Some Things You Want to Know

Fishing Tackle. In these April days no subject so completely possesses the mind of the average American man as that of fishing tackle. The lure of the opening of the game fish season ever has been a strong one, and whether it be a hook and line fit for casting a minnow or a strong power net for catching hundreds of barrels of herring or mackerel, or a harpoon gun for laying low the mighty leviathan of the sea, fishing tackle is full of interest to him who dreams, and in his dreams hears the faint, far, call of the sea. So far as game fishing is concerned, the present season opens up unseasonably, and that for the reason that some utilitarian Yankee has invented a new piece of fishing tackle, a rod and line which is alleged to register the weight of the fish one does not catch. Of course no fisherman could be worthy of the name and still believe the testimony of such a cheap-john instrument as against that of his own muscular sense, but he fears to hear the demand of the men from Missouri.

SPENCER WILLIAMS TO PRISON

Highwayman and Burglar Given Three Years by Judge Estelle. THREE OTHER MEN GO TO PEN. Harry Robinson, Mark Ryan and William Spurrer Given Two Years Apiece—Williams Plea Falls to Work. Spencer Williams, confessed burglar and highwayman, received a three-year sentence in the state penitentiary Monday from Judge Estelle in district court. Williams had ready for the court a story that he stole "only because I wanted to get home to see my mother," but this "home and mother" excuse did not avail. For one thing it has been a little overdone. Williams, some time ago, pleaded guilty to having taken part in three burglaries in a night, and Judge Estelle inquired of the negro if he knew that the court could send him down for thirty years, and Williams turned as pale as his night at this. As the court picked up a pen to write the sentence in the docket before announcing it, Williams pleaded: "Make it as light as possible, judge, please judge." In sentencing Mark Ryan and William Spurrer to two years apiece, Judge Estelle referred to the meeting of the American Prison congress, which he intends to attend in October. Ryan and Spurrer are the men who confessed to boxing robberies, implicating Joe Batt, a grocer, who was recently convicted after trial. Another man arraigned Monday was two years for Harry Robinson for breaking and entering. Robinson is colored and Judge Estelle remarked to him: "There is a big enough handicap for colored people anyhow without you making it greater by stealing."

Preacher Shot Dead Soon After Leaving Church

Delivers Sermon on "Martyrdom" and is Killed by Listener Thought Insane. PITTSBURGH, April 11.—A sermon on "Martyrdom," in which Pastor Shaul, an editor and prominent mission worker, had declared himself willing to lay down his life for the Christian cause, was followed today by his assassination in a highly sensational manner and the shooting down also of a fellow church leader, John Gay. An arm in arm the two missionaries were leaving the little Congregational church, Wood's Run, a suburb, at the head of more than 100 foreigners. A ragged dressed and collarless man poked his way through the crowd, and when he was a step behind the leaders he pressed a revolver to Shaul's head and fired twice. The bullets took effect in the jaw and temple and in the midst of his followers Shaul fell dead. Gay, who threw up his right hand as if to ward off the man, was struck first in the thumb, and then a second bullet was buried in his head. He fell unconscious across the lifeless body of his colleague. The madman was Jan Radowitch, a character known to most of the mission for his shrill habits and radical opinions. Beautiful Hair Comes With Dry Shampoo

(From Woman's National Journal.) Dry shampoo always has been and always will be popular with the woman who takes pride in long, abundant and glossy hair. The dry shampoo does away with so much of the inconvenience and bother accompanying washing the hair—eliminates the long drying hours and abolishes the danger of catching cold. Indeed, is so all-around satisfactory, that one wonders why soap and water, especially, can find any followers whatever. Dry shampoo certainly stimulates the growth of hair. There can be no doubt as to that. Just mix four ounces of powdered orris root with four ounces of starch, sprinkle a tablespoonful of this mixture upon the head, brush the powder well through the hair, do this two or three times a week for a while and see the results for yourself. This will keep your hair light and fluffy, and beautifully lustrous. It corrects the conditions of the scalp that cause hair to become streaked, dull, colorless, coarse and brittle.—(A.S.V.)
