THOMAS SHANAHAN FUNERAL

To Be Held Thursday Morning at St. Patrick's Church—Long Service with One Firm.

The funeral of Thomas L. Shanahan will be held this morning at 8:30 o'clock from his late home, 3402 South Eleventh street, to St. Patrick's church. Interment at St. Mary's cemetery. Mr. Shanahan had been for many years in the employ of the Burley Printing company. He began as errand boy and at the time of his death was stockman for the firm. Two-thirds of his life of thirty-one years had been spent in the service of the firm. He was highly regarded as a faithful and competent man. Deceased was a son of Dennis Shanahan, and a nephew of Sanitary Inspector Harrington. Besides his father and mother, one brother and a sister, Mrs. W. P. O'Keefe, survive him.

MAN SUES TO GET ROAD

Petitions District Court to Compel South Omaha to Complete His Boulevard. Thomas Hoctor, former mayor of South Omaha, has petitioned district court to compel the mayor and city council of South Omaha by mandamus to proceed with the paving of Hoctor boulevard from the city limits on the north to Twenty-first street. Hoctor recites that bids were asked for the paving, that the General Construction company made the lowest bid for creosote block paving, which the aldermen voted they wished, and that the mayor and council have refused, to proceed to make out the contract.

Man Sues His Mother to Get Title to Realty

Edward Maloney Brings Civil Action to Secure Old Piece of Family Property.

Edward Maloney is plaintiff in a suit in district court against his mother, Mrs. Mary Maloney. The plaintiff wishes to get title vested in himself in a piece of downtown property which has been variously held in his immediate family. It belonged first to Michael Maloney, father of the plaintiff and husband of the defendant in the present action. In 1877, says the petition, when Edward Maloney was yet a minor, he loaned his father $1,000 on the property and in 1881 foreclosed on the mortgage. He himself bought the property for $500. Three years later, or in 1884, Edward Maloney was preparing to leave for an indefinite period and he deeded the property to his mother on the express understanding, he says, that she would leave it to him at her death. The petition goes on to say that he recently discovered that his mother was trying to sell the property. He asks the court to declare her interest that of a life estate, with ultimate title in himself.

PAVING MEN REST EASILY

Not Worried by Council's Holding Up Several Contracts.

HAVE NOW ALL THEY CAN HANDLE

Specifications Tightened Up and Better Quality of Brick Being Demanded, Says City Engineer Craig.

It has leaked out around the city hall that the paving contractors are not worrying about the holding up by council of the contracts for new paving. Most of the big firms have now under contract about all the work they can comfortably handle during the coming season. In some cases it is doubtful if they can finish what they have on hand.

"Why should we worry?" asked one representative of a contractor. "Even at the slightly increased prices in the bids for work this year we cannot hope to make more than a fair living profit. Wages are high for men and teams, very high as compared with other years, and the men and team owners both find plenty to do in the paving season. Besides, the specifications have been tightened up and the time limit set down in the contract must be kept or we forfeit our deposits under the ordinance introduced by Councilman Hummel."

City Engineer Craig admits that he looked for slightly higher prices. "We have made our specifications more stringent than they used to be," he said, "and we are demanding a better brick. In the one matter of freight alone, the contractors will be at extra expense. The brick called for this year is bigger and heavier than ever before, each brick weighing fully half a pound in excess of the ones called for in the former specifications. On several carloads that amounts to quite a penny in freight. "Another thing, contractors have been given to understand in the new specifications that work must be strictly up to the standard called for, in every particular. If we get better and more lasting pavements, as I believe we will, why the property owners must be willing to pay for it. What material they choose is, of course, up to them; but whatever it may be, this department proposes to see that they get exactly what they pay for."

Boss Flynn is Jim Club's Man for Congress

Street Commissioner is Offered as the Democratic Candidate to Take Hitchcock's Place.

Boss Flynn for congress! While he was in Omaha recently those whom he wanted to know learned definitely from Congressman Hitchcock that he will enter the senatorial race. All the Dahlman club men understand that the same is thus laid out. Hitchcock's intentions known, County Attorney English was importuned to make the contest for congress. English finally said "no" in such decisive fashion that he is now stated as a candidate for re-election to his present position.

City Comptroller Lobeck has been courtesying and side-stepping so coyly on the congressional proposition that some of the active workers determined to at once begin cultivating sentiment for Flynn.

"Why not Flynn?" said a prominent Dahlman club member. "It is the good mixers, the men who attend to their committee duties and cultivate acquaintances who secure things in congress. The present street commissioner can talk well enough for all practical purposes, and Hitchcock simply would not be in it with Flynn when it comes to mixing around and making friends. At that game Flynn is as good as anyone ever was. Lobeck is given to theorizing and dreaming and came to us from the republicans in 1906 on the wings of a free silver dream. "If Hitchcock is out of it we want to nominate a hunter who can go to Washington without being overloaded with highfalutin' ideas. As president of the Dahlman club we have found Tom Flynn able to deliver the goods. We believe he would do the same at Washington." And the city comptroller still holds his peace and hesitates to tender his filing fee.
