NEW MAIL CARS FOR OMAHA

Street Car Company to Install Four to Take the Place of Wagons.

MUCH TIME WILL BE SAVED

Cars to Run To and From Depots, as Well as to Substations and Benson and South Omaha.

Four white mail cars will be traveling the streets of Omaha after July 1 to take the place of the screened wagons now seen gathering mail from the boxes and hauling the mail sacks to and from the depots. Arrangements and contracts for this service were entered into Friday morning with the Omaha & Council Bluffs Street Railway company. The new street railway postal cars will be white and will do all the service now performed by the screened mail wagons between the depots, the main postoffice and substations, Benson and South Omaha.

J. W. Maaten of Washington, D. C., assistant superintendent of the railway mail service, has been in Omaha for the last ten days in conference with Postmaster R. S. Thomas and the street railway company completing details for the new service, which will be entered into upon the expiration of the present screened mail wagon service contract June 30.

The new service will effect a saving of time of about half an hour between the depots and the postoffice and the substations. The depot cars will make regular trips all night and seven trips during the day. During the rush hours three mail clerks will be employed on the cars and two clerks during the ordinary service.

To Collect Enroute.

In addition to conveying the mail to and from the depots, the new cars will also collect mail enroute. Large mail boxes painted white will be placed at principal points about the city and important street corners along the street railway lines for the deposit of mail which will be gathered up by the postal cars. It is the further intention to distribute the bulkier mail enroute, particularly in the jobbing districts, and at the same points that the mails have been heretofore collected and delivered by the special wagons. The cars will also be utilized for distributing mails in out of the way sections.

Street car tracks will be built at the rear of the main postoffice to expedite the assembling and delivery of the mails to and from the depots. A spur will be run from the Dodge street line through the alleyway at the Seventeenth street side of the postoffice and will extend to connect with the Sixteenth street line by way of Capitol avenue.

Not to Council Bluffs.

The postal car service will be utilized only in Omaha, Benson and South Omaha and will not be extended to Council Bluffs for the present. The postal cars will be built especially for this service with doors at either end and a large door in the center to facilitate the handling of the mails.

Postmaster Thomas has been laboring to secure this service for several months, an outline of which was given in The Bee several weeks ago when Mr. Maaten made his first visit here to interest the street railway company in the matter. The contract with the street railway was signed Friday morning at 11 o'clock. The initial cost of the new service will be about $10,000.

The annual cost of the old screen wagon service was about $20,000, and the new service will cost but a trifle more, while the saving in time will be of incalculable value.

Woman Assailant of Lawyer Goes to Sanitarium

Mrs. Grace Hutten's Attack on Husband and Judge Slabaugh Attributed to Nervous Wreck.

Mrs. Grace Hutten, the woman who attacked her husband, Dr. Jesse Howard Hutten, and former Judge W. W. Slabaugh Thursday afternoon will be sent to a sanitarium at once, according to a statement by Mrs. Hutten's attorney, Leodore Ziegler. Mr. Ziegler is disposed to make allowance for the assault on the ground that Mrs. Hutten is a nervous wreck.

"I shall not take offense when announcing the assault," said Judge Slabaugh. "It happened outside the court room. Of course, if an affidavit in the matter were tendered I should have to rule upon it. I am sorry Judge Slabaugh was struck."

"Would it be different if the court had been assaulted?" Judge Slabaugh was asked. "Yes, that would be different," said the judge. "I suppose I'd have to take official notice of the matter then."

"I'm glad it was Slabaugh and not me," said Silas Robbins, co-counsel with the former district judge for Dr. Hutten. Mr. Robbins did not walk out of the court room with his client, as did Judge Slabaugh, but lingered. Thus he escaped being mixed up in the melee.

Mrs. Hutten is living with her mother, Mrs. Lucy Morris, 299 Sherman avenue. Mrs. Morris will undertake to have her daughter sent to the sanitarium. Judge Slabaugh expressed the hope that the couple might yet be reconciled, but Dr. Hutten since the assault is less inclined to this than ever.

SOLVED PROBLEM OF LIVING

Trio of Foragers Surprised at Box Car Banquet Get Board at City Jail.

The cost of living may be high, but that depends largely on how one lives. The police and Judge Crawford had this subject of thought upon them, to a degree of enlightenment in the case of three prisoners Friday morning. It developed that the three prisoners had found a way to live in fine style absolutely free of any cost.

"Your honor, I found these fellows having a banquet around an old stove in a freight car," announced Special Officer Roley, by way of introducing the defendants. The policeman further explained that he had noticed the men at various times during the last two weeks wandering about the railroad yards, and had finally discovered their freight car apartment. "I figure they've been eating and sleeping in the daytime and perging at night," said the policeman. The prisoners, giving the names of J. W. Clark, Frank Laughlin and J. H. Brown were sentenced to five days in jail each. Their stove was confiscated.

ROAD PLAYS TAG WITH CITY

Burlington Evades Mandamus by Being Railroad, Not Railway.

NO SERVICE, SAYS HOLDREGE

Affidavit of General Manager that Defendant Corporation Named in Writ of Mandamus is Not in Existence.

