Wire Fence Dragged Into Court—In order to make a short cut to a field to get a load of hay, it is claimed that Henry Olsen cut down the wire fence of J. T. Campbell at Forty-second and Center streets. Olsen didn't deny the charge when Constable Hensel served a warrant on him, but said he tried to see Campbell before cutting the fence, but Campbell wasn't at home. Olsen was summoned to answer to a charge of fence cutting before Justice Eben K. Long.

It looks like Justice of the Peace Ed Leeder will become a formidable rival of the Rev. Charles W. Savage and Judge Altstadt in the honors of marrying people, said a visitor on looking over Leeder's docket.

ROCK ISLAND STANDS PAT

Road Holds Evasion by Albright Rate to Be Illegal. REFERS SHIPPERS TO COURTS. Declares that Only by Suit for Difference in Tariffs Can the Packers Settle Their Contentions.

Rock Island officials are firm in the step they have taken concerning the Albright schedule for dressed meats and say that the rate is and will be the same from Albright as from South Omaha, regardless of what the packers may say about the matter. The road holds that according to the law it cannot take advantage of a technicality to charge two rates from practically the same point, as is the case with South Omaha and Albright.

Despite the statements from the packing house people the road declares that they will pay the same rate from both shipping points, as that is the only legal solution of the difficulty. If the packers think that they have been wronged they can sue in the courts for the difference between the old and new rates on all goods shipped from Albright. The Rock Island officials say that this is the only way the shippers can get the question settled, as they have no intention of changing the rate, saying that they think it would be illegal to do so.

BLAIR BUTCHER ENJOINED FROM PEDDLING HIS MEAT

John Jensen Will Have to Explain Away Charge of Contempt Through Business Zeal. John C. Jensen of Blair will come before Judge Day in a short time on a charge of contempt of court. It is alleged that Mr. Jensen has been indignantly whipping his estate's majesty around the stump.

Blair, so the allegation goes, was a meat market dealer of skill and popularity, and so a year ago when another man bought him out he had entered in the contract a stipulation that Jensen should keep out of the meat business.

Soon a court order was invoked against Jensen on this ground and Judge Redick granted an injunction. Now, it is charged that Jensen has been adhering to the letter of the restraining order, but perhaps not its spirit.

How to Purify the Blood in the Spring

(From the National Home Monthly.) At this season of the year nearly every individual is afflicted with the accumulation of waste matter that results from the inactive life of winter. Spring fever, dullness, languidness, the disinclination to work or exercise—the general all-around run-down, "Oh, what's the use?" feeling—poor appetite, yellow complexion, liver blotches, pimples and eruptions of the skin—any and all of these symptoms indicate the need of a good blood tonic and liver invigorator. Get from your druggist one ounce of harden; dissolve the harden and 1/2 cup sugar in 1/2 pint alcohol and add enough hot water to make a full quart. This excellent tonic purifies and enriches the blood, arouses the liver, corrects deranged digestion, restores lost appetite, clears the skin and strengthens and builds up the entire system at a small cost. Take one tablespoonful five minutes before each meal and before retiring. If your druggist is out of harden, ask him to send it for you.—Adv.

Miss Glynn's Book Figures in Cronk Case

"Three Weeks" Read by Him to His Wife While She Lay Sick in Hospital.

That fervid novel, "Three Weeks," by Elmer Glynn, has made its appearance in the Cronk case. It was among the volumes reviewed a week ago by Mr. Cronk, and Mrs. Cronk declares in an affidavit that the book is hers.

"It was given to this affiant by the plaintiff," says Mrs. Cronk, "while she lay ill in the hospital and there read to her by him."

Mrs. Cronk mentions this in an affidavit filed Saturday to resist the plaintiff's motion to reduce her allowance of money as granted by the court. Her affidavit declares that she was ill when the property was packed up and that in error "the person who did the packing included several articles belonging to Mr. Cronk and Mr. Godfrey, owner of the house."

She had given orders, says the affidavit in substance, that these things were to be returned Monday last. These orders were not carried out, for Mr. Cronk on the Saturday before had reviewed the property.

Another item in the affidavit is a brass smoking set which Mrs. Cronk says she bought to give to her husband for a Christmas present, "but that plaintiff refused it, and thus it became the property of defendant."

