

SOCIETY KEEPS BUSY PACE

Visiting Nurses Association to Substitute Musicals for Birthday Party.

AFFAIR BENEFIT FOR SICK BABIES

Clubs and Other Informal Affairs Will Keep People Busy This Week

Future Prospect. What makes the lantern maiden smile. Although sackcloth she wears? Why does she gaze about so? She had an Lenten career? Devout she is, without a doubt—

Social Calendar

Saturday—Wedding of Miss Margaret Kennedy and Mr. Charles L. Brown.

Lenten clubs, sewing clubs, bridge clubs and various other kinds of clubs will keep society busy this week, and, although their demands are not as exacting as those of more formal affairs, they will keep things moving. As a matter of fact, society is glad of a little rest. Last week was full, and with the brilliant opening of the Brandeis theater and the many other things, incidental to that occasion, also had much on their minds. Next week will be almost crowded with smart affairs. The artist's recital to be given by the Tuesday Morning Musicals at the home of Mrs. George A. Joslyn will come first with the Visiting Nurses association's benefit musical and Temple Israel Synagogue's vaudeville following. St. Patrick's day will also occasion many affairs of more or less consequence.

There will be no Visiting Nurse "birthday party" this year, and society will be deprived of one of the smartest annual functions given in Omaha. The association has announced an admirable substitute, however, in the musical to be given by Mrs. Edith Wagener Wednesday evening, March 16, in the auditorium of the Young Women's Christian association. On this occasion, as at the birthday party, society will be asked to make its gift to the association, but the fund instead of being used for the general work will be devoted to the support of a summer camp for the sick babies of Omaha. There will be no admission fee charged for the musicals, and a general invitation will be extended as usual. It was the idea when the birthday party was instituted that all guests should give at least 1 cent for each year of their age. The majority did this and many others gave much more. The benefit program will be presented by professional talent and of high order. The Visiting Nurse association is officiated this year by Mrs. Luther Kountze, president; Mrs. Thomas Kilpatrick, vice president; Miss Louise McPherson secretary, and Mrs. Myron Learned, treasurer.

T. Kennedy, Mr. Louis C. Nash, Mr. F. S. Pollard, Mr. George Redick, Mr. Edward Creighton, Mr. Arthur Lewis, Mr. M. E. Colpeter, Mr. D. C. Bradford, Mr. Combs, Mr. George P. Roberts, Prof. E. U. Graff, Mr. H. P. Whitmore, Mr. John H. Webster, Mr. F. A. Nash, Mrs. H. W. Gates, Captain N. L. Crimmins, army officers of Fort Crook, army officers of Fort Omaha, Mayor J. C. Dahlman, Mr. E. E. Hart of Council Bluffs, Mr. Ohio Knox of Council Bluffs, Knights of Alexander's University, Nebraska fraternal (a large section of boxes) and local alumni associations.

Pleasures Past

Miss Mary Hayes gave a farewell party for Miss Leona and Helen Cook Saturday. A most enjoyable evening was spent with music and games. Daily refreshments were served.

Miss Doris Keane and Miss Florence Putnam of the Arzene Lupin company, playing at the Brandeis theater, were honor guests at numerous after-theater parties and Saturday afternoon Mrs. H. C. Sumney entertained for them.

Mrs. H. C. Sumney was hostess at a matinee party Saturday at the new Brandeis theater, entertaining fourteen guests. Following the matinee tea was served at the Delft tea rooms and the party was joined by Mrs. Sumney's cousin, Mr. A. G. Rocheford, who was hostess Saturday at a luncheon and china shower in honor of Miss Karsch. Those invited were Mrs. Ellinghusen, Mrs. E. Nickles, Mrs. W. Stockham, Mrs. W. Jones, Mrs. E. W. Armstrong, Mrs. Walter, Mrs. M. Wymann, Mrs. Lewis Jones, Mrs. J. B. Wittig, Mrs. A. Hogate, Mrs. Rocheford and Miss Winifred Jones.

