CARNEGIE THE DONOR OF EDIFICE

Steel King in Address Expresses Hope Canada May Join Union of Peaceful Nations.

WASHINGTON, April 25.—The magnificent new marble palace of the International Union of American Republics, within a stone's throw of the White house, was dedicated in the name of universal peace today. President Taft joined with Andrew Carnegie, Secretary of State Knox with Senator Root, and Senor De La Barra, the Mexican ambassador, as representative of the Latin-American republics in propounding a peace among the twenty-one American republics and pledged themselves always to bring about that happy state. Mr. Carnegie went so far as to express the hope that Canada, with the consent of Great Britain would join the family of peaceful American republics.

President Taft called out general laughter by referring to the controversy, which arose between Theodore Roosevelt and Mr. Carnegie two years ago at the laying of the cornerstone of the building, which was dedicated today.

Taft Creates Laughter

"They differed as to the methods by which peace should be obtained," said the president. "But that both were sir-nous and determined to have peace, there was no doubt."

"HEAR, HEAR," shouted Mr. Carnegie as the laughter died away. The new building, the gift of Mr. Carnegie, won the admiration of all the distinguished company that passed within the bronze grilles portals this afternoon, and at the reception tonight President Taft and Mr. Carnegie headed the receiving party.

"I esteem it a great honor to the United States of America," said the president at the dedicatory exercises, "that the other twenty American republics should decide that this home of international union should be here on this soil.

As the older sister of the other republics we take great pride in that fact. As the older sister we are also anxious that each member of the family should know that we are their absolute quality in every member of the family. There is nothing in preference that we insist upon because of the fact that we are the older nation and for a better being can count more noses."

Web Pressmen on Chicago Papers Are Out on Strike

Union Men Quit Because of Dispute as to Jurisdiction—International Union Fills Their Places.

CHICAGO, April 26.—Local No. 7 of the Chicago Web Pressmen's Union, struck on the Chicago daily newspapers today, but places of the strikers were promptly filled by men from other sources by President George L. Berry of the International Union. The trouble started a fortnight ago in the press room of the Inter-Ocean as a result of a dispute between unions as to jurisdiction. Local No. 7 may lose its charter in the international organization as a result. The dispute is over the appointment of Charles J. Berry as foreman of the press room of the Inter-Ocean. According to a statement by the publisher of this paper, Berry, who was formerly a web pressman, but in recent years has been in charge of the establishment. Mr. Berry, coming from one union to another, but No. 7 refused to accept his card. Berry ordered that Rogers assume the duties as foreman of the press room, which he did, other members of the union thereupon walking out. Members employed on the remaining newspapers followed today.

Jewelry Firms Swindled Out of Half Million

Dummy Packages Shipped to Branch Firms Are Alleged to Have Been Lost in Fire.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 26.—Developments up to date indicate that though a great swindle of manufacturing jewelers in Rhode Island and other states have been robbed of goods valued at $500,000. Ten arrests have already been made in Alabama and Texas, and one of the alleged conspirators was ready to cross into Mexico, when he was taken into custody. Details of the swindle were made public today by Representative Harry Culler of this city, a member of the committee of the New York Jewelry Board of Trade.

The scheme was to buy jewelry throughout the country and ship it to Montgomery, Ala. After that, the reports say, dummy packages were sent from a Montgomery firm to other stores controlled by it. These were then credited as the real shipments of valuable goods and so listed. The stores were then set on fire, it is alleged, and the dummy packages were listed as lost assets by the firm in bankruptcy proceedings.

Call Strike in Packing Plants

Mass Meeting Urges Men to Quit Work—Walkout Not Officially Called.

A general strike of South Omaha packing house employees was called last night at a mass meeting attended chiefly by employees of the plants. Jacob Davis, a member of the Central Labor union of South Omaha, presided at this meeting. It is problematical how many men will go out as a result of this strike resolution, which has not as yet at least the sanction of the Central Labor union of South Omaha. The strike was declared "by acclamation."

Menagerie Tent Blown Down

Animals in Cages Knocked Helter Skelter and One Man Killed at Jersey City.

NEW YORK, April 26.—During a heavy thunderstorm today the big tent sheltering the menagerie of a circus in Jersey City was blown down, killing one man, fatally injuring another and badly hurting a third. The animals' cages were knocked helter skelter about the tent. Luckily the larger animals had not been brought into the tent from winter quarters. The cages holding the animals were strong ones, and none of the wild creatures escaped.

