corporations which might prevent further abuses of power.

"People who had for years been clamoring for greater publicity in the affairs of corporations and for government supervision became highly indignant when they found that their own particular corporations were required to make returns as well as their neighbors. What they wanted was publicity for others, and not for themselves," he exclaimed.

Gets Deserving Credit.

The attorney general declared that the work of the tariff commission is meeting the appreciation it deserves and said it provided the best and most careful investigation of facts for future revision of the tariff. He read a resolution endorsing the commission recently appointed by the board of directors of the National Tariff Commission association.

The president's special messages, Mr. Wickensham addressed, contained amendments to the interstate commerce law, federal incorporation, postal savings banks, uniform safety appliances on railroad trains, changes to make the employers liability act more easy to enforce, intelligent conservation laws, readjustment of mail rates and revision of the customs laws. The president had placed before congress for enactment into law, he declared, all those measures which the republican party had pledged itself to adopt, and if congress should adjourn without enacting them, then upon congress and not the president, rested the responsibility for the breach of faith.

Program Will Go Through.

But Mr. Wickensham expressed his conviction that the president's program would go through.

"I am firmly persuaded that these measures will not fail," he said, "and that despite the efforts of individuals to magnify their own patriotic importance at the expense of party loyalty and party honor, the republican majority in congress will make good the party pledges and give to the country the benefit of that legislation the party has promised and which the president has so clearly and so forcefully outlined."

Economies of the expense of conducting the government the speaker discussed exhaustively. For the first time in the history of the country, he said, a comprehensive budget had been prepared dealing with estimated expenditures and the means of raising money to defray them. The fiscal year ending in June, 1911, would see a saving of more than $4,000,000 over 1910, and $5,000,000 less than the appropriations for the latter year.

"There has never been such a reduction in the history of the government," he said, "nor is there any record of any effort by any other administration to reduce department heads and their budgets. The work of the departments he reviewed, saying the navy had suffered from frequent change of secretaries; proposed changes in legislation for the Department of the Interior he endorsed; the census work in the Department of Commerce and Labor he sketched briefly, and then he touched on the work of the Department of Justice.

Mr. Wickensham referred to the prosecution of sugar frauds in New York, pointing to forty-eight convictions and only one acquittal by a jury, as well as the collection of more than $1,500,000 in back duties by the government.

Issue in Oil Case.

The Standard Oil and tobacco cases in the supreme court of the United States he referred to particularly, however, and declared they constituted the most comprehensive attempt ever made by the government to deal with the question of monopoly.

"In effect," declared the attorney general with great emphasis on the word "effect," "they involve the question whether or not the entire industries of this country may be legally controlled by one group of men."

"It is not to be inferred that it is the intention of the republican party to put any check upon the natural and legitimate development of business enterprises either through individual or corporate organization."

"But it certainly has been its fixed purpose since the enactment of the Sherman law in 1890 to prevent the perversion of laws of corporate organization through incorporation stockholdings to the accomplishment of schemes of monopoly."

"It is not essential to American progress or American prosperity that one group of men shall control the entire business of the United States in Oil, in sugar, or iron or any other commodity, and no sound principle of economic law is offended by striking down all such artificial combinations."

When he had finished reading the administration's campaign against corruption, the attorney general said:

"All these represent the determined policy of the government to attack all special privileges and undue preferences, whether obtained by illegal combinations, by bribing public officials, by rebates or special advantages in transportation or by any other method."

Call to Republicans.

"Is it not true that all those who call themselves republicans should stop coquetting with the democratic party; should sink their individual preferences about the details of legislation and join with republican workers in carrying to fruition under our great, patient, candid, wise republican president the work of clinching the reforms of the last eight years on the lines so carefully and so wisely laid down in the platform of 1908."

"Wise legislation, embodying no sudden impulses, but maturely expressed in party council, is pressed for enactment. When the account is cast and the people weigh them in the balance at the last election, who will find most favor? They who stood shoulder to shoulder with the president in carrying out the party pledges, or those who, true to their principles, are being credited in the fabric sometimes with one, sometimes with the other, and in the end was cast out and scorned by both."

"So, gentlemen, in responding to your toast, 'The Administration,' I have endeavored briefly to indicate the principles upon which the president and his advisers have been working and some of the results they have accomplished. I can say heartily for all my colleagues that they are a body of very loyal, very sincere gentlemen, who are striving to serve the people with a single minded devotion, true to republican principles and loyal to the president, whom one and all of them enthusiastically love and admire."

