Home of Quality Clothes

Between You and Us

This is the best place in town for you to buy spring clothes

Your generous patronage has made this the greatest clothing store in this section of the country. Our methods have made you willing, even anxious, to make this store as great as it is. We set out to give you a clothing store equal to any in the country and superior to any in Omaha and a class of merchandise surpassed by no one—you have enabled us to "Deliver the goods."

About 75% of you volunteer complimentary remarks in our hearing—the other 25% make complimentary remarks about us to their friends. It is a great partnership—You and us—we strive to be of benefit to you—you make it possible for us to carry on the work.

When you set out to buy that new Spring Suit, you will fare better in a store that works with you than in one that works on you—you'll get better clothes, pay less for them, and enjoy more solid satisfaction out of them if you trade at a store that makes your satisfaction its chief concern.

Our Full Line of Spring Suits

is designed, primarily, to meet a diversified demand. We start our prices at $10—that represents a remarkable value. We raise the levels gradually to $85, at which price we sell the best clothes ever tailored. You can decide before leaving home just how much you will pay. Then you can come direct to this store, certain of being shown hundreds of sprightly styles from which you can easily choose. You can also rest secure in our guarantee to save you upwards of $3 to $5 on any suit you select—

$10.00 to $85.00

A Top, Rain or Slip-On Coat

For any sort of weather condition. One of each is the proper thing, to be sure, but if you are going to buy but one you can decide upon the coat of most service to you. Your choice is immaterial to us. We've all kinds and lots of them. What concerns us most and ought to concern you fully as much, is whether you will drop into the first place you come to and buy a coat, or whether you will make a determined and successful effort to get a satisfactory coat by coming here.

Top and Raincoats, up from $10 Slip-ons, at $5.00 to $25.00

Our Popular Priced Suits for Men & Young Men

Perhaps three-fourths of our suit sales are at $15 $20 and $25. Those are our most popular prices. The reason is simplicity, itself. First—the cloth from which they are tailored is more like the fine English fabrics than any on the market. Second—they are of proper weight and tailored to stay right. Third—they fully reveal our determined efforts to go a step further in value giving. These things and our almost limitless variety make this the most logical place to buy if your suit expenditure is to be—

$15, $20 or $25

One-Minute Store Talk
 "I've been a month buying that suit," said a man the other day. "I bought a suit here a year ago and this year I thought I'd look around—I've been looking for a month in every store in town, but I couldn't be suited anywhere but here." Men who have only a limited amount of time to devote to clothes buying should consider—that what it took all the stores in town a month to fail to do for this man we accomplished in 25 minutes.

LINCOLN'S TASTE IN JOKES

Comedian Who Expressed Hope of Wet Town Gets Call Down.

CENSORSHIP NEXT ON PROGRAM

Senator Fries Continues Still Hunt for Support of Candidacy for Governor—Shumway Calls Upon Governor.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
 LINCOLN, April 1.—(Special.)—It is very probable that managers of the theaters in Lincoln will have to employ a censor for plays, according to an evening paper here, there has been a lot of kicking over the jokes of an Orpheum monologist during the week. According to the story published, this comedian tickled the crowd by saying that it is a hard matter to get a drink in Lincoln and then expressed the hope that things would be fixed differently before the next week.

According to the evening paper this was an affront to the good temperance people of Lincoln and forthwith an objection was filed with the manager of the theater. The manager responded by commanding the comedian to cut out these objectionable remarks, then through a misapprehension greeted the "hope" of the comedian. The intimation was made in the article published that if the comedians dare to create laughs with such "hopes" a boycott will follow.

The matter may be settled by the city council appointing a special committee to pass on all jokes sprung in public in the city.

Two Associations Discuss Professional Matters—Address by Chancellor

Avery and Prof. Crabtree.

The first day's session of the Southeastern Nebraska Educational association opened here yesterday with an enrollment of 500.

Chancellor Avery was the first speaker on the program, his subject being "Higher Education and Higher Ideals." His address clearly showed some of the present-day tendencies in colleges and universities throughout the country.

Prof. N. M. Graham of South Omaha spoke regarding "The Association," its value, its true aim, etc., giving many helpful ideas. "Results of Normal Training," by State Superintendent Bishop of Lincoln, was an address of great practical value and contained some interesting statistics.

