HOGS—Buyers gave nickel lower bids a thorough work-out at the opening this morning, but were able to buy up only a few hogs at this decline. A reasonably active local demand, coupled with some good-sized outside orders, put the trade on a filmer basis as the morning advanced and from weak to 5c lower the market developed linto a steady affair, with the result that late sales were fully as high as resterday's prices. Lights were more or less neglected, as was the case yesterday, and the full decline was more often apparent on loads of this description. Total supply was fairly liberal, but most pens were emptied in very good season.

A considerable portion of offerings changed hands at $10.00210.60, as compared with yesterday's wide spread of $10.25010.60, and bulk a week ago of $10.15010.30. Tops reached $10.55, the same as yesterday.
