MARRIAGE EASY OVER RIVER

But Judge Sutton Declares a Cloud of Ill Omen Hangs Over Them.

WHERE THEY BREED DIVORCES

Jurist Points Moral by Issuing Decree to Council Bluffs Couple—Cupid Baffled at the License Clerk's Office.

"Another Council Bluffs wedding" signed Judge Sutton of district court as he signed a decree which severed Mrs. Edna L. Lewis from Harold Lewis.

"These weddings of Omaha young people in Council Bluffs before a magistrate are not likely to eventuate happily, as too many cases prove," continued the court. "Weddings which are solemnized before a minister anywhere are more likely to be happy, anyhow."

Judge Sutton in these remarks is standing by his guns, for it will be remembered that he spoke in similar vein some time ago, and his remarks not being perfectly understood, there was called down upon his head a storm of indignant reproach. The then president of the Commercial club of Council Bluffs, among others, making official utterance of statements that domestic experiments which begin in Council Bluffs are peculiarly blessed in the outcome and that there is almost a certainty of a measure of conjugal bliss resulting which is like unto Eden before the serpent visited.

At the same hour that Judge Sutton spoke two Council Bluffs people were attempting to get married in Omaha and failed. Isaac Van Deusen and Mrs. Anna F. Franklin brought license clerk Charles Furay to issue them a license. On inquiry Mrs. Franklin had been divorced September 28 last. "H-h-m," said Mr. Furay, doing a little mental arithmetic, "one, two, three, four, five months. You can't get a license in Nebraska until six months after the decree. Come around April 1."

Mrs. Franklin was indignant. "I get turned down because I told the truth," said she. "There are plenty of others who come to Omaha and lie about it and get their license all right. Why, I could have fibbed about it just as well as they."

The cogency of this argument was lost upon Mr. Furay who manfully stuck to the law of Nebraska. "Well, there's other states than Nebraska," said Mrs. Franklin, letting down her veil and departing with Mr. Van Deusen following along.

BABY'S PLEADING EYES GAIN RELEASE OF FATHER

Appeal of Infant Touches Heart of Police Judge, Who Suspend Sentence Imposed.

Two baby blue eyes and two rosy red lips that pleadingly called "papa, papa" softened the heart of Judge Crawford in police court and Jesse Long and Fred Campbell, who had been fined $5 and costs for being drunk and fighting were freed.

The baby that gave the men their freedom was the little five-year-old son of Jesse Long, who was arrested Thursday for fighting. Judge Crawford had fined the men and they were waiting in the prisoners' pen to be taken to jail to serve sentences when a woman and two children were spied sitting alone in the court room at the end of the morning session.

"Who is that woman and those children," asked the judge of a bailiff. "See what she wants."

The bailiff learned that she was the wife of Long. Judge Crawford went to the bench on which they were seated and after sitting up the little family and patting the head of the little five-year-old, who smiled confidently into his face, he ordered Long to be brought in the room.

"Is this your family?" he asked the man. "Yes, sir," replied Long with a ashamed countenance. "For their sakes I am going to suspend sentence, but a man with as nice appearing family as you have should be ashamed to disgrace them as you have. You had better keep away from here in the future." Campbell was also discharged.

The Other Extreme. St. Peter looked at the newcomer. "What was your business on earth?" he asked. "I ran a cold storage plant," the applicant answered. The saint touched the push button in the "Hill" wall. "I guess you've earned a complete change of occupation," he said. "Take the elevator going down."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

GRAMAM NOT LONE VICTIM

Men Who Bilked Ball Player Arrested for General Mail Fraud.

POSTAL INSPECTORS GET BUSY

Investigation Shows Extensive Operations by Richardson and Hubbard in Other Places—Arrested and Released on Bond.

Herbert P. Richardson and Charles B. Franklin Hubbard were taken into custody by the United States authorities Friday morning on the charge of using the United States mails with intent to defraud and were arraigned before United States Commissioner Anderson. Both entered a plea of not guilty and were placed under $5,000 for their preliminary hearing at 10 a. m. next Monday.

The two men were arrested at the instance of George A. Graham, a member of the Omaha Western league base ball team, who was swindled out of $150 by them on the advertised assurance that guaranteed procuring him a job paying a big salary. Graham answered the advertisement and received a letter from Richardson and Hubbard (Franklin was his name then), asking him to call at rooms 332-Paxton block. Graham called and was promptly separated from $150, but after thinking over the matter he called again at Richardson and Franklin's office, and discovered that they had flown. Graham got busy and anticipating that the men would leave Omaha that afternoon went down to the Union station and laid in wait for them. His promptitude was a good thing. He spotted his men and had them arrested and taken to jail. This was February 23.

Since the arrest of the two men for swindling Graham, the postoffice authorities have heard of other victims, and Inspector Randall was put on the case, with the result that United States Attorney Howell swore out a complaint Friday morning for the arrest of the two men. The government authorities will act in concert with the county authorities in handling the case. The government penalty for using the mails to defraud provides for a fine of $1,000 or five years imprisonment in the penitentiary, or both.

Two other young men of Omaha who were caught by the alluring advertisement and lost $50 and $25, respectively, to Richardson and Franklin, were present at the arraignment of the two men Friday morning, and will tell their story of misplaced confidence at the hearing Monday morning. And it is said that there are others.

Persistent Advertising is the road to Big Returns.
