounds.

Date for Land Leasing.

PIERRE, S. D., Jan. 14.—(Special.)—The state lands board has fixed the 17th of March as the date for leasing school lands in all the counties of the state where no sales will be made this year. In all such counties the leasing will be the day following the sales. The board has not yet selected the counties in which offerings will be made, but they will be generally in the eastern part of the state. Leasing minimums have not yet been fixed, but the probabilities are that there will be a general advance in most of the counties.

Coyotte Trap Catches Eagle.

PIERRE, S. D., Jan. 14.—(Special.)—Harvey Robinson, a young farmer living near Oahe, in the northwestern part of the county, yesterday brought in a magnificent specimen of bald eagle which he caught in a trap he had set for coyotes. The bird measured seven feet five inches from tip to tip of its wings, and put up a fierce battle before it could be dispatched, even when hampered by the trap which held it. Robinson made arrangements to have his catch mounted as a trophy of his trapping.

Alleged Highwayman Flees.

GREGORY, S. D., Jan. 14.—(Special.)—Being called upon to face the serious charge of highway robbery, conviction of which would subject him to a long term in the Sioux Falls penitentiary, Patrick Stevens, who for some months had been employed as a bartender in a saloon at Gregory, has fled from the state and no trace of him can be found. He was under bond of $500, but it now is announced that the bond has been discovered to be absolutely worthless. Stevens was charged with having robbed Walter C. Holley, the crime being an unusually bold one, as it was committed on a public street at Gregory. The victim of the robbery had $65 in cash in his pockets, and was confronted on the street by Stevens, who thrust a revolver under his nose and compelled him to surrender the money. When Holley attempted to make his escape he was struck on the head several times and knocked down. Robert Casey, an alleged accomplice of Stevens, now is under bond and will have his preliminary hearing on January 20.

New Towns on Northwestern.

PIERRE, S. D., Jan. 14.—(Special.)—The Northwestern has platted two new towns for Sully county on their new line from Blunt to Gettysburg. One of these is located between Blunt and Onida, and is to be known as Eakin, being named after E. W. Eakin, one of the prominent early residents of the southeastern part of the county, and one of its early county commissioners. The other town, between Onida and Gettysburg, is to be known as Agar, and has been named in honor of Charles Agar, one of the founders of the town of Onida, and the first treasurer of Sully county.

Cheese Factory at Harrold.

PIERRE, S. D., Jan. 14.—(Special.)—John Stiner of Harold has been in this city several days completing the details for the construction and operation of a cheese factory at his farm a short distance south of that place. He has associated with him in the work, Fred Moses, an experienced Swiss cheese maker, who is thoroughly acquainted with all the details of the work. Mr. Stiner says he has the assurance of the milk from 250 cows, and expects to be able to build up a profitable business in cheese making in this part of the country.

Harding County Gets Fund.

PIERRE, S. D., Jan. 14.—(Special.)—When Butte county was divided, all of the Sioux Forest reserve, which was located in that county, was set into the portion which was made Harding county. The national government donates a certain per cent of the proceeds from the forest reserves to the states in which they are located, with provisions that the legislature should provide for its distribution for road and school purposes in the counties in which the reserves are located. Under the old county lines, Butte was designated as one of the beneficiaries, but when it lost its acreage of reserve, Harding claimed the fund, and Butte refused to accept it. On request of the state auditor, Attorney General Clark holds that under the national legislation, the fund must go to Harding and not to Butte county, and the amount on hand will be sent to the new county, and will help them out on their road and school funds, most of it going to the road fund.

Warden after Rabbit Hunters.

PIERRE, S. D., Jan. 14.—(Special.)—The game warden of Stanley county is after the rabbit hunters, who are numerous in that county, holding that the state game law requires a license for any class of hunting, and that the hunters must pay the license fee just as certainly for their chase of the nimble bunny, as if they were after a different class of game. If the warden can collect from all rabbit hunters, he will be able to add a nice addition to the state game fund.

There are many flaws in ready-to-wear clothes that even the most critical purchaser might overlook, and this is especially true of buying lines offered at bargain prices. We are not holding a bargain sale, but a genuine reduction—clean-up—of all ready-to-wear garments we have left from a most successful season's selling. They are all our own make, and not a cheap lot bought for special sale purposes.
