The Sticking-Point

Observing the circulation figures of most American magazines, and their experience in arriving at their position, it would appear that there is a sticking-point of circulation, up to which progress is reasonably easy, and beyond which it is enormously difficult.

Any publication, therefore, advancing its circulation beyond this point (selling at a fair price, and depending not upon premiums, but upon merit of the publication itself), may be said to claim unusual consideration from an advertiser. If the circulation goes beyond this point, it is worth while for the advertiser to learn why.

In the case of THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL the explanation will be remarkably obvious. In fact, it is so obvious that almost any woman of your acquaintance can tell you.

A bloody hatchet and knife will be introduced as evidence that Doll was held up. The assault occurred in a South Omaha boarding house patronized by packing house laborers.

Federal Court at North Platte—Judge W. H. Munger, United States Attorney F. S. Howell, United States Marshal W. P. Warner, Deputy Marshal George McCallum, Circuit Clerk George Thummel and District Clerk R. C. Hoyt will leave Sunday to open the term of the United States courts at North Platte. They will be absent for the greater part of the week. Three criminal cases are to be disposed of and a number of civil cases. The term of court will begin Monday. The petit jury will be empaneled Tuesday, March 1.

Nurse Sues George P. Cronk—George P. Cronk is made defendant in a suit in county court for $5, the plaintiff being Miss Jennie Vayter, a nurse. The plaintiff sets up that she was employed professionally for nine and one-half days during the month of February at the Cronk residence in attendance upon Mrs. Cronk "and that the services were necessary because of Mrs. Cronk's physical and mental condition." It is asserted that the plaintiff refused her bill to Mr. Cronk, who refused to settle. Suit then followed.

He will talk on civic beauty.

Third New Concern This Week—The Nineteen Hundred Washing Machine company is the third new industry to be landed in Omaha this week. E. H. Williams, who has been representing the company in Nebraska, has closed a contract for a location at 1613 Howard street, where an office and demonstrating room will be fitted up. Stock will be kept in warehouses for the present. The firm has had an office with the Omaha Electric Light & Power company for some time and has been trying to secure a location near the center of the retail district. The machine is operated by electricity, which also operates a wringer attached.

Big Boss Murphy Reveals that He is Still on Deck

Connors Allowed to Retain Chairmanship Two Months on Retracting Charges Against Tammany.

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 25.—William J. Connors made good his prediction that he would still be chairman of the democratic state committee after its meeting yesterday. In saving his political scalp, however, he lost most of his hair. Charles F. Murphy, the Tammany chieftain, whose complete mastery of the situation was realized by no one better than by Connors himself, granted the Buffalo leader a brief political reprieve in the interest of party harmony, after Connors had agreed to resign in April and to repudiate his recent harsh statements concerning Mr. Murphy and the alleged auctioning of judgeship in New York, which he declared were the result of his "infirmities of temper" and were unjustified in fact.

Chairman Connors was re-elected for a two-year term on April 17, 1908. He announced at the meeting today that "under no conceivable circumstances would he be a candidate for re-election."

"The office of chairman," he said, "is a thankless and difficult job anyway," and he desired to give more time and attention to his family and to his business than he had been able to do since he accepted the responsibilities of leadership four years ago. He promised, however, to work hard to uphold the hands of his successor and to aid in restoring the democratic party to power. Today's meeting lasted less than fifteen minutes. After the compromise, which was arranged at a personal conference between Chairman Connors and Leader Murphy, all fear of a clash at the meeting vanished.

Three resolutions were adopted as the meeting adjourned. The first was in favor of a federal income tax; the second placed the committee on record as favoring the direct primary bills introduced by Senator Grady and Assemblyman Frisbie; the third declared the republican party won the last national election upon the platform pledging it specifically to revise the tariff downward, but that in spite of that pledge "the recent revision has in no way removed from the shoulders of the great mass of the people the burden of indirect taxation."

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

City Betterments Discussed After Commercial Club Luncheon.

UNCERTAINTY OF RIVER'S COURSE

Club Seeking Some Way by Which Legal Status of Property on Banks May Be Established.

