WIFE'S FONDNESS FOR BEST BUTTER CAUSES MEN WOE

It Leads Her Husband and Another Porter to Appropriate Fine Brand.

A pound of butter, a tallow candle and several hard, stale buns, coupled with the fact that a wife's taste for butter was highly cultivated, got two colored men in a whole lot of trouble in police court.

James P. Allen and Lester Bull, cooks on a Union Pacific diner, were arrested, accused of stealing provisions from their car. Special officers of the railroad, who made the arrest, upon searching their grip found a pound of butter and fourteen buns in Allen's grip, a tallow candle and several buns in Bull's grip.

Allen claimed that his wife desired a certain brand of butter, only procurable in Ogden, Utah, and the butter found in his possession was bought there by him. He said the buns were unavailable for use on the car, as they were stale and he thought it proper to help himself.

The butter found in the grip was introduced in evidence and disclosed the fact that it had been made by a local concern. Judge Crawford fined Allen 25c and costs and assessed Bull 10c and costs.

Gas Service

Small Defects Exaggerated:

Have you ever had a burner in your house that you considered no good? Have you ever said: "I haven't been able to light that burner for years, it won't work?"

Why wouldn't it work? You found after sending for the gas man that it worked finely, it was merely a question of some dust in the tip or a stoppage of the fixture. The work of correcting it took about five minutes of the gas man's time and cost you not one cent.

Have you such another burner in your house?

NO COLOR LINE FOR LAYMEN

Negro Churchmen Admitted in Work of Foreign Missions.

ON SAME BASIS AS THE WHITES

Joseph Barker Succeeds I. W. Carpenter as Chairman of the Finance Committee and Will Push the Work.

The Omaha Laymen's Missionary convention, will not exclude Negroes. At least two Omaha negro churches will be represented in the convention to be held at the Auditorium, March 17-20. This decision was reached at a meeting of the executive committee, held at the Young Men's Christian association, Tuesday noon.

The executive committee in charge of similar work in the Denver, Colo., district last week voted to exclude negroes from that convention, which is soon to be held there.

"If mission are good for the colored man in Africa they are good for him in Omaha, or in Denver," said Henry F. Klever, chairman of the committee on deputation, at the meeting held Tuesday. The meeting was also concerned with other plans for the convention. The banquet for the opening night has been placed in charge of a committee of twenty-five Omaha church women.

A meeting of the chairmen of the missionary boards of all of the Omaha churches to be held Thursday at 12:15 at the Young Men's Christian association to complete arrangements for church representation in the convention, was announced. The pastors of all of the churches are also expected to attend this meeting.

Statistics All In.

E. H. Westerfield, chairman of the statistics committee, announced that the work of his organization has been completed. He will submit a report showing the number of church members in Omaha, the number supporting foreign missions and the average per capita of their contributions. These figures will furnish a basis of comparison in future work. Similar reports from Kansas City and Topeka will be presented to the delegates to the convention by charts and on cards laid at each table.

I. W. Carpenter, chairman of the finance committee, stated that all of the churches have raised the amounts which they have subscribed to the convention movement. On account of his departure for California Mr. Carpenter resigned. His place was filled by the election of Joseph Barker, who distinguished himself by raising 25 per cent more in the Episcopal church than had been subscribed to the fund.

Lincoln Business Club Denounced

Called Barrier to Progress by Will M. Maupin at Ad Club Convention in Des Moines.

Will M. Maupin, deputy state labor commissioner, threw a bomb into the camp of the Northwestern Ad club men at Des Moines Monday when he announced that the Commercial club of his city was the greatest hindrance of any institution in the matter of making progress and getting new enterprises.

He stated that W. S. Whitten, the secretary of the Commercial club, had been to see some of the leading merchants to induce them to give their advertising money to the Commercial club of this city to withdraw from the Lincoln Ad club.

Henry Gering of the Omaha Ad club addressed the convention Monday evening at the Des Moines Auditorium and told of the national convention which is to be held in Omaha in July. Will A. Campbell of the publicity department of the Commercial club of Omaha, told of the many reasons why the association should exist.

Waterloo, Ia., aspires to the honor of holding the next national convention of the ad clubs and will send its entire Commercial club to this city to boost for the convention. Several smaller Iowa towns which have no ad clubs sent representatives of the commercial clubs to the Des Moines convention.

L. G. Griffin, general agent of the Pennsylvania lines in Omaha, attended the convention to get an idea of the magnitude of the Omaha convention in order that his line might prepare to handle crowds of delegates from New York, Philadelphia and other eastern points.
