

THE OMAHA DAILY BEE.

FOUNDED BY EDWARD ROSEWATER.

VICTOR ROSEWATER, EDITOR.

Entered as Second-Class Matter, October 3, 1878.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

DELIVERED BY CARRIER.

COMMUNICATIONS.

STATEMENT OF CIRCULATION.

Noted.

Subscribers leaving the city temporarily.

The way to get clean streets is to clean them.

If aeroplanes could lay eggs at the present price.

It is just possible Jack Johnson may get his knockout.

One of the prominent characters in a new French play is a jacket.

If Dr. Wiley's suspicion that eggs are getting smaller.

Mayor Gaynor of New York would like to do away with personal taxes.

Philadelphia is all stirred up over an ice cream war.

An extra levy of 9 mills on every dollar of taxable property in Omaha.

A nation-wide reception for Colonel Roosevelt when he returns from Africa.

Several "meaty" orations were recently delivered by congressmen.

Uncle Andrew Carnegie would enshrine his name in the hearts of a grateful people.

Report now has it that the comet has three tails.

The increase in salaries for public school principals may have come without any log-rolling.

The law in the state of Maine which provides for firing a hunter who accidentally shoots a companion.

General Chamorro has eluded three columns of soldiers.

One new firm of contractors appeared in the list of paving bidders.

Lawyers and Lawmaking.

A bill introduced in the New York legislature making it a felony for any member of either house to accept a fee or retainer for legal or other services from any individual or corporation interested in legislation.

That there is a measure of truth in this will be generally admitted.

Ordinarily lawyers would be expected to make the best law-makers because of their legal training and supposed familiarity with laws.

The assessors, for example, make their rounds in Nebraska in April, when the farmer's surplus of grain and live stock is at the lowest.

It goes back, then, really to a question of representation and misrepresentation.

With Ash Wednesday the Lenten season has begun in the religious world.

There are few church people who complain about the Lent interfering with their social pleasures.

The world is moving pretty fast in this century and if one is going to last in his efforts it behooves him to look to reflective rest occasionally.

The English sparrow must go, says the Department of Agriculture at Washington.

The work of destroying these "cunning, destructive and filthy birds" is no small job when one considers the number of them in this country.

The Omaha city council has passed a resolution calling on the Nebraska delegation in congress to get an appropriation of $250,000 to protect the Missouri river banks opposite this city.

The courts will be asked to determine finally whether the Omaha street railway system is engaged in interstate commerce which brings it within the jurisdiction of the Interstate Commerce commission.

Ready for the Fray. Twenty-two feet fronting on Farnam and that portion of the World-Herald building at 1412 Farnam has been sold for a consideration of $50,000.

Well Worth Its Cost. Chicago Record-Herald. Again let us acknowledge that the wireless is worth much more than it has ever cost.

A Kick of Long Ago. Boston Transcript. So it appears that even 115 years ago the cost of living was so high that Governor Samuel Adams was moved to send a message to the legislature with respect to it.

Manifestation of the Uplift. Washington Post. Rich beyond the dream of avarice, the farmer's mind turns to higher things.

Down to the Worry Level. Indianapolis News. People who have received with absolute indifference reports that $10, $20 or $30 counterfeit bills were in circulation are now seriously disturbed.

Is This a Plot? Boston Globe. How ashamed Japan will feel when it learns that the 2,000 Japanese cherry trees which were presented to the United States government by the municipality of Tokio are infested with worms and fungus diseases.

Our Birthday Book. February 10, 1910. President Ipa Reussen of Johns Hopkins university was born February 10, 1846, in New York City.

Harrison Gray Ota, proprietor and editor of the Los Angeles Times, was born February 10, 1847, at Marietta, O.

E. G. McGilton is celebrating his fifty-first birthday. He was born at Eau Claire, Wis., and graduated from the state university and law school of that state.

George J. Stoney, clerk in the quartermaster's department at the Omaha depot, was born February 10, 1848, in Stoney, a native of Ireland.

George L. McDonough, colonization agent with offices in The Bee building, was born February 10, 1848, at Higginsville, O.

James B. Nickerson, chief deputy United States marshal, was born in Illinois, February 10, 1874. He was for a time employed in the law department of the Northwest railway.

Clement J. Waldron of the law firm of Waldron & Matfield was born February 10, 1878. He went through the University of Nebraska and the University of Wisconsin, and before going into professional practice for himself was associated with Greene Breckenridge & Matters.

POLITICS IN NEBRASKA.

Schuyler Free Lance: The Nebraska insurgents will not cut much ice. The main part of their boosters are democrats who want to use them.

Tekamah Journal: From the jarrings that so many republican papers in Nebraska are giving the Lincoln Star one would think the Star outfit would take a tumble.

Kearney Hub: Edgar Howard has a brace of political definitions describing a republican standpatter and a republican insurgent.

Hastings Tribune: W. J. Taylor has announced his candidacy for congress from the Sixth district. Taylor was once a popular leader, but now he is a democrat.

Papillon Times: Bryan ought to be our next United States senator, and perhaps he may yet be.

