

ROADS JOIN CORN CRUSADE

Northwestern and Union Pacific Send Out Bulletins.

URGE CAREFUL SEED SELECTION

Good Effect of Campaign for Better Seed Noted All Over State of Nebraska—Many Samples Being Tested.

Railroads have now taken up the crusade for better seed corn in Nebraska. The Northwestern and Union Pacific have sent bulletins to all agents to be posted to call the attention of the farmers to the crusade for better corn now being waged by the Commercial club of Omaha and to the necessity of testing the seed corn, especially this year.

Two hundred samples of corn from all sections of the state are now in the possession of the Commercial club and Chief Tester Campbell is eagerly watching what the result will be, as this corn comes from all sections of the state.

The entire state seems to be aroused to the necessity of testing the seed corn, and while many samples are being sent in the crusade is also having its effect in other ways because farmers in many cases are preparing to test their own corn in accordance with the plan as outlined in The Bee. So many excellent authorities have shown the corn is not good for seed that all seem to have come to the conclusion that there is a great deal of seed corn being planted which will cost the farmer an average of twelve bushels per acre when his crop is harvested.

Percentage of Bad Corn Large. Robertson Bros., of Wadsworth, seed growers, who buy from 250,000 to 300,000 bushels of seed corn annually, have made from thirty to forty tests a day since December 1, of corn from all parts of the state. Their findings show that 50 per cent of all corn gathered before the freeze of October 13 will not grow and that of the corn which was gathered and cribbed since that time, scarcely any will grow.

George Campbell, regent of the University of Nebraska, who has a large corn acreage at Healy, says that a great deal of the corn from his section was so damp that when it was gathered and cribbed it froze so solid that cribbers had to be used to pry it apart. He says that he has his doubts about the germinating qualities of seed corn which was gathered early and that the corn which is still standing, and which is the best to be found in the state, is also in a bad way.

The Commercial club started its tester Wednesday morning and will soon be able to make reports on samples from all parts of the state.

Roads Trying to Force Long Hauls, Charge

Through Lines Would Rather Carry Cattle to Chicago Packers, Declare Shippers of Omaha.

Omaha interests are being aroused over the threatened raise in the railroad rate of packing house products from Omaha to Chicago. These rates are now just where they were put about seven years ago by former President McKinley and the Great Western, who entered into a contract with the packers to haul their products at a reduced rate for five years. Mr. Stickey had looked into the business, according to a report he made, and found that after deducting the rebates the railroads were paying about 150 cents a hundred.

Shippers claim the threatened raise is the old story of the two through lines which run from the cattle raising country on through Omaha to Chicago desiring to fix the rate that they may have the through haul without having to let the stock stop here and then take a chance on negotiating the business after the stock is slaughtered. Railroad men claim there is no money in the business, anyway, because they have to make the meat train a fast train with a light load, throwing all way freight on the middle and thus making a big delay. The Burlington took off its fat noon train to Chicago about a year ago and some time ago the Illinois Central followed suit. They practically served notice on the packers that if they wished to use the night train they could send their products on them, but that the fast noon trains were discontinued.

DAHLMAN SPEAKS AT ST. JOE ON WASHINGTON, THE MAN

Spolia Plans Butler and Flynn Had Made for Beefsteak Dinner at Home.

Mayor Dahlman is to go to St. Joseph February 22, to respond to the toast, "Washington, the Man," at the banquet of the municipal officials.

Mayor "Pet" Clayton, writing to the Omaha mayor, says they have many friends in common, and good men are so scarce that he will not excuse Dahlman on any pretext.

"That means 'must go,'" said the mayor. "I cannot get to St. Joe until 10:30 in the evening, because of two previous engagements made here at home, but they have promised to hold the banquet until I do arrive and a man cannot turn down that kind of an invitation."

In this connection City Clerk Butler and street Commissioner Flynn feel somewhat chagrined. For several months they have been talking of a beefsteak dinner, to be attended by all city officials, but since good beef went up so high they have been unable to get the dinner.

THROUGH TRAINS ON NEW LINE Service Goes In on Burlington's Central Wyoming Extension 27th. RUNS FROM BILLINGS TO CODY Only Short Link to Be Built from the Main Line in Alliance to Complete This Piece of Railroad. The Burlington route will operate through trains on its central Wyoming extension from Billings, Mont., to Cody and Kirby, Wyo., beginning February 27. This is the most important of a number of changes in service to take effect toward the close of the month. The order to run trains on the new extension in and out of Billings is but the forerunner of one that is certain to come at a later date, which will mean that trains will operate west from Omaha direct to the heart of the Wyoming country. These remains only to be built a short link, which probably will be a branch from the main line at Alliance, Neb. Trains already run on the Wyoming extension from Topeka, Mont., to Cody and Kirby. The distance from Topeka to Kirby is 185 miles. The Billings Chamber of Commerce was active in securing the passage of the order to make that city the main terminal. This will mean a number of new trains daily into Billings. Among other changes to become effective February 27 is the change in running time of trains Nos. 2 and 10 between Denver and Chicago, which will reduce the running time between the two points one hour and fifteen minutes. No. 2 will leave Chicago at 9:45 a. m., arrive Omaha at 11:05 p. m. and reaching Denver at 1 p. m. Train No. 10 leaves Denver at 9:30 a. m., arriving at Chicago at 2:25 p. m., running via Pacific Junction. Train No. 28, southbound, will leave Omaha at 4:30 p. m. instead of at 4:35. DEMURRAGE RULES CHANGED Revisions Made by Representatives of Twenty Railroads at Meeting in Omaha. Members of the Western Demurrage operating west of Chicago and including the ten railroads having terminals in Omaha, were in annual session Thursday afternoon at the Paxton hotel. I. R. Van Tuzel of Omaha, manager of the association, presided. Several changes in the rules governing the exchange and switching of cars between different railroads probably will be the outcome of the meeting. The bureau has charge of the business between the various roads and fixes the rules and charges for the interchange of cars. AND STILL SHE SEEKS DIVORCE All Women Has to Do is Buy Clothes, Pay Rent, Set Table and Keep House. All that Mrs. Florence Davis had to do after she married Carl Davis was to buy her own clothes, pay the house rent, the grocer, butcher, baker and candlestick maker, and do the housework. Otherwise she had an easy time of it, while "Doc" Davis idled around "school" except his avers. "For the fact that he came home once in a while and abused her. Reciting these charges, Mrs. Davis sues for a divorce in district court. Alberta M. Bell asks a divorce from W. A. Bell for desertion. They were married in Council Bluffs in 1902. Mrs. Olga A.
