

GRAIN AND PRODUCE MARKET

Wheat is Strong and in Highly Favorable Condition. SENSATIONAL DAMAGE REPORTS News from Southwest of Alameda Impose Stocks Generally Light

Wheat market is very active and nervous affair, with wide ranges in values. Reports from the southwest continue strong. Stocks on hand are very light, and this makes a bull movement easy on any crop news.

Stalks of corn are still increasing, but country buyers and some importers in the cash market, are showing a slight liquidation set in. It is doubtful if the price will advance materially.

Wheat was erratic and higher early, but steadied later, ending back to yesterday's closing figures. Cash wheat locally was strong, selling a full cent over yesterday.

Corn was weak and tendency higher. Cold weather is checking receipts from farmers' hands. Cash stuff sold readily, bringing about 1 cent advance, and being better and buying more active.

Primary wheat receipts were 355,000 bu. and shipments were 194,000 bu. against receipts last year of 490,000 bu. and shipments of 310,000 bu.

Clearances were 73,000 bu. of corn, none of which was wheat and flour equal to 200,000 bu. Liverpool closed 1/4 cent higher on wheat and 1/2 cent higher on corn.

Local Receipts: Wheat, 1,079; Corn, 674; Oats, 674; Barley, 47; Hay, 47; Potatoes, 47.

BRUCKER HOPSON TO CONNELL

Councilman Prods Health Commission on Cleaning Up Refuse. CRITICIZES SOME OF INSPECTOR Doctor Admits There is Room for Criticism and Says He is Going After His Men and His Stray Dog.

Councilman Brucker and Kugel had a heart to heart argument with Health Commissioner Connell as to the gathering of garbage and rubbish, dead cats, rats and manure from the alleys and byways of the city.

"To serve notices does no good unless they are followed up and the offenders prosecuted," said Brucker. "None of your inspectors are not attending to their business and you ought to jack 'em up and haul 'em."

"I have been doing just that thing," insisted Dr. Connell, "and at the next council meeting you will very likely have an opportunity to help me in disciplinary work."

"All right," he said. "Any man who does not attend to his business, even if he is my own brother, must be made to do it or get out." Brucker's promise.

The two councilmen pointed out the health commissioner's violation of the ordinance in their own wards of violations of the health laws. Dr. Connell admitted he knew of instances himself, but insisted that preparations have been made to force every body to toe the mark and clean up just as the frost begins to loosen its hold on the piles of refuse.

Street Commissioner Flynn has more grip along the same line. He complains especially of some of the large barber shops dumping their cuttings in the gutters and catch basins, which become filled with cuttings and other rubbish, and is "thrown out wet," says Flynn, and immediately freezes. This keeps up day after day, until eventually the accumulation is such as to block gutters and choke catch basins when a slight thaw comes. Officer Whidridge is to be sent after these barber shops, as well as material men and builders.

HOME AND FAMILY ARE DEFINED ANEW FOR CENSUS Society's Institutions Often Unusual Meaning for Purpose of the Official Counting.

The official definitions of the terms "dwelling house" and "family," with reference to the population schedule to be carried by the census takers in the thirtieth United States census, beginning April 15, are explained in the census bureau's lengthy printed instructions to the canvassers. It is pointed out that the answers should relate only to conditions existing on April 15th, the "census day."

The words "dwelling house" and "family" are given a much wider application for census purposes than they have in ordinary speech. A "dwelling" is defined as a place in which, at the time of the census, one or more persons regularly sleep, and may include a hotel or boarding house, tenement or apartment house, an institution, factory or building, if persons regularly sleep there, as well as an ordinary dwelling house.

A "family" as a census term may mean a group of individuals who occupy together a dwelling place or part of a dwelling place, or an individual living alone in any place of abode. Also, the occupants and employees of a hotel, or who regularly sleep there, make up a single family, because they occupy one dwelling place, and persons living alone in cabins, huts or tents; persons occupying a room or rooms in public buildings, stores, warehouses, hotels or clubs; and persons sleeping on river boats, canal boats or barges, if they have no other usual place of abode, are regarded as families.

The enumerators are required to enter upon the schedule the name of every person whose usual place of abode on April 15, 1910, is in the family or in the dwelling place for which the enumeration is being made.

So did the police. Later the police counted with the guests, George Cheney and Kathleen Tucker, who are lodged in jail to answer in police court Friday morning for their overbearing desire for a pig's snout and its relation to the looting of Nellie's trunk.

"They let me out of my house to have a good time," explained Nellie, "and we was talking 'bout what would be good to eat. 'Nothing in the world better'n pig snout,' Jack said, 'if it's properly boiled.'"

"So I went out to get some snout back to me for lunch and when I comes back they let me out of my house to have a good time."

"A very little ratiocination will go a long way in working out that mystery," said the police sergeant turning to detail the officer who made the arrests.

The body was discovered by another occupant of the house about 7 o'clock and Schnyzer had apparently been dead for several hours. He had apparently succumbed to heart disease.