LEADING IOWA MAN IS DEAD

Captain J. G. Hutchinson Expires at Home in Ottumwa.

WIFE DIES OF BROKEN HEART

Mrs. O. T. Denton of Mason City Follows Husband to Grave—Miners Ready with Demand for Increase.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

DES MOINES, April 9.—(Special Telegram.)—Captain J. G. Hutchinson of Ottumwa died there this afternoon after a short illness.

He was one of the best known and most prominent veterans. He served in the state senate twenty-five years ago which gave him the republican nomination for governor in 1891, when he was defeated by Boies.

At Mason City today Mrs. O. T. Denton died suddenly, following the death of her husband who died on Thursday. The widow had been in ill health, but unquestionably she died of a broken heart because of the demise of her husband, who was a prominent banker.

After a week of labor on the part of the state miners' convention but little has been accomplished besides agreeing upon terms of the demands upon the operators. It is understood that when the joint convention of miners and operators meets Monday the miners will demand a 10 per cent raise and reduction of rents on houses. The operators would concede a 5 per cent increase, but not more.

A strong movement was started today by students for the purpose of raising $25,000 for a medical school of Drake university. The university board had announced it would abandon the medical school owing to the higher standard required for colleges.

The State Railroad commission today promulgated rules for denials of railroads which were adopted at the national convention of the commissioners in Washington last winter. These make but little change in the custom of Iowa railroads and the opposition of the Iowa manufacturers has been withdrawn.

In Charge of Campaign.

Robert J. Fleming of Des Moines, one of the best known business men of the state, has been placed in charge of the progressive campaign, which will be vigorous from beginning to end. Plans for the campaign have been thoroughly made and the organization is far more complete than any which Mr. Carroll will be able to call to his aid, at least in the beginning of the campaign. It is hinted that he will not be able to call to his support the recently organized standstill club, as many of its members are hostile to the present governor personally. He will have the support of the national republican committee, which may not be a matter of strength in a state as thoroughly centralized as Iowa.

Newspaper Owner to Wed.

Announcement was made today of the approaching marriage of Lafayette Young, Jr., business manager of the Des Moines Daily Capital, to Miss Virginia McArthur. Mr. Young is president of the Greater Des Moines committee and is one of the most aggressive of the younger men of the city. He has been business manager of the Capital for the last five years. Miss McArthur is the daughter of W. C. McArthur, clerk of the United States district court for Iowa. The wedding will take place in the late spring.

Would Buy Water Plant.

Mayor Hanna today announced a vigorous campaign towards the purchase of the city water works plant by the city at the expiration of its franchise a year hence. He was elected on a municipal ownership platform and has started out to make good his pre-election pledges. Des Moines is paying 30 cents per 1,000 gallons for water at the present time, a higher price than any other of its size is paying.

No Slot Machines or Gambling.

Des Moines will not go back to the days of slot machines and gambling. The official announcement of this was made by Chief of Police Yeager after a long consultation with Councilman Roe, head of the department. Following the election of Roe, with its defeat of Hanery, the liberal element believed that they had won a notable victory in the city, but the ultimatum of the heads of the public safety department would indicate that Des Moines is to remain on the subdued map for some time to come.

Councilman Roe is at odds with the other members of the city council over Night Chief Ab Day. Roe wished to reduce the captain to the ranks, but the signal ability he has displayed in the eight years of his office has won for him the support of the force object to lowering his grade. Day has long been considered the most efficient officer on the force.

Buy Large Tract.

Jansen Haines, manager of the Des Moines Gas company, and A. C. Miller, president of the Home Savings bank, today purchased ninety-one acres of ground, which the city limits of Des Moines, the consideration being $15,000. The ground has been used as a cornfield for years. It will be platted and sold as residence lots in the near future. It is situated just west of the state fair grounds.

Baker is Swamped.

The final attempt of the Baker forces in the Iowa mine workers' ranks to lance their man in the office of secretary of the association ended today when Secretary Frank Cameron was re-elected by a vote of 213 to 98. The association spent the day in routine business with the exception of the fight. The operators met at the mine in the morning and expressed the belief that they would be able to come to an agreement with the miners in short order after the meeting of the joint scale committee, which will begin its operations next Monday.

Sell Base Ball Tickets.

One hundred men are canvassing the business districts of Des Moines to sell base ball tickets for the first game of the season. The movement is in the hands of the Booster club of the city. Both years Mr. Higgins has been owner of the team and he has been the most successful in attempting to start him out with a $5,000 nest egg as the receipts of the first game of the season.

