FIRE WARDEN GIVES ADVICE

A. V. Johnson Seeks to Have Instruction in Schools.

DANGER LURKS ON EVERY HAND

Daniel C. French, Who Will Model Lincoln Monument, is Not to Submit Work Until Next Fall.

(From a Staff Correspondent.) LINCOLN, April 23.—(Special.)—A. V. Johnson, state fire warden, has written a letter to State Superintendent Bishop suggesting that a day or two of some day each month be set aside for the teachers to instruct their pupils about how to prevent fires and what to do in some emergencies. It is Mr. Johnson's idea that if the children are taught the dangerous use of gasoline and kerosene and what to do in case of explosion, as well as how to prevent fires by keeping refuse burned and the danger of burning old papers and to be stacked in an attic or closet that the lessons now learned will remain with them always.

Mr. Johnson gave out the following statement today: The Nebraska fire commission whose business it is to do every thing possible for the prevention of fire wishes to direct public attention to the necessity of a general cleanup during the spring time. It is noted that accumulated during the winter months should be thoroughly cleaned away. The reasons for this are obvious, the debris is often responsible for spontaneous combustion, which, most prevalent during the hot summer months than during the colder period, is generally regarded by experienced fire fighters as one of the chief causes of what are called "wildfire fires."

Too often houses are built without giving proper consideration to attic ventilation; the hot summer sun, during the spring time, heat in the attic becomes intense and with the attic filled with rubbish, dust, oily rags, highly varnished surfaces should be removed. The accumulation of such material is a natural result.

Closets are often used for storing away greasy garments, old clothes and oily rags; such closets should be thoroughly cleaned and this is particularly true if too often permitted to become a fire trap immediately under the only way of escape from the upper stories of the building.

This is the season for varnishing and painting, hence old rags used for wiping greasy wood and varnished surfaces should be burned; if they must be saved for future use they should be kept in an iron receptacle, suitably labeled and away from the wood buildings.

Paint and oily rags, varnish and waste, used to wipe machinery are particularly liable to spontaneous combustion. We desire to suggest that when people are removing their stoves for the summer months, if they would be careful to see that the hole in the chimney was stopped with a metal thimble and not with a piece of rags it would prevent a great many fires.

If municipal authorities will exert some efforts to have property owners and tenants observe these suggestions, considerable fire waste may be avoided.

Burglar Gets Busy. Someone attempted to enter the office of Attorney General Thompson last night and the lock on the door showed up this morning badly disfigured, indicating that someone had tried to bore through it. Sometime ago Mr. Thompson had in his safe some evidence to be used against the Burlington railroad, in a suit to prevent the compliance with the act to prevent the sale of liquor on trucks, but it is not generally believed that Lincoln is dry enough to drive anyone to rob a safe to get a drink.

So Mr. Thompson insists that he has no idea what anyone would want to take from the office. Some of the opinions have become so valuable that men are ready to commit burglary to get one, and this may be what the burglars wanted.

When Norris Brown was attorney general he sent to Judge Sinclair a copy of his opinions bound. In a few days the book was returned with a letter from Judge Sinclair saying the publication was very valuable and inasmuch as he had no safe in which to keep it, he requested that the volume be locked in the safe in the office of the attorney general. The burglar may have wanted that book.

Model Submitted in Fall. Daniel C. French, who has a contract to construct the Lincoln monument, to be located on the grounds of the state house, has written to M. Hall that he will not submit the model until next fall. Mr. French said in his letter that the model had been completed, but that he is shortly leaving for Europe and therefore he desires to look over it again before sending it to Nebraska. He believes after an absence of a few months he will be more able to say whether the model is up to the standard he desires to set by this work. He informed Mr. Hall that he expected to make this monument his best work if possible.

Decision Modified. The supreme court today modified to a certain extent an opinion recently handed down regarding the Royal Highlanders. In that decision it was held that the acts adopted in 1867 were null and void insofar as they related to the plaintiff. The judge asked the court to modify its opinion so as to decide that the amendments to the acts of 1867 gave the order a representative form of government. The court refused to do this, holding that the former opinion was clear in the case filed and had nothing to do with the status of the order at this time. The court withdrew its criticism of the order expressed in its former opinion and said it had no knowledge that the judge had not a representative form of government in the matter and is entirely unbiased in the matter and would not pass on this question until the matter is before it in regular form.

The court adhered to its former opinion as to what a representative form of government is as expressed in Lange against the Royal Highlanders. The order asked that Government more particularly.

Defendants Not Responsible. The supreme court has held that the person who signs a petition for a liquor license is not responsible for costs in lawsuits that may follow an appeal from the issuance of the license. The case came from Otoe county, where one Bernard Carls secured a license to run a saloon at Dunbar. A remonstrance was filed with the village board and overruled. The remonstrator appealed to the district court and the village board was reversed and the costs of the appeal taxed to the petitioners.

The petitioners had not been notified of the suits and were not represented by counsel. They brought suit in equity to prevent the officers from collecting the costs of the suit. The remonstrator filed a demurrage to the petition and set up that the petitioners should have moved to retax the costs. The petitioners went out in the district court and today the supreme court affirmed that decision. The court went further and said the petitioners were in no way responsible and could not be made parties to the suit.

Missouri Pacific Loses. Maggie Wollenburg, who won a damage suit against the Missouri Pacific in the district court of Douglas county, after having been tossed some sixty-five feet by an engine, went out also in the supreme court. Justice Barnes dissented and argued that the woman had contributed to the accident by not looking out for the train.

The citizens' committee which has in charge the promotion of a celebration in New York in 1913 has invited Governor Schallenberger to be its guest at a banquet to be given May 5 at the Hotel Astor. The celebration is in honor of the 500th anniversary of the settlement of Manhattan by the Dutch.

Permitted to Increase Stock. The Grand Island Telephone company has received permission to increase its stock from $75,000 to $100,000 to make some improvements in the plant. The commission also granted permission to the Western Nebraska Telephone company to increase its stock $50,000 in order to take over a couple of mutual companies.
