The boys are: Herbert Brandt, John Flannigan, Bob Lee, Harry Johnson and Robert Booty. The police are now trying to locate the parents of the boys, but up to late last night had met with little or no success.

Councilman Alphonse Beilinger of the Sixth ward, who failed of renomination at the hands of the democrats in his bailiwick, is now satisfied that his term of office will soon draw to a close. In a letter to City Treasurer True, received by the latter yesterday, Mr. Bellinger says he has been placed in charge of the Chicago office of a breakfast food company, with a salary of $5,000 a year. A. G. Glick, manager of the Marshalltown plant, who was expected to attend the meeting, will be unable to be present. His bartender, Seth Freeman, was also taken into custody on a similar charge. As no provision had been made for the men to give bonds for their appearance in court, they were placed in the county jail over night. The complaint on which the arrests were made yesterday was filed by County Attorney J. J. Hess. It is said that Jones, despite the injunction issued against him last September, has been conducting his saloon at Treynor without any attempt to comply with the provisions of the mulct law. GOVERNMENT EYE ON ALIENS

Strict Watch Being Kept on Naturalizations.

TECHNICAL OBJECTION RAISED

Divorce Mill Begins Again with Decree to A. B. Williams — Frances Kirkpatrick Files Suit.

That the government is keeping strict watch on applications of aliens for naturalization was evidenced yesterday in district court, when Judge Wheeler was compelled to refuse papers to Henry M. Horn of this city. Horn's application was temporarily barred by a technical objection of the government agent detailed to attend to such matters. The objection was based in the fact that Theodore N. Petersen, senior member of the Petersen & Schoening company and recently elected a member of the Board of Education, who was one of Horn's witnesses, had not known him for the full five years at the time he signed the affidavit, as required by the United States statute. The defect, however, will be corrected and another application will be filed later by Horn.

Eight men born under the rule of foreign potentates were made citizens of the United States by Judge Wheeler. Those to whom naturalization papers were issued, all of whom are residents of Pottawattamie county, were Chris Peter Nelson Bolt, Chris Jacobsen, Luigi Salazzo, Martin Rindsley, Nels Sorenson, Wyde Peter Petersen, James Christian Overgaard and Henry Dewaelle.

The divorce mill started grinding yesterday, as is usual at the opening of each term of court. A. B. Williams was granted a legal separation from Mattie G. Williams, to whom he was married April 11, 1907. Williams based his suit on statutory charges. Adeline K. Scott was given a divorce from Carey W. Scott, to whom she was married October 19, 1898, on statutory grounds.

Kirkpatrick Divorce.

Francis H. Kirkpatrick has filed suit for divorce from William T. Kirkpatrick, to whom she was married in Denison, Ia., on July 27, 1908, and from whom she separated on September 23 of last year because, as she alleges, of the defendant's cruel and inhuman treatment. She also makes a statutory charge against her husband. Mrs. Kirkpatrick, in addition to the divorce, asks the court to quiet her title to the property at 1604 Sixth avenue, which she and her husband have been occupying as their homestead.

The temporary assignment made by Judge Wheeler includes the hearing in the removal case against Major George H. Richmond, chief of police, which is set for Wednesday of next week. The temporary assignment, which is subject to revision, is as follows:

Thursday, March 17—Russell against Russell.

Friday, March 18—Gibbons against Gibbons, alimony.

Saturday, March 19.—Pangle estate, Byrd against Bellinger; Rasmussen against Rasmussen, alimony; Day & Hess company against Caughey.

Monday, March 21—Sherwin against Sherwin and others; Spaur against Spaur.

Wednesday, March 23—Richmond removal case.

Thursday, March 24—Elsworth against Elsworth; Clark against Clark Implement company.

Friday, March 25—James against park commissioners; Reynolds against Hollenbeck; Olson against Boyle.

Monday, March 28—Painter Investment company against Adkins.

Tuesday, March 29—Hansen against Walker; Hansen against Rodd; Giles against Hart.

Thursday, March 31—Bentley against Michener.

Purer Milk Aim of Mr. Thompson

Iowa Deputy Food Commissioner Pays Visit to Council Bluffs for Inspection.