Will Fight Dolliver Also.

Prominent standpatters in the city made the announcement following Garst's message to the republicans of the state today that they would carry the fight against progressives and standpatters into the next senatorial campaign and attempt to place Governor B. F. Carroll in the chair of Senator Dolliver. The standpatters figure that if they can win with Carroll at this time they will be able to win the senatorial toga two years hence.

Big Time for Stock Growers.

ALLIANCE, Neb., April 9.—(Special Telegram.)—The Nebraska Stock Growers' association convention, which is held yearly in this city in June, has been deferred until July 5, 6 and 7, and the citizens committee today secured $3,000, with more promised, to make the three days a continuous celebration of such kind that it will be the main event in northwest Nebraska. The features and program are now along the sunny slopes of the Ligurian Alps from Spezia to Rapallo.

Half an hour after the arrival of Colonel Roosevelt the prefect and the mayor of Genoa called on him and greeted him in the name of the municipality. Tonight Colonel Roosevelt and his wife dined quietly at their hotel.

Continues by Railroad.

The Roosevelt will continue their journey by train to Porto Maurizio, where they will visit Miss Carey. Mrs. Roosevelt's sister, who has a beautiful villa near the town of Porto Maurizio, has planned elaborate festivities in honor of the ex-president, but chief interest in his three days' stay at the Carew villa will be the visit there on Monday to see Colonel Roosevelt of Clifford Pinchot, former chief forester of the United States Department of Agriculture. It is already quite certain, however, that the visit of Mr. Pinchot will not be followed by any of the sensational developments that evidently are expected in some quarters.

Colonel Roosevelt has announced in advance that he will have nothing to say of the latter day of his trip.

He continues to maintain the silence on political affairs he brought back with him from the heat of Africa. He has kept a perfectly open mind while being posted upon what transpired during his absence and with regard to the present actual political situation some. Without bias he is ready to listen to and hear.

Interview with Pinchot.

Accordingly Colonel Roosevelt willingly acceded to Mr. Pinchot's request for an interview and during it Mr. Pinchot is expected to explain in detail his side of the series of events that led up to his dismissal by President Taft as chief of the forest service. In this connection, Colonel Roosevelt expects to see other friends, both in Europe and America.

Colonel Roosevelt continues to express regret over the inability of United States Senator Elihu Root to come to Europe to meet him and from the senator he would have been able to obtain a sympathetic exposition of the administration's side of affairs, with which it is believed he lost touch while in Africa.

It is said that by letter or otherwise, since he returned to civilization, Colonel Roosevelt has had from ardent supporters and admirers a great deal of good advice and criticism of the Taft administration and it is believed also that he has received appeals urging the necessity of his re-entry into the political arena. But if this be so, Colonel Roosevelt has not given the slightest intimation of what position they have made. He always insists that he has nothing to say on the subject until he gets back to America.

Colonel Roosevelt relates an amusing incident of the trip. When he and Mrs. Roosevelt reached the top of the pass at Serr-Levante where they stopped last night, the enterprising proprietor of a lavatory rival of the one which they had engaged rooms—sent out couriers in advance bearing American and Italian flags and triumphantly escorted Colonel and Mrs. Roosevelt to his own hotel.

More Discussion in Rome.

ROME, April 9.—The Vatican-Roosevelt incident still continues to animate discussion between partisans. The party which has rallied to the support of Cardinal Merry del Val insists that it matters not what consequences may ensue, as any other outcome would be better than to have possessed the pope to humiliation, as would have been the case had Mr. Roosevelt visited the pontiff and later called on the Methodists, simply to demonstrate that he could not be treated as was former Vice President Fairbanks.

The faction hostile to the papal secretary's attitude asks what the Vatican would think if next autumn when Cardinal Vincenzo Vannutelli, after attending the Eucharistic congress at Montreal, should upon going to the United States be asked to dine with President Taft on the condition that he would not visit the Apostolic Mission house in Washington, directed by Monsignor Doyle, and which mission, like that of Methodists in Rome, is engaged in converting persons to the faith it represents.

TOO MUCH WORK FOR BALLINGER

office, the witness said there were 30,000 suspended cases in the general office. Congress on March 4, 1909, had appropriated $1,000,000 to bring the work of the land office up to date. Mr. Ballinger announced the intention of accomplishing this work if possible.

In the middle of May, 1909, Mr. Pierce, said ex-Governor Miles C. Moore of Washington came to see Secretary Ballinger.

