General Manager Crowley of the Central, who had negotiated with the trainmen and conductors, joined in a statement tonight that, although a strike was undesirable it would be impossible to grant the unions demands . These, they estimated, would mean an increased expenditure of $1,000,000 a year between here and Buffalo. Even the counter proposition would cause an in crease approximately of $465,000 in the payroll. According to the counter proposition, the Central offers to increase the pay of sume line of action as that taken by the passenger conductors between New York strocious murder of Ruth Wheeler, a and Buffalo from $144 to $176 a month., Pro- stenographer, said tonight that on Wednes-

Speaker Cannon and denounced the movement against him in an address at the society of New York tonight. "Cannonism," he said, "is a hideous distortion thrown upon the screen of publicity by every 15-cent magazine and penny newspaper. The American people, seeing this distortion, cry 'down with Cannonism,' but they don't know what they are talking about. In all my travels up and down this land I have never been able to find a man who could define 'Cannonism.' "Cannon stands, after thirty-five years of service, the most intropid watchdog of the treasury that the United States has ever had. He was the most popular man in this country two years ago, and he is the same Cannon today."

W. Gould Brokaw, Millionaire Yachtaman, Held Responsible for Dressmakers' Accounts.

NEW YORK, March 29 .- To lose his wife by a court decree of separation and yet be held liable for her bills is the experience of W. Gould Brokaw, the millionaire yachtsman, whose wife recently won a separation and $20,000 annuity from him.

Two New York dressmakers sued Brokaw for $2,140 for gowns furnished Mrs. Brokaw from November 16, 1908, to January 21, 1909. Brokaw set up a defense that his wife received an allowance from him at that time and that the gowns were a luxury and not a necessity. He asked for an order to dismiss the suit, but Judge Putnam, at Mineola, L. L. today denied his motion and ordered the case put on the calendar.