Once more has confusion over the name of the Burlington been seized upon as a defense in court by that line. Before Judge Sutton Friday attorneys for the road submitted an affidavit by George W. Holdrege, general manager, that the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railway is not an existent corporation in Nebraska, owns no property in this state and has no officers in this jurisdiction. The question came up on the suit of the city of Omaha for a writ of mandamus compelling the construction of a viaduct at Thirtieth and Bancroft streets. The Burlington is making a special appearance, arguing that the corporation jurisdiction because the official corporation here has not been served.

It is the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad—not railway—which is the company upon which service should be obtained, say attorneys for the road. The "railway" company is an Iowa corporation organized to act as lessee when the Northern Securities company was in existence. When the supreme court dissolved that merger, operation of the Burlington lines went back into the legal control of the "railroad" company.

The railroad company has secured the dismissal of damage suits thus improperly brought in the past and the technicality may serve in the present case, although the matter can undoubtedly be remedied by the plaintiff in time.

When the special appearance matter came up before Judge Sutton, Assistant City Attorney Dunn asked time to make a counter showing and was given until Tuesday.

Other roads named as defendants in the viaduct mandamus suit have not as yet indicated what line of defense they will put up to the court.

JOY RIDERS TAKE AUTOS

Two Machines Used Without Permission of Owners and Yet Lost.

Joy riders are continuing their operations in the city, two automobiles being taken last night without the knowledge or permission of their owners. Stephen Tobin of Denver, who is stopping at the Her Grand, went to call on some friends at 436 Farnam street and when he left the house he discovered that his machine was gone. Its number is 372, Colorado.

The other auto belonged to W. M. Hanschett of Council Bluffs and it disappeared while he was in the Young Women's Christian association building. It is registered No. 883, Iowa.

ADDITION TO "GASOLINE ROW"

T. L. Kimball Estate Will Erect Another Garage to Cost Close to Ten Thousand Dollars.

The T. L. Kimball estate will soon start the construction of a new automobile garage on Farnam street, opposite the present location of R. R. Kimball, who will also occupy the new building. The structure will be 60x120 feet on the ground, and will cost in the neighborhood of $10,000. It will be one-story in height, of the most approved style for a modern automobile storehouse and showroom.

Eight Victims of Burglars in Less Than a Day

Crafty Thieves Make Things Lively for the Police, with One Arrest to Date.

The burglar fraternity had a big day Thursday. Thursday noon and Friday morning eight jobs were pulled off, which netted the plunderers $23.50.

Those who were victims and the amounts stolen are:
Mrs. Davis, 102 Howard street, $30 cash.
Mrs. Cayon, Creighton pharmacy, Fourth and Evansport, purse and $2.

Mrs. Charles Saunders, 706 North Eighteenth street, $5 cash and $25 in jewelry.

Le. L. Taylor, 104 North Fifteenth street, overcoat and shoes valued at $15.
Harry Blackwell, Cahn building, trousers valued at $5.
Detectives Murphy and Ring Friday afternoon arrested G. A. Gaines of 615 South Fifteenth street, who has been identified as the man who took $50 from Mrs. Davis, 102 Howard street.

COUNTRY LIFE REVIVAL BY AID OF THE CHURCHES

Four Meetings in Nebraska This Month to Boost "Back to the Farm" Idea.

Revival of country life is announced as the object of four public meetings which are to be held under the auspices of the synod of Nebraska churches in four different towns during April. Leaders of the movement to turning citizens toward farming declare the meetings will be effective in reaching the people through the churches.

It is claimed that Nebraska is primarily a farming state, but that a large proportion of the people have fallen away from the industry. The meetings will be held one each in Omaha, Lincoln, Gibson and Norfolk. "The Religion of the Breadwinner" will be one of the subjects. "Getting a Living in the Country" is the subject of Dr. Warren H. Wilson's address, and Dean E. A. Burnett will speak on "Changes in Agricultural Life and Effect upon the Country Church."

LATE CITY BRIEFS

Federal Grand Jury to Report—The federal grand jury will submit a partial report this evening and will then adjourn until next Tuesday. The cases to be reported Friday evening will be largely indictments for bootlegging and two or three minor postoffice cases.

Admitted to Practice—Joseph R. Wells of Omaha has been admitted to practice before the Nebraska federal courts.

Federal Courts Take a Rest—There being no cases ready for trial, the federal petit jury was excused Friday morning until 9:30 a. m. Tuesday.

TEN DISTRICTS ARE COUNTED

Commercial Club's Boy Enumerators to End Canvass Saturday.

WORKING WITH INTERPRETERS

Confusion of Tongues in Industrial Section Forces One Youth to Employ Assyrian to Do His Talking.

Ten out of ninety districts of the Omaha Commercial club's census have been covered by the eighty-eight boys who are making the enumeration. The count is to be completed by Saturday night.

The scouring of the city and the prying into every nook and cranny for the people by the enthusiastic youngsters has led them into many tangles. Linguistic difficulties so overcome one youth working down along the river in the industrial settlements that he engaged the services of a little boy of ten, reared in the community, as an interpreter.