"The secretary let me in and said he had been consulted with reference to the Cunningham claims while he was out of government service and he wanted me to act on all matters connected with that case. I talked with Governor Moore about the cases. He complained of the delay in acting upon the claims. I sent for Mr. Pierce, assistant to the secretary, who in turn sent for Glavis and we discussed the cases in some detail. That was the only time I ever talked with Glavis. The next day I told Moore that a prima facie case appeared in the record and he could not have his patents. Mr. Moore was very much chagrined and put out. He wrote Secretary Ballinger that I had proved a disappointment and that he was going home with a message that would give scant comfort to his associates. At this time Glavis had possession of the newly-discovered Cunningham journal."

"From that time on," asked Mr. Vortress, "has Secretary Ballinger attempted to interfere with your direction or control of the cases or attempted to influence your judgment or action?"

"He positively has not."

Adjournment was taken until next Friday morning.

SCHOOL TEACHERS IN SESSION

Total Enrollment of Thousand Expected—Many Meetings During Day.

FREMONT, Neb., April 9.—(Special.)—The opening session of the Eastern Central Nebraska Teachers' association was held last evening at the Larson opera house, with over 500 teachers in attendance. The total enrollment is expected will exceed 1,000. Previous to the beginning of the program Swihart's orchestra rendered several selections and Miss Vida Nation played a violin solo. President W. A. Yoder presided. D. V. Stephens extended to the visitors a welcome on behalf of the city. The principal address was by Superintendent S. L. Heister of St. Paul, Minn. His subject, "Fashions in Figgers," gave little intimation of what he talked about. Much of the criticism of the schools he considered uncalled for. Lax mental discipline he laid to too much interest in society instead of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is a medicine of great worth and merit. Try it when you have a cold.

Return to Nature the Quickest and Surest Way to Health

You know from experience what drugs will do, merely a temporary stimulation, always followed by a depressing reaction and additional weakness and despair. Knowing this, why do you continue their use? Why not try for a change at least, the Neuropathic treatment, which gives permanent help, and with no reaction. It gives new strength, vitality, energy and perfect health.

The use of drugs, stimulants and other so-called tonics which are used so generally for the ailments and diseases of the human race are all based upon the principle of stimulation. But the medical practitioners know and you know, if you stop to think, that you only get a drug effect and a seeming stimulation for the time being only.

If you had a horse, poor, weak and exhausted, either from overuse, abuse or lack of proper nourishment, you could bring out all of his remaining vitality by the use of the whip, but the treatment would not impart to the famished animal any new life, strength or vitality, it would simply use up and exhaust what remained. Exactly the same thing results when one who is suffering from any weakness or ailment, takes drugs or uses any of the unnatural remedies to bring into action what is left remaining of their waning strength, energy or vitality.

Neuropathy seeks out the innermost nerve, muscle, organ, most neglected and starved gland or tiny blood vessel, and exercises it, gets it to work naturally as it should, and once more health results and your whole being fairly tingles with new strength and vigor.

A partial list of complaints that quickly yield to the Neuropathic treatment, viz: Anemia, Bright's disease, bladder troubles, constipation, colds, coughs, catarrh (all kinds), deafness, diabetes, dyspepsia, female disorders, gonor, hay fever, headaches, hoarseness, hysteria, impotency, insomnia, indigestion, locomotor ataxia, lumbago, lung troubles, neuralgia, neurasthenia, obesity, paralysis (all kinds), rheumatism (all kinds), St. Vitus' dance, torpid liver, vertigo, weak eyes and many others too numerous to mention.

C. R. Woolley, Ph. N., the Expert Nerve Specialist and Neuropath, who is located in Suite 216, Neville block, corner Sixteenth and Harney streets, wants every afflicted reader of this paper to call and see him, so that he may explain and demonstrate why Neuropathy cures after all other methods fail even to give relief. Remember that health is your most valuable asset, without it you cannot prosper or be happy. Health is within the reach of all. It is simply knowing where and how to obtain it. If drugs have not cured you they have at least manifested their inability to do so. The Neuropathic treatment is the most unique, wonderful and scientific system of removing the cause of disease. Marvellous results follow the first treatment. It matters not how long the patient has been afflicted or what the previous treatment has been, if there is a possible cure the trouble will quickly yield to the methods of the Neuropath. Consultation free.

Hours: 9:30 a. m. to 4 p. m.; Sunday, 10 a. m. to 12 m. 216 Neville block, corner Sixteenth and Harney streets.
