

Girls Coat Bargains

There are still a great many gems left in this collection of handsome coats for girls of all ages up to 14 years. Radical reductions in prices have been made to move them rapidly.

$3.95 for children's colored and white coats that formerly sold for $5.00 and $6.00. Ages 2 to 6 years.

$4.75 for children's handsome colored and white coats that were $6.50 to $7.50, including broadcloth and chinchilla garments. Ages 2 to 6 years.

$6.75 for larger girls coats of fine Shaw chevrons, in newest shades; former prices $10 and $12; all ages from 8 to 14 years.

$9.75 for girls' choicest chinchilla and broadcloth coats, in all colors; former price $13.50, $15, $16.50; ages 8 to 14 years.

Girls' Woolen Dresses at 33 1/2% Discount.

DEWSON AND THORNE CO.

Young People's Outfitters.
New Location 1518-1520 Farnam St.

SIXTH CAVALRY IN DES MOINES

Three Hundred Men Will Occupy Fort at Capital of Iowa.

POLICE JUDGE UPHOLDS CRUELTY

Des Moines Magistrate Says Man Who Beat Wife Was Justified—Esperanto Movement Grows.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
DES MOINES, Ia., Jan. 19.—(Special Telegram.)—The first section of the Sixth cavalry arrived in Des Moines this afternoon direct from the Philippines, where the regiment has been for two years. There were over 300 in the train load and one hundred more in the baggage train. Two troops of the Second were left here and they will leave at once to join the regiment in the Philippines.

Court Justifies Wife Beating.
Police Judge Stewart, in a case in police court today, created a sensation by officially sanctioning and endorsing wife beating on the part of an unfortunate husband in a certain case before him. The case was that of Mrs. Sarah Arlington, who was arrested late at night in company with another, and she set up as a defense that her husband beat her. The court after hearing the evidence declared the husband was fully justified.

State Esperanto Club.
Iowa Esperanto advocates have formed a state organization and have elected the following officers: President, Prof. James Ellis Gow, Cedar Rapids; vice president, S. E. Garber, Leon.

Fear Iowa Law Won't Hold.
The decision of the United States supreme court in the Kansas case, in which it was held that the attempt to make outside corporations pay a charter fee was unconstitutional, may seriously affect the income of Iowa. Suits are pending in the state courts here affecting the same questions. There are some variations in the matter, but the principle seems to be much the same. Iowa has collected from outside corporations large sums of money in recent years. A movement has now been started to have the law changed so that there will not be any fees, but if the Kansas decision stands it will not be necessary to repeal the law.

To Take Part in Campaign.
Almost every pupil in Des Moines will become a minister militant during the coming political campaign, according to Rev. J. W. Greenway, chairman of the public morals committee, ministerial association. "Ministers of Des Moines," said he, today, "will undoubtedly take an active part in the campaign by waging war from the pulpit. Existing evils will be condemned and congregations advised for whom to vote and whose principles to support."

Supreme Court Decisions.
The following supreme court decisions have been rendered:
James Constantine against Evan Rowland et al. appellants, Johnson county. Reversed.

West Does Own Financing.
Colonel Ellis said in his response that the independent telephones were bound to increase because they were occupying the time and attention of the common people.

Wants a Game Preserve.
Dr. Kirschner of the state tuberculosis sanitarium at Oakdale proposes to the hunters interested in fish and game that the contemplated game preserve be located adjacent to the tuberculosis sanitarium, so that convalescent patients might be utilized in caring for the game. This will be put in the state executive council, which has control of the $100,000 fund from hunters' licenses.

Reduced Rates Are Needed.
G. W. Wrightman, secretary of the Iowa Manufacturers' association, appeared before the western classification committee at San Antonio, Tex., and, according to the dispatches, made a strong plea for a reduction in the class of rates for Iowa. Immediate numbers of these are shipped to Iowa farmers.

