The seventh annual debating contest between the Delta Tau and Philomathian Literary societies of the high school, held last evening in the auditorium of the institution, was won by the Delta Taus. Miss Baird won the declamation and Charles O'Brien the oration. The subject debated was "Resolved, That the cities of the United States should adopt the commission form of government."

ESTHERVILLE—Miss Alma O'Connell died here yesterday from tuberculosis. She was 21 years of age.
ESTHERVILLE—Arthur H. Davis and Pearl Willey were married here yesterday. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Bentley, R. F. Sullivan, William Seaman, Jenny Dunbar, Flora Byam, Margaret Hillier and several others of equal note.

The working life of the office man, the railroad man, in fact every city wage-earner, is short. Few men in offices and factories are free from the haunting fear of the future when they will be crowded out of their places by younger workers when they can no longer care for loved ones or keep a home roof to shelter whitening hairs.

Yet this is the natural right of every man—to have, when his share of the world's work is done, his own warm fireside where in the glow of a comfortable prosperity he can see around him the home-faces, knowing that the future is secure for them all. To provide for the coming years is every man's duty.

"Graustark, or A Love Behind a Throne," by George Barr McCutcheon, the popular author of "Hercule Poirot," has been made into a thrilling, romantic five-act play, and will be presented here for the first time at the Star theater tonight, with a notable cast of well-known artists and massive scenic production.

Mrs. Collins Thursday filed suit for divorce from Collins, whom she married on June 23, 1909, and the shooting of Collins followed, it was claimed, an attempt on his part to kill both Mrs. Collins and her mother, Mrs. Jennie Powell.

The winners of last night will now hold the silver cup presented by the class of 1907, during 1910, which they held last year. The balance of the program last evening was as follows:
Music, High School Glee club.

NEWTON—A meeting of the city council last night forty-five blocks of paving were ordered for the coming season. The cost will be about $100,000, including the street intersections.

Ideal climate and soil conditions make it the greatest fruit district in the world.

Better values in pure white, perfect diamonds at Laffer's, new location 593 Broadway, than anywhere else on earth. Every stone absolutely guaranteed to be as represented and priced the lowest possible.

Mrs. Powell, when first telling her version of the killing, declared that Collins fired four times at her and twice at his wife. His revolver, a six-chambered Colt .32-caliber, showed that only two shots had been fired out of it. The weapon which Mrs. Collins claims to have used is a .38-caliber Smith & Wesson, with a long barrel.

NEWTON—Milovan Travich, the Austrian who has been in jail charged with murdering a woman, was sentenced to the state penitentiary for a term of five years. The hearing was held at the grand jury room here yesterday.

Commercial winter apples have proved to be the most profitable crop in the Spokane country, and they provide the greatest certainty of a big yield on the investment. Full bearing commercial apple orchards are now selling as high as $3,000 an acre.

Collins and his wife, who had been living at 324 West Broadway, had a violent quarrel Tuesday, and Collins, it is said, drove his wife from the house. She went to the home of her mother on Eighth street. Collins came in from his room yesterday morning and falling to find his wife at home went in search of her. He went to the home of Mrs. Sally W. Williams, 1403 West Broadway, and not finding her there, started for the Powell home. Mrs. Williams, as soon as Collins left her place, telephoned Mrs. Powell that Collins was coming and that he had a revolver, and warned her to be on her guard. On his way to the Powell place Collins, it is said, started for the Powell home at the corner of Broadway and Eleventh street and drank a glass of whiskey. From there he went direct to the Powell home.

weather and there is promise of some damage on western rivers from gorges.
Indoor industries seem to be actively employed, notably iron and steel and shoe manufacturing. Best reports as to new business in iron and steel come from the west while eastern markets are rather quiet. There is some disappointment at the volume of buying of rails by eastern railroads. Collections have been interfered with by interruption to crop movement, and are rather irregular, especially from county districts.