Married Sixty-Five Years

SIXTY-FIVE years is the sum total of the married life lived by Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Johnson, and which they have just completed in good health and happiness and surrounded by their only children, Mr. C. R. Johnson and Mrs. Mark Harris, both of this city. The celebration of their anniversary was a quiet occasion, when a family dinner was given and a few close friends invited. The aged couple were married at Wilmington, N. Y., in April, 1845, when they were 21 and 19 years old, respectively. Eleven years later they moved to Wisconsin and went through the pioneer life, and had a second stage of it when they came to this state in 1862, locating in Lake county.

Alcohol and "Science" Get Dairy Expert Into Stall

Unusual theories about the origin of typhoid fever and about the care of cows brought considerable adventure to E. P. Larson, a dairy expert, who was finally sentenced to five days in jail by Judge Crawford Tuesday morning. Larson's theories impressed the employees of the E. N. Larson Dairy company in such a way that they tied him in a stall with the cows Monday night. He was charged with insanity when the police took him in charge that night. Later the police officials charged the charge, after deciding they were not qualified to judge what sort of dairy methods would be insane methods.

Larson was imported as a milk expert from Cleveland several days ago. Upon arriving at the Omaha dairy he created a small sensation with the announcement of his ideas.

"There's typhoid in that milk," he declared after looking into several pails of the product after the dairy. Ever then passed through the stalls of cows and set himself to diligently examining the mouths of the cows. "You haven't been washing their teeth," he asserted to the attendants. "Their teeth are in awful shape. What have you been feeding them?"

He learned that the cows were accustomed to eating bran, oats and stio grass, besides chewing their cud.

"Well you'll have to give 'em some hops," remarked the expert. The actions of the expert from that moment grew steadily more remarkable. He took a curry comb and proceeded to curry the bovines, and he varied this with giving each cow a more critical sort of examination, in the end the stable employees tied their expert in one of the stalls.

In police court the witnesses testified to the general effect that the expert had been drunk. Judge Crawford found the man guilty under that charge. On the police blotter the charge "insanity" was erased and drunk inserted.

JURY LOCKED UP IN GRAFT CASE

Pittsburg Jurors Out On Third Case In Municipal Bribery Scandal.

MAURICE COFFEY AWAITS FATE

Says He's Not Guilty and Forgets How He Voted.

BANK TRANSACTION IS REVIEWED

Captain Klein Out of Jail as Witness in Case.

TELLS HOW MONEY WAS PAID

Arrangements Were Made by Counselmen Stewart and Bolger, He States—Committee Given Twenty-Five Hundred.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 25.—The case of former Congressman Maurice F. Coffey, third of the city fathers to be tried on a bribery charge, went to the jury today and when court adjourned for the night no verdict having been reached the jury was locked up. If a verdict is reached during the night it will be submitted to the court tomorrow morning. Coffey, testifying in his own defense, denied he had ever received a bribe and could not tell how he voted either on the bank ordinance or the Seventh street vacation matter. He said he had never heard the names of the depository banks mentioned and "just went along with the majority."

Former Counselman John F. Klein was again the witness for the commonwealth and after describing how he distributed the money said that Coffey was one of the $1,100 men.

An account of the selection of the German National bank of Pittsburg was made public by Klein on the stand. He said that he was not in the bank when the money was turned over by the bank officials, but that Harry Bolger, a saloon keeper, received the money from W. W. Ramsey, the president, who got it from A. A. Vilsack, the cashier. Ramsey is now in prison, while Bolger and Vilsack are awaiting sentence. Bolger turned the money over to Klein.

The arrangements for the payment of the money was made by former Counselman Charles Stewart and Bolger, Klein said. Two thousand five hundred dollars was paid for the members of the finance committee of councils, while $15,000 was paid after the committee reported the ordinance to council. Klein declared that he gave Bolger $500 for his services in the matter.

Negro Robbers Wear White Gloves

New Orleans Police Round Up Gang that Has Been Holding Up Street Cars.

NEW ORLEANS, April 26.—After holding up and robbing the crews and passengers of street cars on several occasions a gang of negroes was rounded up by the New Orleans police on the outskirts of a city early today. In a running battle with the officers one of the negroes was fatally wounded.

To avoid suspicion as to their color the negro highwaymen wore white kid gloves and masks that completely covered their faces. A trap was laid last night, resulting in a running fight shortly before daylight between Alfred and Ollie Smith, brothers, and two patrolmen immediately after the negroes had held up a car on the Peters avenue line. Both negroes were captured, Alfred Smith being fatally shot.

