NO ONE GETS OFFICE EASILY

W. F. Sapp Will Run for Assessor Against Hardin.

OPPOSITION ALSO FOR MANENEY

W. A. Brockie Files His Petition for City Auditor—Page Morrison Would Be Con- cilitant.

White W. D. Hardin will receive the democratic nomination for city assessor without any opposition. It is now practically sure he will have a contest on his hands when it comes to the election. The republicans have decided not to let this office go by default and after considerable persuasion, it was said last night that W. F. Sapp would accept the republican nomination for this office. Friends are now securing the necessary names to his petition of candidacy, which it is stated will be filed with the city auditor this afternoon or tomorrow morning.

Almost simultaneous with the announcement that the republicans would not let the election of city assessor go by default, came word that the democrats had found a candidate willing to accept the position of city auditor against J. F. McAnaney, the present incumbent of the office. Winifred A. Brockie, a railway mail clerk, is the man willing to enter the race and his petition of candidacy was filed yesterday afternoon with the city auditor.

Page Morrison, a well known member of the local newspaper fraternity, and at present city salesman for a local wholesale cigar house has cast his name into the arena of Fourth ward politics and filed his petition yesterday afternoon as a candidate for the democratic nomination for councilman from the second ward. Friends are urging J. D. Johnson to file as candidate for the republican nomination for councilman in the Second ward and last night it was stated he would likely accede to their importunities, although when suggested as a candidate early in the present campaign he announced that he would not accept of any political preferment. Mr. Johnson, formerly represented the Second ward in the city council, and his friends insisted that the record made while serving as councilman should warrant the ward sending him back there.

BYERS WILL HELP IN CASE

Attorney General Sends Word to County Attorney.

County Attorney Hess said last evening that Attorney General H. W. Byers had in a conversation over the telephone assured him he would be here next Monday to assist in the prosecution of the case against Frank Scott, alleged "steerer" for the Mabray gang of "big store" swindlers, charged with complicity in the fleeing of John Hermsbrecht, a farmer of Bancroft, Neb., who dropped $5,000 on a fake horse race in this city in April, 1908.

Today Judge Green will have before him the matter of the suit brought by protesting property owners to restrain the supervisors of Pottawattamie county from constructing the proposed Nishnabotna drainage ditch, the contract for which has been let to William Lane of Hastings.

Attorney Frank Shinn of Carson, who represents the original objecting land owners, will be assisted by George W. Cullison, who has been engaged by the property owners affected in the vicinity of Avoca. The proceedings against the ditch are embodied in two actions, one in certiorari and the other an injunction proceeding. This was decided upon by the objecting property owners in order that an appeal, which it is expected will be taken to the supreme court of the state, may result in a determination of the real issues involved, regardless of technical questions as to the form of procedure which might arise. It is expected that the hearing will occupy several days.

Young Man Turns Highwayman

Ernest Price Tries to Hold Up Charles Hancock and Gets Nothing for Effort.

Ernest Price, who was not long ago taken in charge in a half-conscious condition from drinking alcohol, was arrested last night as he was waiting for a late Rock Island train to get to town, following a holdup of Charles Hancock, cook in a South Main restaurant.

Price, using a rusty old rim fire 22 caliber revolver, succeeded in making Hancock hold up his hands, but as Hancock had neither watch or money, Price was literally left off for his job. He was easily located a short time later.

FIVE PAPERS GET THE WORK

Proceedings of County Board Will Be Given Publicity.

The proceedings of the Board of Supervisors of Pottawattamie county will henceforth be published in five papers of the county instead of three, as heretofore. In view of the fact that there were two county seats in Pottawattamie county, the board yesterday, after listening to arguments by attorneys representing the parties seeking the contract awarded to the county was entitled to publish its proceedings in five official papers instead of in only three, as has heretofore been done.

Inasmuch as only five papers had entered applications to be designated as the official publications, this did away with any contest and the board awarded the contract to the following five publications: The Council Bluffs Nonpareil, the Council Bluffs Weekly Times, the Neola Reporter, the Avoca Journal and the Oakland Acorn. They will each receive 3 1/2 cents per square for publishing the official proceedings of the board.