The Assyrian folk are hard to convince that the many questions of the young enumerators has no ulterior significance, and in some of the foreign colonies the count takers have been put to rout.

"Got any brass knucks?" asked one of the eighty-five boys calling at the Commercial club publicity bureau Friday morning. "I found some fellows yesterday that don't want to be counted."

Totals from two of the ninety districts, representing highly varied conditions, illustrate the varying degree of density in the Omaha population. District No. 2, bounded by the south side of Douglas street, the north side of Leavenworth, Twelfth street on the west and the river on the east, contains but 344 persons. The district extending from the east side of Twelfth street to the west side of Twentieth and the north of Farnam street to the south side of Dodge street, an area of about eight blocks, has a population of 1,747.

Witness Wants Pay in Advance

Woman Decides She Knows Nothing About Charge of Water Throwing with No Fee in Sight.

"Don't they pay the witness fees before the trial?" Mrs. R. O. Duncan, a witness for Mrs. Mary Ruebling, who said she was nearly drowned by two balls of water several days ago, asked the question. "No, they don't," Judge Crawford answered.

"Well, I really don't know anything about this case, your honor," said Mrs. Duncan as she hastily looked round the police court for a vacant seat.

The incident transpired at the trial of Mrs. Lizale Weisenburg, 303 South Twenty-seventh street, Friday morning, under a charge of having thrown the water that was said to have damaged Mrs. Ruebling.

What with the evaporation of Mrs. Duncan's testimony and the weight of counter evidence submitted by Mrs. Weisenburg, Judge Crawford found grounds to dismiss the latter without prejudice. The police suffered some surprise when they found Mrs. Ruebling on hand to prosecute the case. The woman had taken her children and ostensibly left the city Thursday, according to reports which called off the case on that day.

Corroborating portions of the testimony showed that Mrs. Ruebling had originally sought the home of Mrs. Weisenburg and had set up a strenuous demand for her children. Arguing that the children were not in the house Mrs. Weisenburg resorted to a pail and the water in ordering her visitor away, said the witness.

Special Low Rate for Saengerfest

Western Passenger Association Offers Fare and Half for Trip to the Omaha Musical Festival.

The Commercial club has been notified that a one and one-half fare will be made on all railroads in the Western Passenger association territory for the Northwest Saengerfest, which will be held in Omaha July 20 to 24. This is the first time a rate as low as this has been made since the adoption of the 2-cent rate in many of the states in the middle west. It offers encouragement to those in Omaha interested in the big fest to be held this summer. It is expected that the low rate will induce at least 2,000 people from all of the middle west states to be present.

It is also expected that a similar rate will be made by the railroads for the Ad Club convention, which will be held in June.

GALLANT SECURES CONVICTION

Man Who Defended Women Against Approaches of Rosters Testifies Against Them in Court.

With a story of how he had come to the assistance of a young woman and her aged mother and had successfully fought with four men, C. A. Sommers caused the conviction of one of his adversaries in police court Friday morning. Karl Muhllicka, one of a trio of Muhllickas living at 200 South Eighteenth street, received a fine of $25 and costs for the disturbance.

"There were four of them, your honor," testified Sommers. "When I heard them insulting the ladies I went up and asked them to apologize. Well, then the fight started. They came at me so fast I had to lean against a telephone pole." Judge Crawford thought Karl Muhllicka had been the principal disturber, and let the others go.

Friday is Day Off for D. Cupid

Marriage Market Receipts Reported Light by Clerk Charles Furry, County License Broker.

"The marriage market is dull on Friday," said License Clerk Charles Furry, surveying two names which appeared on the record for the day. These were in contrast to eighteen of Wednesday and a few less Thursday.

"Some people have a religious feeling against nuptials on the sixth day of the week and others think it unlucky."

Mr. Furry has been engaged in a little ethnological research into recent marital records and he finds that, judging nationally by names, the Bohemians are furnishing the greatest number of brides and bridegrooms. Italians will come in a close second, with all others away back in the rack.

Omaha continues to be a veritable mecca for couples from small towns in western and southwestern Iowa who come here to get married largely for the sake of the trip and to see the city. "Also they get away from fool friends, I suppose," said Mr. Furry.

FOUR GO TO FEDERAL PRISON

United States Marshal Warner Takes Three from Omaha and One from Lincoln.

Charles D. Hubbard and Herbert P. Richardson, sentenced to one year and one day in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, and Pasquale Maazoo, who drew a thirteen months' sentence Thursday for assisting to be a Black Hand artist, will be taken to Leavenworth Saturday by United States Marshal Warner to enter upon their terms of imprisonment. They will be joined here by George Brown, colored, of Nebraska City, who will be brought down from Lincoln to complete the remaining two years of his four years' sentence at Leavenworth for robbing the mails at Nebraska City. Brown was sentenced to the Lincoln penitentiary before the federal prison at Leavenworth had been designated as the place of confinement for federal prisoners sentenced in the Nebraska federal district.