Complaint is also made that a silver cup is now in her husband's possession. This cup is said to have belonged to Mrs. Cronk's great-great-grandfather, General Samuel Holden Parsons, who was on the staff of Washington.

"Mrs. Cronk may go to live in Council Bluffs," said one of her attorneys. She can get a cheaper and better room there. Saturday argument was to have been heard on the argument to motion to reduce Mrs. Cronk's suit money on the ground that she had not complied with the order of the court in the matter of the reviewed property. But the hearing has gone over to Wednesday, when Mrs. Cronk's attorneys will argue for more suit money and Mr. Cronk's for a smaller allowance.

Bids Coming In for Leal Purifying Plant

Proposals Are Being Received by the Omaha Water Company for Its Erection. Bids are now being received by the Omaha Water Company for the erection of the Leal water purifying plant to be put in for the use of chloride of lime.

Dr. John L. Leal sent on his plans in order to get the plant started as soon as possible. He will come himself later to inaugurate the system. The house at the Burt street station will be erected first, and will be a small brick building. The whole plant will cost the Water Company something like $10,000 when installed at the two pumping stations and the reservoir.

Dr. Millard Langfield, city bacteriologist, is now in the east looking into the working of the Leal system of purifying city water at points where it has been in operation for some time and where the results are being compared with those of the Leal system.

Health Commissioner Connell has had no word from the marine hospital service headquarters at Washington as to the coming of Dr. L. L. Lundeen, who has been assigned to investigate the situation here in Omaha. He is expected to drop in any day.

Garage Will Be Two Stories High

Building by Ford Motor Company Will Be Innovation for the Autos. A permit has been taken out and plans filed with the city building inspector for the new garage the Ford Motor company is to erect at Twentieth and Harney streets, on the corner adjoining the Independent Telephone company building on the west. This building will cost $28,000, according to the permit.

This garage is to mark a new departure, to a certain extent, in the line of garage construction. It will occupy the whole lot, being 60 by 127 feet in dimensions, two stories high. The street front will be made up largely of glass, with the faced columns, and over the alley end will have a great deal of glass, so that the lighting facilities will be of the best.

Ground is now broken for the foundation, and the construction will be rushed. It is claimed, and the plans seem to bear out the claim, that this will be the finest garage in the whole western country.

NEW BORN BABE INTO COURT

Child is Delivered to Judge Sutton Day After Birth.

Parentage Held in Secret. Mother Lives in Country Town Nearby—Balliff of Court Wants Option on the Lusty Youngster.

Bearing in her arms a baby born June twenty-four hours previous a woman walked into the court room of Judge Sutton and tendered him the infant. She had come to see the judge as head of the juvenile court.

Judge Sutton accepted wardship of the infant and sent for Rev. A. W. Clark, head of the Child Saving Institute and arranged with him to take the baby.

The woman who brought the child into court is not its mother. The baby was not born in Omaha, but in some small town within a few hours' journey of this city, though whether in Nebraska or Iowa is not certain.

Judge Sutton admits having received the baby and having made an investigation into the case, but will tell nothing else. The baby is a boy weighing ten pounds.

It will be given out for adoption and there will be many applicants for the child. One has been made already. Ezra Seida, balliff in Judge Sutton's court, has asked the refusal of the infant pending exchange of letters with his brother, Edward Fields of Palmyra. The balliff thinks his brother may wish to adopt the child. Disposition of the baby will be practically in the hands of Rev. Mr. Clark.

BOYS WITH HOSE SAVE BARN

Turn Water on Burning Building and Put Out Fire Making Rapid Headway.

Boys with a garden hose saved a barn this morning from destruction by fire at the rear of 2307 South Thirty-second street.

Fire broke out in the barn and was making rapid headway when it was discovered by some boys playing in the vicinity. They attached a garden hose to a faucet and played it upon the flames so successfully that the conflagration was soon under control.

The barn was owned by Patrick J. Murphy. The loss was slight.

This resolution was referred to the committee of the whole and will be discussed next week.

Mr. Bedford as chairman of the committee on construction of the court house and with the approval of his associates, asked Architect John Latenser to submit figures on plumbing, heating and ventilating apparatus at a lower cost. The matter will accordingly rest for a few days at least.
