HITCOCK FREE WITH WORDS

Lincoln Friends of Mr. Bryan Say Leader Has Been Misquoted.

DOUBT MADE PLEDGE NOT TO RUN

W. B. Price of Lincoln Will Soon File for United States Senator and Expects to Run on Bryan Platform.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, March 14.—(Special.)—The statement in the announcement of G. M. Hitchcock as a senatorial candidate that Mr. Bryan had informed him that under no circumstances would he be a candidate for the senate, has raised a discussion here.

In other words, those close to Mr. Bryan here are of the opinion he has been misquoted by Mr. Hitchcock through misunderstanding what Bryan really said to him, or otherwise.

C. W. Bryan, of course, would not discuss the statement for publication. Others, however, were of the opinion Mr. Bryan would not say to Mr. Hitchcock in private regarding the senatorial race what he would not say to the public.

These democrats said Mr. Bryan probably informed Mr. Hitchcock that he did not desire to be a candidate for the senate was not a candidate and hoped no contingency would arise which would make it necessary for him to run.

When Mr. Bryan was asked to make a statement just before leaving Lincoln on the senatorial question, he repeated what is printed above and he also said to watch the Commoner for anything that he might have to say in the future. From the most reliable sources it is learned that Mr. Bryan has never said he would not be a candidate under the circumstances either for the senate or the presidency. Those who are emphatic in this say Mr. Hitchcock has either misquoted the presidential candidate through a misunderstanding in order to keep him out of the race, or to get him to wipe out that "sting of ingratitude."

Prices Soon to Announce.

W. B. Price will very shortly probably announce his candidacy for the democratic nomination for United States senator.

Mr. Price has been considering this question for some weeks and the announcement of Gilbert M. Hitchcock this morning decided him to get into the race at once.

Mr. Price might now be in congress had not some of his very good friends filed his name as a candidate for state auditor while he slept at the switch. He had intended filing for congress and had so announced, but those who did not want to make the race more difficult for him, had decided to announce his candidacy for the office of state auditor in Nebraska.

Mr. Price received the democratic nomination for state auditor at the primaries in the last campaign and ran ahead of any one else on the democratic ticket except the governor.

From out in the state the Lincoln lawyer has received numerous letters from temperance democrats, who have urged him to run for the senate, while others have urged him to make the race for governor. As he ran for auditor, while advocating county option, Mr. Price believes he fills the Bryan bill. He recently had a conference with C. W. Bryan, but whether that had anything to do with his coming announcement is not known at this time.

Peru Normal Growth.

Recent articles in the democratic press and in the publication with which President Crabbree of Peru was actively connected, when elected to his present position, are to the effect that Mr. Crabbree is responsible for the splendid library at the school as well as for the new buildings, which are on the campus. In one of these articles it is stated that at present the library contains 20,000 volumes and that a few years ago it contained only a few thousand.

When Mr. Crabbree took charge of the school six years ago, the library contained just 15,000 volumes, according to the report he made to the board at that time and which is published in the 1904 biennial report of W. K. Fowler, then superintendent of public instruction.

According to the report, Dr. Clark made to the board, he being succeeded by Mr. Crabbree, the library was practically reconstructed during the four years Dr. Clark was the head of the school. It was not catalogued and unorganized and accessible to the students only a short period each day. When Dr. Clark was open to give way to Crabbree, the library was open all day and until 9:30 o'clock at night.

Dr. Clark having employed three persons in the library in place of one employed, when he became principal of the school, Mr. Crabbree's own report shows that the library has been increased in the six years only 2,000 volumes.

As a matter of fact the new gymnasium and the new chapel had almost been completed before Dr. Clark left the institution or at least they had been started. All of which is set out in the report of Mr. Crabbree made at the time he took charge of the school.

The reports indicate that the attendance has increased and according to well informed school men this is due in large part to the new certification law which requires eight weeks normal training for teachers to secure certificates.

Burlington Changes Rate.