At the afternoon session papers were read by Miss Eldie Scott of Fairbury and Superintendent J. A. Woodward of Havelock. Prof. J. W. Crabtree of Peru and Chancellor W. J. Davidson of Nebraska Wesleyan university followed with addresses. Prof. Crabtree spoke on "The Ethics of the Profession" and Chancellor Davidson on "The Call of the Twentieth Century."

A reception was tendered the visiting teachers in the Commercial club rooms from 5 to 6 o'clock. In the evening Montaville Flowers, the impersonator, entertained a large crowd in the high school.

The Southeastern Nebraska Educational association closed its annual meeting here this afternoon by the action of these officers: President R. C. Harris of Fairbury; vice president C. E. Tead of University Place; secretary, Julietta G. Rawles of Beatrice; treasurer, E. K. Hurst of Falls City. Executive committee: B. E. Dill of Wildcat; George Martin of Nebraska City. CRAWFORD, Neb., April 1.—(Special.)—The annual session of the Northwest Nebraska Teachers' association convened at Crawford March 28 and 29. A strong program was arranged, but owing to the blizzard on Tuesday the meeting was not well attended. Dr. Beattie of Coe university gave two lectures which made a good impression on all teachers present.

One feature of the meeting was the resolutions passed censuring the North State School Review for its insinuating remarks against Prof. J. W. Seaton and President Crabtree of Peru. The same thing was done at Bridgeport last week.

Officers elected for the ensuing year are: President, A. F. Becker of Harrison; vice president, E. P. Wilson of Chadron; secretary, Carrie Munkres of Chadron; treasurer, Superintendent Sterret of Rushville.

Star Route Carrier Between Broken Bow and Round Valley Has Unusual Experience.

BROKEN BOW, Neb., April 1.—(Special.)—Del Nash, a star route mail carrier between here and Round Valley, had a fiery adventure yesterday that resulted in the loss of his mail cart and its contents. Nash was returning from Round Valley with the mail to be delivered at the Broken Bow postoffice. As he reached the neighborhood of Elton, about fifteen miles north east of here, he suddenly felt an intense heat at his back. Turning he discovered the interior of the cart a mass of flames. The wind was blowing a gale and he had only time to jump from his seat and cut the horses loose. The blazing wagon set fire to the prairie, but as it was near some stock corral the flames spent themselves without doing much outside damage. With the exception of one package of letters the mail was totally destroyed. Upon arriving in town with his two horses Nash delivered the few letters he had to Postmaster Houghton, reported the loss of the bulk of the mail and declared himself to be completely in the dark as to the origin of the fire.

Harry Wright, another rural free delivery man, had his mail wagon pretty well demolished today by an automobile belonging to John McGraw of this place. Wright had stopped at the farm of Arthur Farmer, ten miles northeast, and was making a money order when the rear-end collision occurred.

NEEDS OF SMALL CHURCHES WILL BE TOPIC AT GIBBON

LOUP CITY, Neb., March 31.—(Special.)—A Presbytery conference will be held April 14 at Gibbon, at the close of the regular spring meeting of the Kearney presbytery, devoted to topics of special interest to pastors of small churches. The presbytery includes a very large section of the state lying north of the Platte river, has a large number of small town and country churches and, like many other sections of the middle west, has its particular problems. Dr. Warren H. Wilson of New York City is a specialist on the country church, and is now engaged in holding a series of conferences, of which the Gibbon conference for Kearney presbytery is one.

Alleged Russell Brothers Meet

California and North Dakota Claimants to Massachusetts Estate Do Not Know Each Other.

BOSTON, April 1.—"This man is not my brother," was the declaration said to have been made by William C. Russell after a four-hour talk yesterday with the man from Fresno, Cal., who claims he is Daniel Blake Russell, son of the late Daniel Russell of Melrose.

The Californian had endeavored to show that he, and not a man from Dickinson, N. D., who claims to be the same Daniel Blake Russell, is heir to the $700,000 estate of Daniel Russell.

William Russell and the Californian met in an attorney's office yesterday. The others present were Mrs. Edward Avery of Chicago, who knew Daniel B. Russell in childhood; Miss Sarah E. Almy, cousin of and housekeeper for William C. Russell; Ferdinand B. Almy, her brother, a co-executor of the estate; Thomas W. Proctor, John K. Berry and Eugene C. Upton, attorneys for the estate, and William Odlin and George W. Cartwright, the new claimant's lawyers.

State Senator Cartwright of California introduced his client to William Russell as "Your brother, Daniel Blake Russell."

