The following speech was delivered at the ecent organization of the Walter I. Smith lub at Council Bluffs, by General G. M. Dodge:

make a political speech, but it is a greaguished citizen and more distinguished representative of our state in congress.

Any person seeking the office of congressman from lowa has before him a task and a problem. He will find this position hard to fill, for Iowa in the congress of the United States occupies a position held by no other state, as a leader in legislation and in the counsels of our nation. It took this stand in the civil war when our representatives and senators came immediately this stand in the civil war when our repre-sentatives and senators came immediately to the front as leaders in the house and senate and not only there, but in the field, in the civil war, through the action of our Governor Kirkwood in the policy he pur-sued of leaving to each military organiza-tion in the field from Iowa to fill all the vacancies that occurred in battle or by dis-ease, by promotion of the members of their organization in the field. For this act, no one can estimate the value and aid it their organisation in the field. For this act, no one can estimate the value and aid it was to our commanders, Generals Grant and Sherman; and other officers often spoke to me in praise of the action of our state. Many states sometimes filled such vacancies by sending to the front clitzens that had seen no service, ignoring the brave men who had shown their fitness in battle, thus creating great dissatisfaction in the regiments.

The young man of the present day, while apparently leading a good and upright life, lacked the chief essential of the real Christian, and that was the giving of all to Christ. "Throw down your gun and surrender yourself to God," was the striking way in which the gray-haired veteran of the civil war urged the young men in the audience to forsake the things that are worldly and enlist in the army of the Lord. "Be honest, be truthful, pray to God and love your neighbor," were the closing admonitions of the speaker. BERLIN, March 7 .- Serious conflicts bo tween the police and socialists, involving a lengthy list of wounded, were the outcome of most impressive open air demonstrations against the suffrage bill carried out in Berlin and the other cities of Prussia vester Mr. President of the Wester I. Smith, our distinguished citizen and more distinguished repulse of the place chosen by the socialists, forbade The chief of police at Berlin fearing a demonstration of any kind there. But the socialist newspaper, Vorwaerts, announced that the manifestation would be held in spite of the order of prohibition. This caused the collection of a powerful force of police and gendarmes in Treptow park. which left the remainder of the city virtually unguarded. The socialist leaders this morning, ob serving that their plan had been frustrated, quickly and quietly passed the word to their followers to proceed to the other end of the city. These instructions were obeyed by 30,000 manifestants, who succeeded in accomplishing the "stroil" almost undisturbed, while the others who had remained around Treptow park came into severe collision with the gendarmes and police, with serious consequences.

The police, however, in the majority of the cases, acted with the utmost moderation, obeying the orders to avoid as far as possible using their arms which were issued by Chief Von Jagow, who recently had been much criticised for his severity. It was the provisional gendarme, who, on this occasion, came into the most serious conflict with the crowds. Until a late hour tonight all the streets leading to the palace, the imperial chancellor's residence and the Prussian parliament were guarded by cordons of armed police. but no demonstrators appeared. Reports from the provinces show, in most cases, the demonstrations by many thousands passed off peacefully.

Silence Maintained as to Strike Conditions in Baltimore, with No Change Noted.

BALTIMORE, Md., March 7 .- Sphinx-like llence is still maintained in accordance with a three-cornered agreement, by all concerned touching the progress of the board of mediation composed of Chairman Knapp of the Interstate Commerce commission and Commissioner Nelli in their efforts to adjust the differences between the Baltimore and Ohio railroad and its conductors and trainmen relative to wages and service conditions. There was today what is said to be a most unusual event, a Sunday conference in connection with the case. It was between Commissioner Neil and representatives of the employes and lasted about four hours. Chairman Knapp was prevented from coming to Baltimore by other business. Conferences will be resumed early tomorrow morning. Owing to the pressure of other business it is said that Chairman Knapp will leave the nego tlations entirely in the hands of Mr. Netll for the next day or two.

While nothing specific is obtainable as to the progress of the work of the board of mediation, it may be said that the prospect of a peaceful settlement satisfactory to both sides is at least as bright as was yesterday or has yet been