Attorney General Thompson has been instructed by the railway commission to proceed against the Burlington for changing a rate without permission of the commission. It is charged that the Burlington changed its rate governing the milling in transit. Under the old rule millers had a milling in transit rate good for six months. This was changed by the railroad. It is charged, so that a joint agent could inspect the amount of the proposed shipments. This forced the miller to ship the finished product at the local rates.

Telephone Company Request.

The Lincoln Telephone company has asked permission of the railway commission to sell stock to the amount of $25,000. Of this amount $20,000 will be spent in Gage county and the remainder will be expended in and around Lincoln. To take up outstanding paper, $7,000 is asked.

W. L. PALMER, CLAY COUNTY EDITOR, DIES SUDDENLY

Pioneer Newspaper Man of Nebraska Stricken—Formerly Lived in Iowa.

CLAY CENTER, March 14.—(Special.)—W. L. Palmer died here about 11 o'clock last night of apoplexy. Mrs. Palmer heard him breathing heavily after he retired and an investigation found him dying. A physician was called, but life was extinct when he arrived. Mr. Palmer was 67 years of age, his birthday being yesterday, the day of his death. He was the owner and publisher of the Clay Center Sun, which he founded in this city in 1884, and has continuously been its publisher except for about six months in 1896, when he went to Hastings and helped found the Hastings News, a daily publication. He leaves a widow and two children, a daughter, Fay, who recently married Prof. G. E. Boggs of Hastings, and a son, Clarence Palmer, who is a linotype operator and printer in Sioux City, Ia.

Mr. Palmer came from Eddyville, Ia., to Clay Center in 1884, at which place he had been engaged in the newspaper business since the close of the civil war. He was a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, having served three years in the Sixty-seventh Iowa Infantry. He was a prisoner for eleven months at Tyler's Mill, Tex. At the time of his death he was a member of the Knights of Pythias of this city and also the Ancient Order of United Workmen. His death records the passing of a pioneer who has been identified with the history of Clay county, he having taken an active part through the columns of his newspaper in all the events going to make the history of this county. He recently fitted up a new office and was splendidly equipped for printing, getting new presses and new equipment.

FEAR OF TESTIMONY AT TRIAL DRIVES WOMAN TO SUICIDE

Mrs. Sabia of Lyons Leaves Note Telling Why She Took Her Own Life.

LYONS, Neb., March 14.—(Special.)—After what Crawford said this morning, I cannot bear to live any longer. Take good care of the children. Goodbye everybody. This was the note left by Mrs. Mae Sabia, who shot herself near here Sunday. The coroner's verdict was to the effect that she came to her death by a pistol shot in her own hand. Her maiden name was Stipp and her relatives live at Windon, Minn., and his relatives live at Williams, Ia.

The cause that led up to the suicide are said to be jealousy which existed between the husband and wife on account of suspicions entertained toward Jack Crawford by the husband. This led the husband to take their child and leave home, the wife going to one of the neighbors.

TWO COUNTIES FAIL TO AGREE

Dodge and Saunders Boards at Log-scrubbers Over Bridge Situation at Fremont.

FREMONT, Neb., March 14.—(Special Telegram.)—The Dodge county supervisors and the Saunders county commissioners met in joint session today and accomplished practically nothing. A resolution by Dodge county, to replace the nine spans of the Platte river bridge, which were carried out, with steel and iron was turned down by Saunders county. Their resolution to replace the spans with the old style piling met the same fate at the hands of the Dodge county board. Neither board seemed to yield a point to the other, both standing pat. Another joint meeting will be held at Wahoo Thursday, with bright prospects of an agreement.

The rural free delivery spans which are routed to cut out the heaviest part of his bridge and while the passenger ferry and both railroads are bringing a good many over, the situation is anything but satisfactory.

Neighbors Come Forward.

YORK, Neb., March 14.—(Special.)—Within twelve hours after the home of William Lemon, a tinner employed by A. C. Snyder, was burned, citizens raised a purse which at this time is approaching nearly $500. Mr. Lemon and family barely escaped from the burning building that he had worked nights on to complete. He had no insurance, but with the money being raised and work and material contributed he will be able to build another small home.

New Odd Fellows Home.