"As soon as the dairymen are educated to the importance of keeping their dairies sanitary and their cows healthy they will cease to be antagonistic to pure milk laws and ordinances," said Dr. O. P. Thompson, the newly-appointed deputy pure food commissioner, who has been placed in charge of the dairy and creamery inspection work in the state and is now in Council Bluffs in connection with the duties of his office.

"They simply fail to realize the importance of the thing. To illustrate, many people who send milk to pasteurizing plants have an idea that it doesn't make any difference what kind of milk they send. It may contain all kinds of impure matter, but they think that the pasteurizing will remove all this and the milk so purified that no harm will result. The work of the state department is to educate the dairymen along proper lines and to insist that pure milk laws and ordinances be enforced. We have a year and a half in which to do this, but if the dairymen do not co-operate with us they will, of course, suffer prosecution."

While in Council Bluffs Dr. Thompson will make a complete inspection of the dairies and investigate the city's methods of securing pure milk and of enforcing sanitary conditions. In making the investigation here Dr. Thompson is being assisted by Peter Smith, city health inspector and deputy state milk inspector.

The pure food law provides that all cities of 16,000 population and over shall be visited by an inspector of the state department and that he shall assist the municipal authorities in every way possible to obtain pure dairy products.

Dr. Thompson said yesterday that he had visited several cities and had found very diverse methods in use. In some cities he had found the work of the local authorities to be most efficient, while in others he found the officials were having trouble in enforcing any sanitary measures. In some cities the authorities were not paying the slightest attention to the matter of pure milk or sanitary conditions in the dairies.

Dr. Thompson expects to conclude his work here by Friday and from here will go to Sioux City.

Pony Creek Matter Goes Over.

The Board of County Supervisors in session yesterday as a drainage board, was unable to determine whether the property owners interested desired the proposed Pony creek drainage ditch established. After spending the greater part of the day listening to arguments of attorneys representing the owners of land along the line of the proposed ditch and many of the property owners themselves, the board ppstponed further consideration of the matter until April 9. On this date another hearing will be held and the board expects them either to reject the entire proposition or order the establishment of the ditch.

A. C. Graham and Captain J. J. Brown of the Board of Park Commissioners, appeared to protest against the plan of J. Harley Mayne, the engineer who made the survey of the proposed ditch. They asked for a posponement of a decision until the attorney of the park board, who is engaged in the Mabray trial in the federal court, could be present.

Damages to the amount of $9,331.40 were allowed by the board to property owners affected by the extension of the Pigeon creek ditch.

Tabor College Trustees Meet

All Members of Faculty Re-Elected Except Mrs. Martin, Who Resigned Because of Ill Health.

TABOR, Ia., March 17.—(Special.)—At the regular meeting of the trustees of Tabor college, held here yesterday, all members of the college faculty were re-elected for another year with the exception of Miss Frieda L. Martini, professor of modern languages, who took a vacation some months ago on account of ill health. Her resignation was accepted and Miss Georgia Hopper, who has very acceptably filled the position for the last term, was elected to fill the vacancy.

Trustees W. P. Hepburn of Clarinda and E. E. Flint of Great Falls, Mont., resigned on account of being unable to attend trustee meetings. Their successors will be chosen at the June meeting of trustees. All local trustees were present and those from out of town were Charles Anderson of Farragut, Rev. P. A. Johnson of Grinnell, I. A. Loose of Thurman and Rev. George Ladd of Red Oak.

Cash and pledges secured on the endowment fund since September last by the financial secretaries, Revs. W. B. Hill and F. W. Martini, were reported as $3,204. The salaries of Profs. M. C. Gaston and Susan Jewell were increased $100 each.

Gas Ordinance for Marshalltown.

MARSHALLTOWN, Ia., March 17.—(Special.)—Exasperated by the mayor's alleged dilatory tactics in fighting the city's gas, electric light and power ordinances in the federal court, and also because of the fact that the city has employed a firm of attorneys, who were also representing the Marshalltown Light, Power and Railway company, four of the seven councilmen this afternoon introduced new gas, electric light and power ordinances at the on their first reading. The gas ordinance provides for $1 gas next January, compared with $1.25 gas now. Councilman-at-Large Hull, who introduced the ordinance, also filed the written statement of two of the city's best attorneys that they would fight the new ordinance through the courts for the city free of charge.

