

NO COMET IS NOW IN SIGHT Father Rigge Sweeps Cloudless Sky but Cannot Locate Wanderer.

IS TOO FAINT AT PRESENT

In a Week It Should Be More Plainly
Visible to Those Who Wish to Rise Early in the Morning.

Wednesday morning the clouds cleared away from the sky early enough for one to see the comet, but it was not visible to the naked eye nor to the powerful instruments used by Father Rigge at Creighton university.

Father Rigge says that the time between the rising of the comet and the rising of the sun is now so short that those who desire to see the wanderer had better wait for a week, as they will then have a better opportunity to see it with the naked eye.

Following is the statement made by Father Rigge, concerning his observations Wednesday morning.

"Wednesday morning was the first clear one for a week. The comet rose at 3:31. I was at the observatory with one of the professors and a number of students, and while they kept a diligent lookout, I swept the sky with the telescope from 4:10 to 4:40 in a fruitless search for the comet. At 4:40 the twilight became so strong that further search had to be discontinued. The comet is evidently too faint at present to be seen in the morning horizon sky. It may require a week or more before it becomes conspicuous enough to the naked eye to be worth the sacrifice of an hour or more of sleep."

HIGH SCHOOL BOYS SEE COMET

Camp in Building with Prof. Senter to Await Its Coming.

With a group of twenty-two high school boys Dr. A. H. Senter, head of the chemistry department, camped in the building Wednesday night, and at 4:25 got the first morning view of the comet that has yet been had by anybody in Omaha.

Dr. Senter says the comet is yet too indistinct to be seen by the naked eye, unless it is first located through a telescope. It will be necessary, he thinks, to wait until the end of this week or the beginning of next before the comet will be visible without the aid of a telescope.

"It seems very likely to me," said Dr. Senter, "that what some amateur observers have taken for the comet is Venus, which is now a very bright star at about the same level above the horizon as the comet."

TO FIX SCHOOL INSURANCE

Board of Education Inspecting Buildings to Determine Amount of Future Policies.

The members of the board of education went out yesterday on a tour of inspection, preparatory to fixing definitely the amount of insurance that shall be carried hereafter on each of the buildings under control of the board. The board will also decide by personal observation the extent of the repairs necessary in the older school buildings.

Plumbers and Employers Are Near to Split

Differences Over Shop Rules and Rate of Pay Promise to Cause Lockout Soon.

Master plumbers of Omaha and their journeymen are now about at the point where they must come to close quarters to make things right in that trade for the present season.

At a recent meeting the master plumbers decided that they will ask for certain shop rules that have not heretofore prevailed. They want the journeymen to report at 7:45 at the shops, preparatory to starting work at 8. They also want the journeymen to furnish their own furnaces and wrenches up to a certain size.

It seems the journeymen have a rule that no man can show up at the shop sooner than 7:30, and they will strenuously object to the abrogation of this rule, holding that five minutes' leeway is plenty in which to prepare for the day's work. They do not supply their own furnaces or wrenches, either, and do not want to.

While the proposed new shop rules of the master plumbers are not yet formally presented to the journeymen, their gist is pretty well known. The innovations will be resisted, and a demand for a higher rate of pay will also be made. The present rate is $5 a day, and it is understood, without being announced as a fact, that the new demand will be for $6 a day.

Both sides are keeping cool and saying nothing, but the wires are all laid for the negotiations that must soon open.

Three Contest Count of Vote

Thomas Kelly, Republican Candidate for Police Board in South Omaha, and Two Democrats in Court.

South Omaha election contests in behalf of two democrats and one republican were initiated in county court Wednesday morning. John J. Larkin, democrat candidate for alderman, asks a recount of the votes cast for him, and Thomas P. Peterson, John Elliot, like Larkin, a democrat, starts suits against August Miller, and Thomas J. Kelly in the contest of the seat of John J. Ryan on the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners. Kelly is a republican. Peterson is on the face of the returns alderman from the seventh ward and Miller represents the fifth ward.

The contests are begun by Murdoch and Hancock for all three. "It's a matter of law business with us and not of politics," said the senior member of the firm, when asked how he came to be representing in similar suits clients of unlike political complexion.

The following table shows the vote as counted and the way the petitioners assert the count should stand:

	Count	Claim
Larkin	1,829	1,880
Peterson	1,857	1,297
Elliot	1,812	1,815
Miller	1,972	1,773
Kelly	1,765	2,005
Ryan	1,878	1,157

Real C. E. McCoy Faces Imposter

Traveling Salesman Declares Suspected Checks Passed on His Name Are Forgeries.

Affording a strong climax to the development that had arisen in the arrest of a young suspect who had used his name in two attempts to cash checks, Charles E. McCoy, a salesman for the Endicott & Johnson shoe company, arrived suddenly in Omaha Wednesday morning and pronounced the prisoner a forger. The suspect had been taken in charge twice Monday night and Tuesday afternoon respectively, while he was in the act of submitting checks first as J. H. Endicott and the second time as Clarence McCoy.

The stranger's method was to assume in each instance the identity of a salesman for the Endicott & Johnson shoe company of Endicott, N. Y. The checks at the Sam Adler store and the Henshaw hotel caused the arrests.

Mr. McCoy, the second, who hastened into the city Wednesday upon learning of the queer check deals, told the police he had never seen or heard of the other man before. He pronounced the checks the latter had used as forgeries. The real salesman is well known in Omaha as having traveled through here for thirty years. He told the police he lost a $100 draft several days ago.

Thief Snatches Baby's Clothes

Fleet-Footed Chauffeur Gives Successful Chase and Holds for Police.

Fleet of foot but not fast enough to elude an athletic chauffeur, John Curley, 17 years old, was arrested for the theft of a parcel of baby's clothes from George Hoagland's automobile at Seventeenth and Farnam streets.

The youth seized the package from the machine and started down the street with it under his arm. R. Seltzer, who drives the Hoagland car, gave chase and capturing Curley held him until the police arrived. Curley received several rude wallops about the face before the police came.

SECOND-HAND DEALERS MUST HAVE PAWNBROKER LICENSE

Five Warrants Have Been Issued and There Will Be a General Clean-Up of Offenders.

The city attorney's office is making a campaign against dealers in secondhand goods who do not hold a pawnbroker's license.

Assistant City Attorney John A. Rine is handling the cases and five warrants have been sworn out against dealers who have not complied with the city ordinance. There will be a general clean-up and other arrests will be made.

These upon whom warrants have been served are:

The Baltimore Secondhand store, 145 South Eleventh street, furniture.

M. Horwich, 1075 South Fourteenth street, clothing.

J. Selzman, 214 North Seventeenth street, clothing.

E. Guttman, 225 North Twenty-fourth street, clothing.

Big Doins When Tack Comes Along

Colored Population is Preparing to Do Some Entertaining While Champ is Here.

There will be big doins when Jack Johnson, colored heavyweight champion, arrives in Omaha.

The local colored sports are planning to give Jack a time during his stay that he will remember for some time. It is expected Johnson will arrive in Omaha Friday morning and arrangements are being made to give a big ball and reception at Creighton hall in the evening. After the big ball a supper will be served at the Morris cafe, 1215 Dodge street.

A telegram was sent to Jack the first of the week asking if he would attend the festivities and answer received gave the assurance he would.

Paul Murray, a local colored lightweight who is well known to Omaha fight fans, will spar three rounds with Joe Gairright, who is with Johnson's retinue. Tolliver and Johnson will put on a wrestling match and other interesting stunts will be presented. Johnson will box with one of his sparring partners, probably Kid Cotton, and will give an exhibition with the punching bag and do some training stunts.