YORK, Neb., March 14.—(Special.)—The plans of the new Nebraska State Odd Fellows' home at York will soon be printed. The new building will be built of stone and will be five stories in height. In this building will be the very best arrangement of rooms, a school room and everything necessary to make it fireproof and sanitary. The present building will probably be used by officials. Within two weeks advertisements will be published asking for bids.

Utica License Ticket.

UTICA, Neb., March 14.—(Special.)—A high license caucus was held Saturday evening. William Timmer and C. C. Neilson were the successful nominees for the village board.

The election will be held Tuesday, April 5. There is no likelihood at the present time that another ticket will be placed in the field, as no other caucus has been called.

Robbers Now in Clear.

BEATRICE, Neb., March 14.—(Special Telegram.)—The section foreman at Tate, Neb., today notified Sheriff Schneck that he found the railroad robber used by the Virginia robbers in making their escape near that place. It is now believed the robbers had some kind of a conveyance near, where they deserted the velocipedes, which aided them in getting away.

County Option Advocates Meet to Form Plans

State Meeting of Those Favorable to This Policy Held at Lincoln—Bid for Endorsement.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, March 14.—(Special.)—The state meeting of county option advocates was held this afternoon and tonight at St. Paul's church about 500 attending the afternoon meeting. Ex-Governor Hanly of Indiana was the principal speaker at both meetings.

Two typical representatives of the democratic party, speaking for the party, stated that county option should and would be adopted by the state of Nebraska. These typical representatives were Lyle Abbott of Omaha, late defeated democratic candidate for attorney general, and W. B. Price, late defeated democratic candidate for state auditor. Two speakers, credited to the republican party, spoke of "The Republican Party and County Option." They were C. H. Aldrich, late defeated candidate for the republican nomination for congress in the Fourth district, who voted against county option in the legislature of 1897, and E. P. Brown of Lancaster county. These typical representatives were Lyle Abbott of Omaha, late defeated democratic candidate for attorney general, and W. B. Price, late defeated democratic candidate for state auditor. Two speakers, credited to the republican party, spoke of "The Republican Party and County Option." They were C. H. Aldrich, late defeated candidate for the republican nomination for congress in the Fourth district, who voted against county option in the legislature of 1897, and E. P. Brown of Lancaster county.

Josper L. Mc'Brien called the meeting to order and introduced T. M. Wimberly, head of the Temperance Union of Nebraska, who returned introduced C. B. Anderson of Crete, who presided. Mr. Anderson had just returned from a visit to Oklahoma, and he came back a full-fledged believer in the policy of county option and so announced upon taking the chair. The Rev. Mr. Rogers prayed and Miss Kendall sang.

Lyle Abbott of Omaha was the first speaker and he said he had been selected as the "pace maker" for the other speakers to follow, because he had come from Omaha and "anyone from Douglas county, who has anything to do with temperance, has to go some." Mr. Abbott explained that he was for county option because the country is the unit for taxation and the county has to pay the costs in the prosecution of cases for the sale of liquor. For these reasons and others, he said, the entire county should decide whether there should be any saloons in a county.

W. B. Price said he was for county option "because he was a democrat" and "it is as natural for a democrat to be against a monopoly and trust as it is for a stock taker to water." The "liquor trust," he said, was the biggest trust of them all and for that reason all democrats should be for county option.

Senator Aldrich, who is a candidate for the republican nomination for governor, followed in behalf of county option and told how David City, his home, had prospered financially under the dry town system.

Then came E. P. Brown, Mayor McCosmough of Horregge, who brought down a delegation of fifteen men. A. G. Wolfenberger, Superintendent Elliott, Prof. Carson, Mrs. Clafin and the Rev. Mr. Shepherd.

All this occurred before the coming of Governor Hanly, who did not reach the city until 3:30 o'clock, when he was met by Senators Cain and Richardson county was unable to be present owing to the recent death of his 5-year-old son. Instead he sent a letter endorsing the movement for county option. Mr. Mc'Brien proposed resolutions of sympathy which were adopted unanimously.