STUDENTS TALK GRADUATION

Seniors Decide to Do Away with Cap and Gown Commencement Week.

Are caps and gowns a necessary part of a high school student's graduation? is the question which was most hotly debated in the senior class of the Omaha High school. In fact, this minor question received more discussion than questions which were of far more importance to the class as a whole.

More sensible counsels prevailed in this weighty point of appearance of the class during its commencement week and exercises, and it was decided that the graduating youths and maidens would appear sufficiently mature and dignified if each one was dressed in merely his or her Sunday best.

It was announced at the meeting that a senior annual would be published, as usual, by the high school paper, the "Register." Lumir Buresh, editor of the paper, was appointed chairman of a committee to get bids on photographs—this firm to get the entire contract for taking all the pictures of the entire class of 200 students.

Mr. Graff, principal of the high school, spoke to the class on making their preparations for the commencement exercises and the attending festivities economical enough so that no student's pleasure would be spoiled by his feeling that it would in any way be too expensive for him to undertake. The class heartily endorsed his sentiments.

Warren Howard, one of the prominent track athlets of the class, was elected track captain, and will lead the class in its contests with the other classes of the school.

Among other events announced was an entertainment to be given about the middle of April to show the talent in the class and to raise a little money for a senior banquet or social entertainment in which the whole class will participate. As part of the show the High School Glee club will furnish an octet to take part in a minstrel show. The Mandolin club will also take part. Other features of the evening will be living pictures and tableaux, music by a capable orchestra and minor acts.

The High School Cadet band will give a band concert later in the season, under the direction of Prof. George Green, band instructor.

Miss Kate McHugh announced Wednesday that, in all probability, the commencement program of the high school would be held in the Brandeis theater.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Democrats Start Stories About Appointees with Purpose.

SHIELDS NOT AFTER POLICE JOB

First Day of Revision of Registration Will Be March 26—Roberts-MacDowell Wedding Takes Place.

One of the earliest fakes of the campaign has been exploded in statements issued last night by P. H. Shields, formerly chief detective of the city. It had been said that in the event P. J. Trainor was elected mayor, P. H. Shields would be appointed chief of police. Democratic spellbinders hoped to draw a few Bohemian votes. It was confidently affirmed by the same parties that in the event of the election of W. H. Queenan, Captain James Sheehan would be promoted to the office of chief of police.

Last night P. H. Shields put an effectual end to the talk of his position by stating emphatically that he did not want such a position under an elective board and that he would not seek nor accept the place if offered. He said he resigned his position expressly because the board had been made elective. He was offered the position of chief of Armour & Company's special police and considered it a far better place in many ways than service for the city.

From the above statement which Mr. Shields authorized it will be seen that the democratic plans will have to be altered. The fact that James Sheehan is openly named as chief of police will not be pleasant for the electors the story sought to draw.

First Day of Registration.

The first day for the revision of registration for the election of April 5 will be March 26. The revisions will be conducted by the Board of Registrars at the several polling places of the city as heretofore. The revision will be completed on the last of three separate days. The fact that many unregistered voters swore in their vote at the primary does not place them on the poll books for the election. These men will have to appear before the boards of registration and be enrolled.

Mayor Frank Koutsky has been busy with his election proclamation and will soon have the same ready for publication. In connection with the use of the Australian ballot it is expected that the mandamus proceeding will be prepared and filed today, so that the questions involved may be settled in time to determine what must be done.

Vassar Girls a Hit.

The last number of the Young Men's Christian association last night drew the largest crowd of the season. The entertainment was furnished by the well-known Vassar girls' troupe of musicians. They gave a program of twelve numbers, covering a wide range of sentiment and interpretation. Nearly every number was given a second and third encore. In their happy responses the young women chose the common and best-loved folk songs of the immediate past and the present.

Roberts-MacDowell Wedding.

