TIME HONORED QUESTION OF CAPITAL PUNISHMENT SOLVED

Venerable Subject is Debated by the Webster Society of the High School. The literary societies of the Omaha High School held their regular meetings on Friday. Two of the boys' societies, the Demosthenian and the Webster, held election of officers. Richard Barnes was elected president of the Demosthenian and Hiram Salisbury of the Webster. The rest of the Demosthenian ticket elected is: Vice president, Stuart Gould; secretary, Wilbur Haines; treasurer, Voyle Hector; sergeant-at-arms, Malcolm Baldrige; librarian, Lew Pixley. The remainder of the Webster ticket is: Vice president, Dean Davidson; secretary-treasurer, Dean Davidson; sergeant-at-arms, Gley and Bauman. A short program was given in the Demosthenian society. Music was furnished by Fred Fernald and Sovers Suesman. Resolutions were given by Harry Landeryou. The Webster society held a debate. "Resolved that capital punishment should be abolished." The affirmative was taken by Lothar Jensen and Stanley Beranek, and the negative by Hiram Salisbury and Harry Oldson. The Lininger Travel club had a very interesting program, which was started by the presentation to the club of another of Mrs. Frank Haller's many gifts, a large pennant in the club colors. Ruth Berg gave a recitation, "As the Moon Rises," as the first number. "Her First Visit to the Butcher," was given by Mary Day; "A German's View of Denver," by Josephine Goettsche; "Lady Clare," by Gladys Line, and "A Word to the Wise," by Bertha Girton. Hulda Peterson followed with a recitation, "As the Moon Rises," as the first number. "Her First Visit to the Butcher," was given by Mary Day; "A German's View of Denver," by Josephine Goettsche; "Lady Clare," by Gladys Line, and "A Word to the Wise," by Bertha Girton.