Evangelist Goes Insane.
SIOUX FALLS, S. D., Jan. 19.—(Special.)—Sudden insanity overcame a white evangelist holding revival services in a Finns settlement in Kingsbury county, an evangelist, named Thomas Brennan, has been ordered sent to the State Hospital for the Insane at Yankton by the insanity board of Kingsbury county, which examined into his mental condition. The unfortunate man's home is a mile north of Spirit Lake and he is a native of the state, where he conducted a market garden. He, for some time, has belonged to a religious sect, the members of which believe they are required to devote their time, as did the apostles of old, to preaching. The members of his congregation were frightened when he became violently insane during one of his meetings. He will not keep clothing on his body and calls every one who comes near him a "devil."

Woman Pleads Guilty to Bigamy.
LOGAN, Ia., Jan. 19.—(Special.)—Mrs. Grace Rounds pleaded guilty to the charge of bigamy yesterday and was given a sentence of six months in jail. Mrs. Rounds seems to have been of the opinion that her former husband had secured a divorce and that she had a legal right to marry again, but no record was to be found concerning divorce proceedings on the part of her former husband who seems to have been the chief agent of her present misfortune.

Names Sent to Senate.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 19.—Among the nominations sent to the senate by President Taft today were the following:
To be register of the land office at Duluth, Charles E. Hartman of Duluth.
To be census supervisor, Mrs. J. Bronson, Seventh district of Missouri.
To be rear admiral, Captain Aaron Ward.

one of the most prominent families here. Nellie B. Walker of the Chicago Art Institute has taken an impression of Miss Lanning's face and hands, preparatory to making a marble bust. Among the relatives who have been summoned to Hastings are Miss Ruth Wilson of Boston, cousin of the late Miss Lanning; Mrs. Tomlinson and Miss Tomlinson, mother and sister of Mrs. Lanning, who were established at Long Beach, Cal., for the winter, and Mrs. Joseph L. Black of Freeport, Ill., sister of Mr. Lanning. A beautiful floral tribute was sent here by the sophomore class of Smith college. The services will be conducted by Rev. Lee H. Young, rector of St. Mark's, assisted by Rev. C. W. Weyer of the Presbyterian church.

Oakley Johnson.
HARVARD, Neb., Jan. 19.—(Special.)—Oakley Johnson after a short but rapid decline from cause incident to advanced age, being close to 80 years old, died at his home in South Harvard this morning. Mr. Johnson has resided in Harvard since about 1878, when he came from Illinois and entered the business of grain buying and shipping. In this country, he has dealt somewhat in land and other minor lines of business, until compelled to give up business from advanced years and the condition of his health.

William Hayward.
HASTINGS, Neb., Jan. 19.—(Special.)—William Hayward, ex-mayor of Chadron, died in noon Monday in St. Antonio, Tex., where he was established for the winter with his sisters, Mrs. W. H. Dillon and Mrs. Barrett. He had been ill several months.

TELEPHONE MERGER PLANNED

(Continued from First Page.)
ment of Colonel Ellis. He said that a committee was at work securing the sanction of the bond holders, of which there were 4,000 in this country, and that the financing of the Omaha company was practically assured. He said that the independent telephone men of the United States were getting back of the movement and were going to see to it that Omaha has a splendid independent telephone system.

Other Cities Demand It.
"Nebraska has 120,000 independent telephones," added Mr. Woods, "and Omaha is too important a point on the independent map to let backslide. St. Joseph has a new independent exchange and many other good cities near here are all demanding that Omaha have a big plant. Lincoln needs a good plant in Omaha and all the state needs it."

The committee on reorganization which is securing the sanction of the bondholders consists of Frank H. Woods of Lincoln, Edward H. Frank of Johnson county, Louis I. Abbott of Omaha and Fred W. Stearns of Chicago. Mr. Stearns represents the bondholders to the extent of about $400,000 in California and Mr. Abbott represents bondholders to about the same amount in Washington and Oregon.

Mayor Dahlman welcomed the telephone men to Omaha, gave them all the keys they needed and Colonel Ellis of Lincoln then responded. C. J. Garlow of Columbus, president of the Nebraska association, in his annual address, told of the strides independent telephones had been making in the state.