Lyons Mirror: How did Dahlman, who is known everywhere as a champion of the saloon element, carry Burt county at the primary election?

Bloomington Advocate: There are insurgents and insurgents. The little coterie of disgruntled statesmen of Lincoln, who thought to rise into prominence with the new candidate for the senate, have not met with much enthusiasm over the state.

St. Paul Republican: The big splurge about the so-called insurgent movement at Lincoln, was short and sweet, and died an awful death.

Ex-Senator Edmund's letter to Mr. Charles P. Howland on the anti-trust law presents more than one element of unusual interest.

Nebraska City Press: George W. Norris of Nebraska, congressman from the Fifth Nebraska, has made names for himself in Washington, and those of us who like to be called "insurgents" love and admire his fearless and intrepid Nebraska who is not afraid to speak his mind and opinion.

Wilber Republican: The gum shoe politicians of the state at their insurgent meeting in Lincoln which was called to inaugurate the Nebraska delegation at Washington did not work up much enthusiasm.

Tekamah Journal: The democrats are as much at sea as to what to do in reference to becoming candidates for office as the republicans.

Provisions Against Doubt. St. Louis Times. If the explorers really seek the South pole they will be unable to obtain any Eskimos as witnesses, but probably they can put seals on all the reports.

PERSONAL NOTES.

A California judge has decided that the mule is a deadly weapon.

Mayor Gaynor actually seems to think that when a man on the municipal payroll has nothing to do his name should be erased.

J. A. Kalinsky and his wife live at 106 Albemarle street, Baltimore. Mr. Kalinsky is 116 years of age. He is the oldest man in America.

A court has ordered the arrest of Homer Davenport, the cartoonist, for not paying his wife $100 a week.

"Every time you get cold feet," says a Chicago health department bulletin, "mark it down and see how often you get a cold. Do the same thing every time you get your feet wet. You will find that your ideas about cold feet or wet feet have been more wrong than right."

John Dooner of New York, who holds the record for devouring twelve pounds of steak at a sitting, has lost his city job and must now go out into the cold world and seek employment.

THE ANTI-TRUST ACT. How It Was Drafted and Methods of Enforcement. New York Evening Post.

Ex-Senator Edmund's letter to Mr. Charles P. Howland on the anti-trust law presents more than one element of unusual interest.

Nebraska City Press: George W. Norris of Nebraska, congressman from the Fifth Nebraska, has made names for himself in Washington, and those of us who like to be called "insurgents" love and admire his fearless and intrepid Nebraska who is not afraid to speak his mind and opinion.

Wilber Republican: The gum shoe politicians of the state at their insurgent meeting in Lincoln which was called to inaugurate the Nebraska delegation at Washington did not work up much enthusiasm.

Tekamah Journal: The democrats are as much at sea as to what to do in reference to becoming candidates for office as the republicans.

Provisions Against Doubt. St. Louis Times. If the explorers really seek the South pole they will be unable to obtain any Eskimos as witnesses, but probably they can put seals on all the reports.

Went to the penitentiary for counterfeiting. Baltimore American.

There was a jolly bachelor who died at eighty-eight. And by his will the good man left the whole of his estate to women who had answered him when asked by him to wed. He was declared to be dead. The happy life he'd led. New York Telegram.

When the Comet Strikes. Dodd Gastin in New York World.

If Mr. Hullo's comet's tail should hit the earth, a superfluous blazing fire. To show the comet's mirth, just what it clipped Bill Bryan on. Upon that fatal day. Would be quite difficult, I fear. To say.

If it should hit the Kaiser Bill. Upon his royal nose. I much suspect his sneeze would fill the universe with noise. And if it clipped Bill Bryan on. The tip end of his chin. 'Twould put an awful hush upon His din.

Were it to strike our canny Scot. Lord Sit on the chest. And melt the hero models hot. From off his plaidy vest. And hold our Andrew through and through. As though he were an egg. I wonder what would happen to His leg.

If it should meet with Mrs. Spank. Hurst on her speeding way. And tip the lady with its flank. In manner rather gay. Which would be first to cry. 'Enough! I'm through already yet!' Old Hullo's comet or the anti-Fraggette?

Advertisement for APRICES' CREAM BAKING POWDER. A straight, honest, healthful cream of tartar baking powder. Made from Grapes. Contains not a grain of injurious ingredient. No Alum. No Lime Phosphate. Fifty Years the Standard.

Advertisement for Scott's Emulsion. This is the trademark which is found on every bottle of the genuine. Scott's Emulsion is the standard Cod Liver Oil preparation of the world. Nothing equals it to build up the weak and wasted bodies of young and old.

Advertisement for Lenox Soap. Clean Water and Lenox Soap. THAT IS THE COMBINATION that suits the majority of women—clean water and Lenox Soap. ONE IS AS IMPORTANT as the other. You cannot expect to have clean clothes if you do not use clean water. Nor will you get rid of the dirt (without injuring the clothes) if you do not use good soap. LENOX SOAP is good soap. It is just as satisfactory as any of the higher-priced soaps; and very much more satisfactory than cheaper soaps. Lenox Soap—Just fits the hand.