BREEN ASKS CASES DISMISSED

Wants to Throw Out Rest of These Anti-Saloon League Appeals. John Paul Breen, as attorney for several brewery and saloon men, has filed a motion in district court asking that the Anti-Saloon League's appeals from the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners be dismissed. This is to signify that all the alleged judgments are due to the Anti-Saloon League. There is one other case in which the brewery licenses are involved and this is the Krug brewery case. That, it will be remembered, was heard by Judge Estelle in district court and was decided by him in favor of the brewery. The Anti-Saloon League took this case to the supreme court, where it hopes to win. Meantime the brewery are throwing out anchors to windward by these motions to dismiss the other appeal cases in district court.

and figure it out yourself. If you buy your meats on credit your dealer has the loss of time in keeping books, loss on bad accounts, loss and expense of collections to make up somewhere. If your meat is delivered to your door—there's another expense on the dealer, who pays this expense? Who makes good the loss? Somebody is losing money. Bath sells strictly for cash; no delivery. You get the benefit in lower prices and better quality. Investigate. Start now.