Colonel Ellis said in his response that the independent telephones were bound to increase because they were occupying the time and attention of the common people. "We have just secured the sanction of the Columbus and Hooking Coal and Iron company, which fell to $5 a share, a decline of 50% points from the day's opening. The precipitate crumbling away in the price occurred within a period of fifteen minutes and Wall street had barely time to catch its breath before the chairman of the stock exchange announced from the rostrum the failure of Hooking, Haskins & Co., and a few minutes later of J. M. Fliske & Co.

A dissolution of a pool which had successfully manipulated the stock from about $20 to $150 and the calling of loans secured by the Hooking Coal stock by certain banks is given as the primary cause for the slump in Hooking.

Standard shares in the general list were weak during the Hooking Coal crash, but there were no signs of panic.

No early statement was had from either of the firms whose failure had been announced. It was said the failure of Fliske & Co. was due in part to the Hooking Coal decline and the recent skyrocketing of Rock Island.

An investigation of the kiting of Hooking Coal stock is indicated by the governors of the stock exchange.

After the main crash in Hooking there was further liquidation in the company's securities, which went to $0, a new low point. More than 30,000 shares of the stock were sold. Over half the company's capitalization was traded in during the decline.

Later the stock of the Hooking Coal company declined to $5 a share.

Representative bankers expressing the belief this afternoon that the banking situation was perfectly sound and that no failure of banks or trust companies would result from the further decline of security prices.

Pipe Starts Fire.
GRAND ISLAND, Neb., Jan. 19.—(Special.)—William Ayer, proprietor of a pool hall, undertook to smoke a pipe as he was about to retire and dozed away. He awoke about the middle of the night and the bed clothing about him afire. He attempted to quench the same with a pitcher of water, in his room at the Altona rooming house, but found the pitcher empty. To smother it with his overcoat was tried also without success and the fire got away. The department was called and extinguished the flames by the use of chemical agents only. The smog was thick and black, however, and Chief Dillon and Assistant Hintz by crawling on their hands and knees into one of the adjacent rooms saved Louis Denison from death by suffocation. Denison was unconscious when brought below, but was soon revived. Ayer was charged with setting the room afire and he was taken into custody by the police. Ayer was somewhat burned about the head and was several hours later taken to St. Francis hospital. The loss is about $400.

State Firemen's Meeting.
FREMONT, Neb., Jan. 19.—(Special.)—The first business session of the State Volunteer Firemen's association was held in the district court room this morning, which was crowded with delegates. President Burt Galley of Columbus presided. The session was taken up listening to reports of officers and committees, many of which were adopted or referred with little discussion. The visitors had their pictures taken in front of the court house. The location of the next meeting is beginning to arouse interest. Alliance has some lively boosters, who are making themselves heard, and Kearney and York are also in the field. The selection of the place will probably come up tomorrow. John C. Cleland, who is the father of the association, and has attended every meeting since it was organized, is taking his usual active part in the business, as well as acting for the local committee. Norfolk appears to be the only

SENSATIONAL SALE

Of Swanson Music Co. Stock to A. Hospe Co.

1513-1515 DOUGLAS STREET

Pianos, Player Pianos, Musical Instruments, Sheet Music and Fixtures.

We have just purchased from the Swanson Music company, Council Bluffs, Ia., their entire stock at a tremendous discount and we are now engaged in disposing of these goods at less than wholesale prices.

The following well known makes are included in this sale. Conovers, Kingburys, Monarchs, Wellingtons, Warners, Mason & Foyell's, and others.

Every instrument of the brand new and some of them not two weeks old from the factory, and the prices are such as to surprise the oldest bargain hunter.

Terms nothing down and $1 per week up, to any reliable person or family, including free scarf, and stool to match your instrument.

We are also going to present to each and every purchaser of a piano during this sale a free insurance certificate, also a death certificate, giving the family full title to the piano in the event of the death of the head of the family. This has never before been offered in the state of Nebraska by any other piano house.

