FROST MAY TRY FOR PLACE

District Judge Thinking of Entering Congressional Fight.

RESIGNATION LIKELY IF DOES

Efforts Under Way to Induce George Tolley to Withdraw in Judge's Favor - Shallenberger Travels Much.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, Feb. 23.—(Special.)—An effort is being made in Lincoln to get George Tolley to withdraw from the congressional race and permit Judge Lincoln Frost to be the only candidate from Lancaster county.

Some friends of Judge Frost insist that he will be a candidate whether Tolley withdraws or not, while others are of the opinion Judge Frost will not resign his present office for an uncertainty.

Should Judge Frost decide to be a candidate it is believed by those who pretend to be close to him that he will follow the precedent set by Judge A. W. Field and resign from the bench upon the announcement of his candidacy.

Sentiment in this county is so strong against a member of the district bench being a candidate for congress that in the legislature of 1897 Senator Burns introduced a bill in the legislature to make it unlawful for a district judge to run for any other office while still on the bench.

It was argued at that time that the judge on the bench had an unfair advantage over competitors in that he could force lawyers and litigants to be for him by swinging the big judicial scale.

It was in 1902 when he was defeated by W. J. Ryan, Judge Allen W. Field had the same idea and for that reason he had an obligation to lawyers and litigants generally that he would resign from the bench and make the fight for congress on his own popularity and his own ability.

In addition to that he would not risk the charge that he was using his office to further his political ambitions in another direction.

As a result of his action, however, Judge Field was defeated, because if he had remained on the bench he could have forced the Burlington railroad to cease its fight on him.

Public Sentiment Strong. At the time Senator Burns introduced his bill to prevent the judiciary merely being a stepping stone to something higher in the political scale there was much sentiment for such a measure over the state.

The bill passed the senate, but was defeated in the house. Since then sentiment apparently has not changed in Lancaster county, so to make the race for congress it will be almost necessary for Judge Frost to resign from the bench.

In announcing his candidacy Judge Frost will say that he intends to resign as chairman of the state committee as soon as it is convenient for the committee to meet.

Should Judge Frost decide to resign and run for congress there will be a lively scramble for his place as district judge. Governor Shallenberger will appoint a democrat to fill the vacancy until the election, at which time a candidate will be selected to serve out the term.

There will be many candidates for the place, including probably Judge P. James Cochrane, who is at present county judge. Judge Cochrane has talked of for congress, but after considering the matter concluded not to get into the race, but to hold onto what he has. His friends believe that he will make a formidable candidate for the district bench when the vacancy occurs.

Normal Board and Executive. Governor Shallenberger today to quiet a report that he had secured legal advice that he can legally remove the members of the Normal board, said there was no truth in the rumor. "President Crabtree of Peru has written me he will be in Lincoln next week," said the governor. "I am not paying any attention to the Normal board matter now."

Historical Controversy. A meeting of the executive board of the State Historical society will be held in two weeks to settle the controversy between Secretary C. S. Faine and A. E. Sheldon. A special committee was here today trying to do this, but decided to call the executive board together.

Commission Proves Benefit. The State Railway commission has proved a good thing for the towns of the state which had a shortage of coal this winter. E. E. Stanton, writing from Stromburg to the commission, said the people there desired to thank the commission for the promptness with which it caused the railroad to rush in a coal supply. Two days after the complaint had reached the commission, the latter said, the coal began to move and no one suffered. Many complaints were received by the commission and in each instance the cars were traced and moved rapidly upon orders of the commission.

Ninth Grade Examinations. State Superintendent Bishop has issued a pamphlet on the eight grade examinations which this year will be uniform throughout the state. Three examinations will be held.

INDIGESTION, GAS AND HEADACHE GO

A Little Diapiesin will make you feel fine in five minutes.

Take your sour, out-of-order stomach—or maybe you call it indigestion, Dyspepsia, Gastritis or Stomachache; it doesn't matter—take your stomach trouble right with you to your Pharmacist and ask him to open a 50-cent case of Food Fermentation and let you eat one 25-grain Triangles and in within five minutes there is left any trace of your former misery.

The correct name for your trouble is Food Fermentation—food souring; the Digestive organs become weak, there is lack of gastric juice; your food is only half digested, and you become afflicted with loss of appetite, pressure and fullness after eating, vomiting, nausea, heartburn, cramping in bowels, tenderness in the pit of your stomach, bad taste in mouth, constipation, pain in limbs, sleeplessness, belching of gas, biliousness, stomach ache, nervousness, dizziness or many other similar symptoms.

If your appetite is feeble, and nothing comes out of your stomach or if you feel bloated after eating, or your food has the lump of lead on your stomach, you can make up your mind that at the bottom of all this there is but one cause—fermentation of undigested food.

Prove to yourself in five minutes that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Skip this fermentation and begin eating what you want, without fear of discomfort or misery.

Almost instant relief is waiting for you. It is merely a matter of how soon you take a little Diapiesin.

FINDS LONG LOST BROTHER DEAD IN ISOLATED HUT

Body of A. J. Crigler Found by Relative Who Had Not Seen Him for Years.

BROKEN BOW, Neb., Feb. 23.—(Special.)—The body of A. J. Crigler, who was found dead in a hut at his homestead, six miles west of Ainsworth, last Saturday, was brought here yesterday by Undertaker Cole and buried in Broken Bow cemetery.

Crigler, who was 77 years old and lived alone, had not been seen for nearly a week. When found the body was thoroughly frozen, showing that life had been extinct for several days. A pathetic feature of the case was the discovery of the body by a brother, Wesley Crigler, who lives in the western part of the state.

The two had not seen each other for a number of years and Wesley came to Clatsop county for the express purpose of paying the older brother a visit. Making inquiries, he drove out to the farm, where he found all the doors of the house securely locked.

He then went to a neighboring telephone and called up most every one in that section trying to locate his brother, but the number of calls was so great that he was last seen on the previous Monday.

Wesley then returned to the farm, accompanied by the liveryman and neighbors, broke open the door with a pitchfork and found the body of his brother. A dog was also imprisoned in the house. Owing to the advanced age of the deceased, no being no marks of foul play, Coroner Pennington decided not to hold an inquest.

BETTER RAILROAD SERVICE

Burlington May Stop Complaints by Increasing Trains on Red Cloud Branch.

HASTINGS, Neb., Feb. 23.—(Special Telegram.)—State Railway Commissioners Clark and Winnett today listened to appeals of citizens of Red Cloud, Cowles, Blue Hill and Ayr for an order to compel the Burlington railroad to operate a daily passenger train on the branch line between Hastings and Red Cloud.

The hearing was conducted at the court house and at its conclusion the railroad was given two weeks following delivery of the transcript of today's proceedings to present a reply. The attorney for the road intimated improvement in the service might be proposed that would be satisfactory to the petitioners.