The claimant then told his story and was asked numerous questions. He finally asked William Russell to identify him as his long lost brother, but the latter only shook his head.

When the interview was over, the Fresno man left the office in an exhausted condition. It was then that William Russell was said to have stated the man was not his brother.

Solution of Moody Mystery

Coroner and Police Say All Facts in Connection with Baker's Death Are at Hand.

CHICAGO, April 1.—A complete solution of the mystery surrounding the alleged poisoning and death of Alexander J. Moody, the Chicago pie baker, is in sight, according to statements made today by Coroner Hoffman and Assistant Chief of Police Schuetler.

This promise is based on facts said to have been unearthed by relatives of the decedent and by the police recently, the nature of which for the time being is kept secret.

Numerous theories have been advanced to account for the baker's death, including murder, suicide due to ill health and suicide due to blackmail.

Experts have testified that, in any event, it was due to arsenic concealed in hamburger steak which Mr. Moody ate on the day of his death.

STREET CAR FARES RAISED

Des Moines City Railway Company Stops Selling Tickets Six for a Quarter.

DES MOINES, Ia., April 1.—Official announcement was made today by the Des Moines City Railway company that the practice of selling six street car fares for a quarter is discontinued, owing to the recent increase in wages granted the men and increased cost of operation.

Thrown from Train, Dead.

CHICAGO, April 1.—Walter M. Smith, salesman for a St. Louis cement company, said to have been injured yesterday while being ejected from a passenger train at the Sixty-third street station, after refusing to pay his fare, died in the United States hospital today. Smith's skull is said to have been fractured in the fight with members of the train crew.

Wall Boosts Fries.

Senators Fries in his address of encouragement in his address for the republican nomination for governor, said John Wall of Arcadia, who was here on business yesterday. Mr. Fries announced his candidacy some time ago and since that time he has received assurances of support from practically every part of the state. Senator Fries served two terms in the state senate and in both he was an active and influential member. When he announced his candidacy for governor Mr. Fries said he was for county option, but before he would sign a county option bill passed by a legislature, his friends say the bill will have to be a fair and square measure. Mr. Fries was in Lincoln attending the laymen's missionary meeting some time ago and at that time he met many republicans who gave him assurance. While here Mr. Fries said: "I am not sure that a majority of the voters are for county option, and neither am I certain that a majority of the republican party favors county option, but I favor county option and believing, as I do, I shall support county option during the campaign. I could not conscientiously do otherwise."

Collections by Secretary.

The fees collected by the secretary of state during the month of March amounted to $2,304.10. Of this amount $1,001 was paid for automobile licenses and renewals; articles of incorporation, $2,142.50; notary commissions, $10; brands, $4; certificates, $15.90; trade marks, $1.

Opinion on Certificate.

The language used on the E certificate issued by the State Board of Optometry, in the opinion of Grant Martin, deputy attorney general is "objectionable in the extreme." On the E certificate the board has printed in red letters, "The board does not guarantee the competency of the holder of this certificate." It is issued without examination in compliance with the law. This practically forces optometrists to take the examination and pay the board the $25 fee instead of the $5.

After a number of complaints had reached the governor he took up the matter with the legal department of state and Mr. Martin today replied to the letter from the executive office as follows, setting out just what this board can do and what it cannot do under the law:

"This certificate has printed upon it, in red ink, and also stamped upon it with an ordinary rubber stamp, the words, 'The board does not guarantee the competency of the holder of this certificate.' It is issued without examination in compliance with the law. Many of the licensees have taken exception to these words and the

Miss Emma Christine Tagger of Hall County First Refused, then Suicide.

GRAND ISLAND, Neb., April 1.—(Special Telegram.)—Miss Emma Christine Tagger, aged 20, was found dead in a shed at the farm home, ten miles from this city, this morning. During the night she arose took the shotgun and, going to the shed, discharged it into her side, pulling the trigger with her toe. She had not been well and melancholia is presumed to be the cause. No one heard the shot, nor had she given the slightest indication of the thought of taking her own life.

The judges were A. F. Becker, superintendent of Sioux county; A. F. Story, superintendent of Cherry county, and City Superintendent Bettinger of Valentine. Chadron won. Previous to this Gordon had defeated Rushville and Chadron had defeated Crawford.

Chadron will meet at Gordon, April 12, for the final contest for the honor of representing the Big Six at Lincoln. Chadron will now change positions, taking the negative, hoping to take its choice of sides at Lincoln.