An Orpheum party followed by a luncheon at the Rome was given Saturday afternoon by Misses Marie and Della Heinenrickson and Mrs. Richard Skankey to the La Douzaine club in honor of Miss Maud Bonnell, whose marriage to Mr. P. Members of the J. F. W. club entertained their husbands and friends at a St. Patrick's party Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Olson, 5017 Nicholas street. The house was decorated with green and white and songs, readings and games were given appropriate to St. Patrick's day. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Ames, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Haskab, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Haskab, Mr. and Mrs. Morris McKay, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wright, Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Better, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sherman, Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair, Mr. and Mrs. Stegner, Mr. and Mrs. F. Dale, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Wier, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Yager, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Olson, Dr. Frederick Milliner, Miss Georgia Chadd, Miss Jeannette Jessup, Miss Patterson.

Last week was well filled with informal dinner parties, luncheons and bridge parties, most of them given in honor of visitors, brides-to-be and as a farewell to Omaha people leaving here to reside elsewhere. Complimentary to Mr. and Mrs. George Roberts, who left Friday to reside in Boston, several affairs were given during the week. Thursday evening they were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Burgess at the opening of the new theater. Small dinner parties were given for them during the week by Mr. and Mrs. William Hill Clark, Mr. and Mrs. James J. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Harris. Each of these was followed by an evening of bridge. Several informal showers and Kensingtons were given during the week for Miss Margaret Kennedy, who will be one of the brides of the month.

Mrs. John Bailey entertained at her home, 292 Maple street, at one of the larger parties of the week in honor of her niece, Miss Isabella E. Neale. The color scheme was pink and white. The living room was decorated in pink and white carnations, while in the dining room pink roses were used. The evening was pleasantly spent with music and games. The prizes were won by Miss Ethel Savage, Charlotte Witte and Mr. Victor Caley. Mrs. Bailey was assisted by Mrs. J. W. Street and Mrs. J. G. Neale. Those present were Misses Ruth Lake, Ethel Savage, Gladys Fernandez, Olive Marshall, Nellie Stevens, Charlotte Witte, Winifred Street, Fern Beeson, Frances Brader, Jennie Krane, Gladys Gross, Gertrude Lester, Ethel Baley, Rose Fitch, Evelyn Neale, Jessie Neale and Isabella Neale; Messrs. T. Bailey, Albert Heyman and Darrel Holbrook.

Mrs. J. B. Rahm gave a delightful heart party Saturday afternoon for her daughter, Miss Florence Rahm. All of the decorations and favors were suggestive of St. Patrick's day. Southern smilax, ferns and many green flags were used. The rooms were lighted with green unshaded candles, the candlesticks being tied with green tulle bows. Large balls holding little green flags were hung from the chandeliers. The score cards were designed with shamrocks and the guests received green shamrock boxes of bonbons as souvenirs, while the color scheme was also carried out in the refreshments. Six-handed hearts was the game and six tables were used. Assisting Mrs. Rahm were Mrs. C. J. Caswell, Mrs. C. W. Haller, Mrs. Fred Krug and Mrs. Selwyn Doherty. The guests were Misses Mable Allen, Alice Duval, Margaret Loomis, Helen Carrier, Mary Haller, Irene Maguire, Ethel Hodge, Margaret Weaver, Claire McCaffrey, Helen McCaffrey, Katharine DeMay, Blanche DeMay, Gertrude Stout, Lulu Herald, Henrietta Bergmann, Isabel Jones, Margaret McCoy, Gail Partidge, Evelyn Horton, Carol Kuenne, Alice Porterfield, Ruth Hinrichs, Mildred Sherret, George Carey, Elizabeth Berryman, Emma Fullaway, Margaret McFarland, Helen Pearce, Mildred Foote, Helen Streight, Ruth Fitzgerald, Marion Pearsall, Ruth Myer and Dora Haarman.

IN A DINING CAR ABROAD America's Quick Lunch Speed Easily Pushed Off the Score Board.