Two $475 pianos for $320, one $300 piano at $205, two $225 pianos now $140, four $400 pianos now $285, six $275 pianos now $195, one $450 piano now $325, three $275 pianos now $190, one $350 piano now $245, three $300 pianos now $215, four $250 pianos now $155, two $500 player pianos now $370, one $550 player piano now $450, one $500 player piano now $325.

From the number of buyers who found the very pianos they were looking for during the first day of our sale, it is evident that this great money-saving sale will be of short duration, owing to the lack of goods. Therefore it behooves you to make up your mind and act at once. Call at the store and let us talk the matter over. There may be a hundred reasons why you can buy a piano that you know nothing about. In any event, it will be no harm for us to discuss the matter together.

For the benefit of those who cannot call during the day, we are going to keep our store open every evening while sale lasts.

Six show cases, one safe, office partitions and all other fixtures included in this sale.

A. HOSPE CO.,
1513-1515 Douglas Street.

Elite Cloak Co.

1517 FARNAM ST.

LISTEN!

Cloak Sale Thursday

CHOICE OF ANY CLOAK IN STOCK, FORMERLY SELLING UP TO $25.00—ON SALE THURSDAY $9.75 at.....

CHOICE OF ANY CLOAK IN STOCK, FORMERLY SELLING UP TO $35.00—ON SALE THURSDAY $14.75 at.....

CHOICE OF ANY CLOAK IN STOCK REGARDLESS OF FORMER SELLING PRICE—THURSDAY $19.75 at.....

$30 Suits to Order $15.00

While they last, we offer our line of $30.00 Suits and Overcoats, made to measure, $15.00.

Our $45.00 Suits, fine imported patterns, to measure for $25.00.

It is our way of disposing of all fall and winter suitings. We give good workmanship, good linings and a perfect fit.

MacCarthy-Wilson Tailoring Co.

304-306 South 16th Street

Dress Opportunity

We place on sale tomorrow, for one day only, 300 elegantly tailored dresses, made in our own factory, in the latest style and materials, including fancy chiffon panamas and West of England Suitings at the low price of—
$3.98

If you fail to participate in this sale you will do yourself an injustice, for money could not be more easily saved than by taking advantage of this remarkable sale.

Stores will remain open tomorrow night until 8 P. M. to accommodate all persons who cannot come during the day.

If you are interested in exquisite tailor made to your measure garments we cordially invite you to come and get acquainted with our methods of making suits, shirts and dresses to your measure. Our factory is equipped with the highest state of efficiency. We show styles which no common factory can produce. We are leaders of fashion and design a garment to each individual taste. This individuality is a point to be appreciated as the saving in price.

SUITS TO YOUR MEASURE FROM $15.00 TO $35.00. DRESSES FROM $5.00 TO $15.00. SHIRTS FROM $5.00 TO $15.00.

The Novelty Skirt Company

214-216 North Sixteenth Street

city whose delegates are not loaded with badges.

If you want to sell anything quickly advertise it in The Bee Want Ad Column.

The Weather.

FOR NEBRASKA—Fair and cooler. FOR IOWA—Fair, with colder in west and central portions.

Temperature at Omaha yesterday:

Hour	Deg.
5 a. m.	21
6 a. m.	21
7 a. m.	21
8 a. m.	21
9 a. m.	21
10 a. m.	21
11 a. m.	21
12 m.	21
1 p. m.	21
2 p. m.	21
3 p. m.	21
4 p. m.	21
5 p. m.	21
6 p. m.	21
7 p. m.	21
8 p. m.	21
9 p. m.	21

We Have Stopped the Sale But Not the Selling

Our regular prices are good values in the shoe line.

Our introductory sale was a great success. It introduced us to many new customers who appreciate truth and reasonable advertising, and honest values. We shall endeavor in the future to convince these and all our other friends that these are our principles.

From now on $3.50 shoes only—

$3.50

And $3.00 shoes, only—

$3.00

The best that can be sold at the price.