At the afternoon session a resolution was adopted demanding that all political parties in Nebraska endorse county option and insert a plank to that effect in their platforms. It was also decided to hold another meeting tomorrow.

SUCKERS STRIKE AT ANY OLD BAIT

stating his purpose to seek any evidence that might be found.

"We understood that the money used in the races had been taken from a safety deposit vault in the bank and was in the hands of the bank," said the witness in the nature of personal property which could be used for evidence.

C. M. McCain, pool hall keeper, and Mike from Denver, was recalled by the prosecution to identify a letter. The defense took advantage of the opportunity to cross-examine McCain and to bring out by the defense to make McCain admit that the fight in which he and George Quimby of Denver, a friend, were worked by the defeat of Ed McCoy was a legitimate contest.

Emmet Tinley, Mabray's lawyer, as usual sought to make the witness throw mud on himself. McCain testified he was a miner, stock dealer, horseman, water dealer, pool hall keeper and teamster. The witness was thoroughly blistered by the lawyer.

Never Was a Bookie.

"Have you not been a bookie?" asked the lawyer.

"No, I've played the race, but never made a book."

"Did you tell Quimby that this was a fixed deal here at Council Bluffs?"

"Yes, I did," replied McCain.

"Fixed against you?"

"No, didn't know it was fixed that way."

"Now about that fight, wasn't McCoy knocked out by a blow in the solar plexus?"

"Yes. The little fellow ran under him and hit him low. He knocked his feet higher in the air, six foot in the air," replied McCain. "He lit on his face and the back of his neck both at once."

Ed McCoy, the fighter-defendant, sitting directly in front of the witness, shook his head in denial.

"Now wouldn't such a blow, delivered in such a way, result in a knock-out 999 times out of a 1,000?" asked Tinley, referring to the mighty feat of one fighter, Casey.

"I object to that as calling for a conclusion of the witness," interposed Attorney Stewart for the prosecution.

"The witness is an expert," replied Aquil of the defense.

McCain was allowed to answer, but said he would not stake his reputation.

Martins Tells His Tale.

Frank R. Martins, county merchant Mike from the venture of Polk City, Ia., the victim of a wrestling match between defendant T. E. Robinson, Farmington, Ia., also charged with using a steamer for the deal, and the justice celebrated Mr. Murphy, Mabray wrestler, related his coming to Council Bluffs to leave $1,000. Ed Leach, also a defendant, was connected with this case under the name of Riley.

"The Millionaire's Club of Omaha" became the title of the athletic midget farce presented for the entertainment of Martins, Mr. Mabray figured as a member of this exclusive organization of sports wealth. This club existed in June, 1907, and was reorganized under other names after the departure of Martins.

Being dissatisfied with the first match, which cost him $1,000, Martins agreed to a second, which, by rare coincidence, went the same way to the cost of $2,000 in Martins' currency.

Martins testified to the general and free use of the mails.

"I got letters from James Gates, the millionaire's private secretary, while I was at Polk City, urging me to hurry up and come on," declared Martins, to the discomfort of the defense.

Yes, Through Postoffice.

"Did they come through the United States mails?" asked Sylvester Rush.

"Yes, I got them through the postoffice."

During these operations Ed Leach, alias Riley, was stopping at the Arcadia hotel in Omaha.

A number of the letters were offered in evidence by the government.

Martins pointed out and identified Leach and Robinson in the court room.

"Robinson fell, badly hurt, and Mr. Gordon, that was Mabray, was awfully checked. He said we'd better have a doctor, and they all got scared. I didn't get rattled. I took things cool."

Martins pointed out and identified Leach on cross-examination. Mabray's lawyer forced from the country merchant the admission that he got embezzled in the wrestling game while trying to sell lottery tickets at Farmington.

"Yes, I took things cool."

Martins pointed out and identified Leach to get some easy money," asserted Martins.

The hand of the defense was shown in the question by Emmett Tinley:

"You came here as the result of a personal interview, letters had nothing to do with it, was that?"

"That right," replied Martins.

The opening of court was delayed half an hour Monday morning by the tardiness of L. W. Boen, a juror from Harlan, who was slightly ill over Sunday.