A prominent American railroad man who prefers not to have his name published, a truthful witness for the first time, published, the accuracy of the facts recited, gives the following account of his experience in a table d'hote dining car in Europe some two years ago:

"Dinner was served table d'hote by two waiters, in blue cutaway coats, covered with large brass buttons, and whether because of the presence of an unusual number of diners, or for some other reason (although I am under the impression the conditions were normal), no greater confusion can be imagined than that which followed the efforts of these two men to serve dinner to thirty-three or thirty-four persons.

"The two waiters ran headlong from one end of the car to the other, passengers shouting orders to them, and at times attempting to detain them by clutching their coats. The courses, while in some cases palatable, were often cold, and always served on cold plates, and because of the haste necessary under the circumstances, and the motion of the car upon its rigid wheels, were served both on the plates and on the tablecloth.

My Lady's Gown. My lady fair, with exclusive air, said: "Be it black, blue or brown My exclusiveness is my gown, Because it is made by La Book The most exclusive tailor in town." EXCLUSIVENESS. A smart tailor-made gown necessitates exclusiveness to give it the necessary individuality. The lack of it merely places your gown in the ready-to-wear class or the products of the cheaper class of tailors. Don't Have a Good Gown Spoiled by Cheap Tailoring.

Establishing His Veracity. Not everybody can prove his claims as a truthful witness for the first time, published, the accuracy of the facts recited, gives the following account of his experience in a table d'hote dining car in Europe some two years ago: "Dinner was served table d'hote by two waiters, in blue cutaway coats, covered with large brass buttons, and whether because of the presence of an unusual number of diners, or for some other reason (although I am under the impression the conditions were normal), no greater confusion can be imagined than that which followed the efforts of these two men to serve dinner to thirty-three or thirty-four persons. The two waiters ran headlong from one end of the car to the other, passengers shouting orders to them, and at times attempting to detain them by clutching their coats. The courses, while in some cases palatable, were often cold, and always served on cold plates, and because of the haste necessary under the circumstances, and the motion of the car upon its rigid wheels, were served both on the plates and on the tablecloth. The bread—the long French roll—was served in sealed paper cases, to insure a measure of cleanliness, but that served to us had been burned in the baking. The same thick-sliced cups in which the potatoes was served were later introduced as the demitasses with which this extraordinary meal closed, while the warm champagne afforded the waiter an opportunity of giving us a partial bath and receiving our benedictions at the same time. Enough of the scene, however, was served to partially fill the trees of the heavy tumbler which were provided, but it was tasteless by the time the waiter had returned many minutes later with some ice and extra napkins to repair damages. "Our only other experience with a dining car was on the Italian railroads, where the same scene was served. The first course was some kind of sausage and pickled fish, which was snatched from the table before we had time to ascertain whether it was palatable or not. Following this came roast beef and fried potatoes: the beef was good; we held on in our plates this time. The beef was followed by a vegetable of some kind, which was not at all inviting in appearance; then cheese finished the meal. The waiters were dirty, greasy coats and grabbed everything off the table before the passengers had finished."—Harper's Weekly.

Edison's Brains have triumphed again! He now gives to the waiting world, his newest accomplishment The Amberola. A creation worthy of the name of "Edison"—An almost unbelievable source of music, song and speech. "This concealed horn phonograph worked into a massive, luxurious piece of cabinet work—the cabinet itself making a superb piece of furniture fit for any room. In the cabinet are compartments holding 130 records—the Amberola itself being in Mahogany, piano finish. Several improvements in making enhance the production of sound. It may be the increased resonance—it may be the newer mechanical points—but either way the fact remains that phonographic rendition has NEVER before reached such a standard. The Amberola, in any one of its four styles, sells at $200, and is the instrument you see advertised so much in the magazines. The first Amberolas shown in Omaha are here now—awaiting a critical hearing by those seeking something BETTER than the ordinary phonograph. GEO. E.
