ENDORSES GARST

Campaign of Carroll, Who is Noncommittal, is in Hands of Men Opposed to Course of Cummins and Dolliver.

DES MOINES, April 24 - (Special)-It is now certain that the Iowa campaign will center upon the fight for governor. Two years ago the only thing considered was the senatorial nomination as between Allison and Cummins and all organization was with a view to this question. Now the contest, insofar as it relates to national Five Thousand People Homeless in affairs, refers to an endorsement or support of the two lowa senators. Both factions are agreed as to the propriety of an endorsement of the national and state plat forms and administrations, but there is wide divergence as to whether or not the attitude of the sensions on the railread ters. He was a temperance progressive and drew his vote of 20,000 almost entirely from the progressive side of the house. Now the temperance people are divided. These who are favorable to a constitutional amendment and are very close to Governor Carroll are with Him. They point out that he has long been one of the staunchest temperance ment His church recently pledged all its members to support only those who favor a constitutional amendment, which is to be one of the big things in the next legislature. But the temperance people who are stronger for progressive principles than for radical action on prohibition are supporting Garst. Hamilton himself is supporting Garst, as also are trict. It is also the center of the Jennings many of the leaders in the temperance cause. They do so, however, admitting that Garst is against them, but are for him on other grounds.

Hendquarters Are Open. Campaign headquarters are now open for both factions. The progressives have one headquarters from which all work is fining their work to sending out letters urging their friends to be alert. They have no literature for distribution and will do no organization work beyond that which is done by volunteers. The other faction has two headquarters-one under the name