Cook Shoe Co.

1609 Farnam St.

Two Great Essentials, Good Quality and Cheapness—both are combined in the renowned Silver Polish. Unsurpassed for Cleaning and Polishing SILVERWARE, other fine metals and wood. By its use much time, labor and expense are saved. Absolutely harmless. In household use over 40 years. Refuse inferior imitations.
ELECTRO-SILICON

FREE SAMPLE

ment, he said: "When the industrial conditions in the anthracite region and the entire country at that time are carefully considered, the representatives of the United Mine Workers were fortunate in being able to convince the anthracite operators to grant concessions in order to negotiate and sign a contract. The most gratifying feature of the situation in the anthracite district at present is the disposition of the mine managers and their employees to settle disputes peacefully."

President Lewis presented tables taken from government reports showing that in thirteen years, from 1896 to 1909, there were 23,716 lives sacrificed in the coal mines, and that 6,772 men were injured in the mines in 1909. He urged the creation of a bureau of mines and the establishment of measures to lessen dangers of mining.

On the wage contract feature of the workers' activity, President Lewis spoke in favor of the joint conference method of negotiating wage contracts, which he said has done much to establish peace in the mining industry. On the termination of contracts, he said: "You are aware that wage agreements in nearly every bituminous district of the country terminate on March 31 of this year. Let me make it clear that there will be no reduction in wages, and as many improvements in the agreement as can be secured."

President Lewis deprecated what he termed a growing disposition to ignore the authority of the international organization and officers and recommended that the convention declare in exact terms the authority of the international organization and its subordinate branches. He denounced as the most dangerous enemy to the organization those within it who seek to disrupt the institution.

Russell Again Heads Adventists

Lincoln Man Elected President at Conference Held in St. Joseph.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Jan. 19.—(Special.)—Officers of the Central Union conference of Seventh Day Adventists, in session here for a ten-day meeting, were selected for the ensuing year at yesterday's session. The result of the election follows:

President, E. T. Russell, Lincoln, Neb. Vice president, T. Robinson, Des Moines, Ia. Secretary, C. E. Farnsworth, Hastings, Neb. Auditor, C. T. Cavens, Kansas City, Mo. Treasurer, Prof. C. G. Lewis, College View, Neb.

E. E. Farnsworth of Hastings, was also made secretary of the Young People's department and educational department.

J. S. Wrightman, Ia., elected secretary of the Religious Liberty department.

C. G. Bellah of Deuver was chosen secretary of the Book and Periodical work.

Dr. C. Avery Hansen of Denver was appointed medical secretary and Paul Curtis of Boulder, Colo., was named as missionary secretary.

Representatives of St. Joseph commercial and business organizations met a committee of the Adventists yesterday afternoon to forward a plan to locate in this city a central German college which the central union contemplates erecting in the near future. About $75,000 will be devoted by the conference to the construction of the college and Adventists from all over the country will be permitted to attend it.

The local men pledged their assistance and the co-operation of the organizations they represent to the movement and the large decrease in surplus funds, due to the continuance of a strike in district 36, Nova Scotia. The recapitulation of the financial report showed a balance on hand December 1, 1909, of $366,739. The income through the year to December 1, 1909, was $531,730, making a total of $1,498,470. The expenditures were listed at $956,620, leaving a balance of $541,850.

In conclusion, Mr. Perry said: "While much has been said in the past on the subject of political action, and while I emphasize the necessity on the part of our members for concerted political action, at all times."

Safety Appliances Needed.
"There is but one excuse for the great slaughter of human lives in the coal mines of the country," professedly declared E. E. McCullough, vice president, in his report presented to the convention of the organization today. "To provide," continued the report, "safety appliances for the protection of those who provide the fuel supply of this country, and make profitable our present state of industrial, commercial and social status, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money and less profits to those who own the mines; and to the extent that health, life and limb can be protected and are not, is a national disgrace and murder of the most cruel type, and, in my opinion, so long as the public can secure its fuel supply, means the expenditure of money