John L. Roberts and Miss Jeane Hawthorne MasDowell were married at 8 p. m. Wednesday at the residence they have prepared at 824 North Eighteenth street. Miss MacDowell is daughter of Samuel MacDowell and Mr. Roberts is assistant timekeeper for Armour & Co. The ceremony, by Dr. R. L. Wheeler, was the simpler form of the Presbyterian service with the pledges of the ring service both to bride and groom. Lucile Parks was ring bearer. Mr. MacDowell gave away the bride and Miss Berta Ferguson played the wedding march. Mrs. E. L. Roberts, mother of the groom, was able to attend the wedding, although she was not entirely recovered from her very serious illness. After the ceremony an informal reception was given and a light refreshment served. Toward the close of the reception, while all were chatting, the bride and groom slipped away and started on a little trip. They will be at home after April 1.

Dies of Too Much Opium.

Cornelium Kelly, otherwise known as Cornelius Dunn, a colored man, died at 10 a. m. Thursday from an overdose of opium. He has been living at 2613 L street, and was a laborer in the packing houses. He returned home Thursday morning after a night spent in smoking opium and it was apparent to his companions that he was practically dying. They sent for Dr. Beck, who arrived just before the death and reported a case of opium poisoning. It is not believed that the intent was to commit suicide. The coroner will make an investigation.

TEACHER FALLS TO DEATH

Miss Bessie Chambers Steps Into Open Elevator Shaft.

ACCIDENT IN BOYD THEATER

Operator Leaves Car with Door Open and It Ascends — Woman One of City's Best Instructors.

Dashed to death down the elevator shaft of the Boyd theater building was the fate Wednesday afternoon of Miss Bessie Chambers, 2902 North Twenty-fifth street, who had been for eight years connected with the public schools of Omaha and who at the time of her death was a member of the teaching staff of the Cass Street school. She walked into an open door on the fourth story and fell to the basement.

Miss Chambers died last night in Clarkson hospital from shock, following the accident, which occurred at 5:25 p. m. A few moments before she passed away she became partially consctous and was just able to recognize her father, mother, sisters and brother, who were at the bedside. The only apparent injuries were a fracture of the left hip and some bruises on the face and head. None of these, however, was sufficient to cause death.

A music pupil of Mrs. Walter Dale, Twenty-fifth and Maple, who has a studio in the Boyd theater building, Miss Chambers, accompanied by Mrs. Dale and another friend, Miss Mary Ellsworth, 1504 South Twenty-sixth street, was on her way home when the accident happened. The three had reached the elevator on the fourth story and, seeing the gate open, Miss Chambers, who was in front, stepped, as she thought, into the car. But no car was there and she plunged into space. Her companions' cries aroused the building, and when those they had summoned reached the basement they found the young woman lying there unconscious.

Drs. De Witt and Loveland were called from the police station and had Miss Chambers taken to Clarkson hospital, where Dr. Rich took charge of the case and remained until life was extinct.

Elevator Without Operator.

It is said that the boy in charge of the elevator, Sam Madison, had gone to attend to something in the corridor, leaving the elevator gate open, and that the machine had gradually ascended to the next floor during his absence.

The accident was reported to the coroner, who has taken charge of the body and will hold an inquest Friday at 2 p. m.

Miss Chambers was one of the best teachers in the Omaha schools. She taught for two years in Salt Lake City, when she came to Omaha and taught for three years in the Cass street school. She then took a course of one year at the University of Nebraska. Returning to the city she was for two years a teacher at the Windsor school. For the last year she had been at the Cass street school, where she had charge of classes in the sixth and seventh grades.

Miss Chambers is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Chambers, who live at 2902 North Twenty-fifth street; Alice Chambers, director of the kindergarten department at Saratoga school; Florence Chambers, who is at home; Dr. Oliver Chambers, Rock Springs, Wyo.; Everard Chambers, Salt Lake City, and Willard Chambers, who is employed in the First National bank in Omaha.

The Boyd theater building is the property of the estate of the late James E. Boyd. The elevator is of a type controlled by a wire cable. An investigation of the mechanism will probably disclose whether it was left at a complete stop or whether it started through any defect in the machinery.