The South Omaha Commercial club met for luncheon at the Haverley hotel yesterday and afterward adjourned to the club rooms for a business session. Among the things under consideration was the question of the better lighting of the streets. W. B. Cheek, who has recently visited forty or fifty of the cities of the south, expressed much favor toward a change from the present are light system to that of street lamps or small arcs from six ten to the block. He was of the opinion that much more satisfactory results would follow at much less cost.

A committee was appointed to wait upon the several daily papers of Omaha today and secure if possible the insertion of the South Omaha news columns in all editions of the paper. This committee was composed of volunteers—W. B. Cheek, T. J. O'Neil, J. H. Kopitz, George Parks and John Flynn.

Another matter of considerable importance was the matter of river improvement. It was proposed that a committee consisting of the secretary, A. H. Murdoch, and John Flynn communicate with the congressmen on the advisability of the government making a survey of the present course of the river and define its boundaries officially, so that it may be determined officially which county or which state has jurisdiction over any given point. Now, as the course lies undefined in exact terms, the man who is suffering from the erosion of the river has no one to whom to appeal for aid. Legal hindrances can be brought against every effort of a county or municipality at checking or turning the flow of the water. Injunctions can stop the building of levees or jetties on the ground that the course of the river cannot be hampered. If a survey were made this point would be obliterated and then any and all authorities could take hold of the work of keeping the river within definite bounds. Such is the proposition which the committee is to communicate to the congressmen. The club settled up most of the business of the late banquet and makes a request that the parties still delinquent in turning in the cash for tickets sold make immediate settlement.

Examinations for Mechanics.

The civil service announces that an examination will be given at an early date for mechanics, such as blacksmiths, horse-shoers, wheelwrights, carpenters, plumbers, steamfitters, harnessmakers, firemen and other kindred trades. Applications are thought probable in a workingman's town such as South Omaha. These will have to be mailed to J. M. Shoemaker, district secretary, at St. Paul, Minn., before March 15.

Carl Cech Drinks Drug.

After a quarrel with his wife, Carl Cech, Thirty-sixth and W streets, seized a bottle of a purgative oil with a wonderful name and warranted to cure all earthly ills, ran into the yard, swallowed the whole, then threw a fit in which he alternately prayed for death and whisky. The neighbors were aroused and called the police patrol. Cech was hauled to the station much in the condition of an uncorked jack-in-the-box. Dr. John Koutsky looked at the label and said a gallon of oil would probably kill a man if he could retain it, and made light of Cech's antics, because he pleaded for whisky as an antidote. So instead of preparing the man for his voyage above he was hustled below into the cells of the city jail, where he was charged with disturbing the peace.

Richards Makes Sout hDakotans Do as He Desires

Progressive Faction Makes Him Vessey's Campaign Manager to Save Themselves.

HURON, S. D., Feb. 25.—(Special Telegram.)—Following a bitter battle on the floor of the conference lasting until midnight, R. O. Richards was placed in the saddle by the progressives of South Dakota yesterday as the chairman of the campaign for Governor R. S. Vessey, while the Richards resolutions, as reported by a minority committee were accepted only in part.

The fight on the floor was spectacular. With the knowledge on the part of many that Richards would be out as a candidate for governor, if he lost the fight as a goad to drive them to the last ditch in the attempt to secure harmony, and with bitter personal fights, Richards' opponents to fight him as a czar, the battle proved a grueling one. R. L. Senn led the Richards opponents, while C. H. Dillon was the leader in the fight for Richards.

The resolutions and the organization committee each entered two reports. On the organization committee report the big fight was made. Thomas Thorson favored electing Richards chairman and this proposition passed by a vote of 31 to 7. Then Richards took the floor and congratulated them on their work and accepted Governor Vessey, extending "the right hand of fellowship" as an indication that he bowed to the will of the majority.

The resolutions endorse Taft, but take a positive stand against Cannon and Aldrich. They state: "The dominant issue in the coming campaign is the wresting of control of national legislation from special interests entrenched behind Speaker Cannon of the house and Leader Aldrich of the senate and their supporters. It is not sufficient that Speaker Cannon be re-elected. It is essential that a successor be elected who is committed to and is a supporter of progressive principles and that there be a revision of the rules which will take from the speaker his arbitrary power to direct and control all legislation. The progressive republicans of South Dakota will support no candidate for congress in the coming primary who does not stand unequivocally on this platform and whose record is not such as to warrant credence in his professions."