The Prairie Press, a German publication issued in this city, will also publish the proceedings at 25 cents a square. As a result of this new construction of the law regulating the number of official papers, the county will pay two-thirds more than heretofore for publication of its official proceedings. The contract with these papers provides that the proceedings of the board must be published within thirty days.

So many attorneys were interested in the proceedings before the board relative to awarding this contract for the publication of its official business that Judge Thornell was compelled to order a recess of district court while the lawyers appeared before the supervisors on behalf of the respective clients.

After disposing of this matter and attending to some routine business the board adjourned until February 2, but will meet with the supervisors of Harrison county in joint session as a drainage board on February 2.

NOTARIAL SEAL WAS LACKING

Young Couple from Little Sioux Fail to Get Married.

Bert King and Meta Riley, a young couple from Little Sioux, appeared at the office of the clerk of the district court yesterday morning and made application for a marriage license. The bride-to-be was but 17 years of age, but the couple had taken the precaution to bring with them the written consent of the young woman's parents and they anticipated no trouble in obtaining the license, which would authorize the ceremony. When Deputy Roy Hardesty asked the usual questions regarding the age and other qualifications of the applicants for the marriage license young King produced the document bearing the signatures of the young woman's parents. The seal of the county clerk, however, at once perceived that the consent lacked the acknowledgment of a notary public and he declined under the circumstances to issue the license. The young couple was thoroughly disappointed and showed it as they left the court house after stating they would return home and have the defect remedied.

Brief Filed by Lovett in Union Pacific Merger

Attorney General Will Go Over it and Make Recommendations to the President.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—President Taft, it is expected, will soon be in a position to announce whether the government will dissolve the merger of the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific railroads. It is expected that the Department of Justice will be dropped.

Attorney General Wickersham has been put in possession of the brief of the defendants, containing arguments why the suit should be dismissed. They follow the oral representations made by Judge T. Lovett and other officials of the allied Harriman roads, and their counsel before President Taft, the attorney general and other officers of the government at the White House several weeks ago.

Mr. Wickersham is expected to prepare a memorandum for the president, giving his views on the representations. He will go over them with Frank B. Kellogg and C. A. Severance, who has represented the administration in the litigation, before reaching a decision.

Shallenberger Advises Cities to Make Bids

Chance for Western Town to Get the Meeting of Governors for Next Year.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Jan. 27.—(Special Telegram.)—"Some western city should get busy to secure the next conference of governors," said Governor Shallenberger, who, with Mrs. Shallenberger, arrived last night from the east after his visit to Washington.

"The chances are excellent to get the meeting either in Illinois or Nebraska," the governor continued, "since it is the opinion that the next session should be held at some point not so close to the political center of the nation, where every interest with which the governors have to do has an able representative. I see no reason why a Nebraska city should not be selected, though Illinois will doubtless put up a strong fight for the meeting."

"The governors took no decided action on the water power resolution introduced by Governor Shafrath of Colorado intended to give to the separate states the benefit of income from water power sites. Governor Hughes suggested that the next meeting should take a definite stand on this proposition and I believe it will be done."

When informed that Mayor Dahiman had filed for governor and that W. H. Thompson would run and C. O. Whedon had announced his candidacy for United States senator the governor had no comment to make.

"I had expected the field to be full," was all he said.

Interurban After Franchise. FREMONT, Neb., Jan. 27.—(Special.)—At the regular meeting of the city council last evening a petition was presented by the Nebraska Transportation company, the organization which expects to build an interurban line between Omaha and Fremont, for a franchise. The proposed line will enter the city on Third street, running west to H street, thence north on H street to Military avenue and thence west on Military avenue to the city limits, with a branch up Park avenue to the city park, the road to be operated by electricity or other power than steam locomotive and the fare within the city limits to be 5 cents. The matter was referred to a special committee of the council and the city attorney. There seems to be the opinion among many here that some provisions should be inserted in the ordinance by which sooner or later the company should pay the city something for the franchise.