This capture resulted in the rounding up of several other alleged members of the gang and the finding of a trunk filled with valuables taken from passengers.

TAGGART DENOUNCED AS BOSS

Speech of Vice Chairman Lamb Pro-Convention Sensation in Indiana.

BOTH WANT TO GO TO SENATE

Taggart's Proposition for State-Wide Primary Meets with Opposition Because of Expense to Candidates.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 26.—Thomas Taggart, former chairman of the National Democratic committee, was today denounced as "boss" by a packed crowd in the lobby of the Denison hotel this afternoon by John E. Lamb of Terre Haute, who declared, in a speech, that "the democratic state convention should be no Taggart Christmas tree," and that the convention should endorse a candidate for the United States senate.

Both Taggart, former chairman of the National Democratic committee, and Lamb, present vice chairman of the committee, are candidates for the senatorial nomination. The overwhelming victory won by Thomas Taggart and his friends last night in the primaries in this city and Marion county for the selection of delegates to the democratic state convention, which opens tomorrow, added strength today to the movement proposed by Taggart for a state-wide primary to choose a candidate for the United States senate. The 153 delegates from Marion county will vote as a unit in the convention for a state-wide primary.

Some of the candidates for United States senator oppose the primary election plan on the ground that it would cost about $50,000, and this, divided among the candidates, would fall heavily upon a few men.

Many of the candidates for places on the state ticket expressed themselves against the plan of Governor Marshall to have the convention endorse a candidate for the senate, fearing it would cause such a fight in the convention that the success of the ticket would be endangered at the November election.

Many portions of Kansas, Oklahoma and Nebraska reported killing frosts and light frost was reported from Texas and the Gulf states. Heavy killing frosts prevailed in Arkansas, a temperature of 34 degrees being reported from Fort Worth, Shreveport and Memphis.

Iowa escaped frost because of cloudy conditions and in Missouri the weather was clear without frost.

April 26.—Cloudy weather last night saved Georgia from a killing frost, which undoubtedly would have completed the destruction of the fruit and vegetables. The weather continues cold, with the thermometer around 40 degrees.

MONTEGOMERY, Ala., April 26.—A heavy frost was reported from Alabama last night believed to have killed what remained of the young cotton crop.

DEPUTIES HONOR ROOSEVELT

Group Congratulates Him on His Work for World-Wide Peace.

PRESENT FROM FALLIERES

Magnificent Tapestry Made at Government Factory is Given Former President by French Executive.

PARIS, April 26.—This afternoon at the American embassy Mr. Roosevelt received a deputation from the French parliamentary group for international arbitration, headed by former Premier Leon Bourgeois and Baron d'Estournelles de Constant.

The baron, who shared last year's Nobel Peace prize with M. Bernart of Belgium, expressed to the former president regret that Parliament was not in session, as the group had planned a great demonstration in his honor. Nevertheless, he said, the group desired to again show its gratitude, many times expressed, for Mr. Roosevelt's decisive intervention in favor of conciliation, justice and international peace.

He continued: "Our gratitude for the benefit of your confidence in the benevolent influence that you will continue to exercise in the future. This confidence is all the greater because your conception of peace conforms with our own. Peace for us as for us, is not peace at any price, but justice."

Mr. Roosevelt is a continual fight for the right despite skeptics who are your enemies and ours, we will not stop the good fight so glorious for democracy against the abuse of force, which is the negation of all morality, human dignity, liberty and civilization."

Mr. Roosevelt thanked the deputation for their call, saying that one of the precious gifts which he had received while he was president was the "Life of Sully," the famous minister and friend of Henry of Navarre, which was presented to him by the French Interparliamentary group.

Another Peace Conference. M. Bourgeois, after saying that Mr. Roosevelt was responsible for the second peace conference at The Hague, declared that he looked forward to a third conference and counted on Mr. Roosevelt's influence to that end. Mr. Roosevelt testified that his influence could be taken for granted, and added: "But you must remember that I am now a private citizen."

Mr. Roosevelt also received a delegation from the Franco-American committee, which is devoted to the development of the mutual interests of the two countries. As a souvenir of Colonel Roosevelt's visit yesterday to the city hall, M. Caron, president of the municipal council, today presented the former president with the insignia worn by the city fathers.

Present from Fallieres. This afternoon President Fallieres, through Commandant Bard, the officer of his military household, presented Mr. Roosevelt with a magnificent tapestry, the design of which is a copy of Gerome's famous painting, "Love Mounted on a Hippocampus." The tapestry was made at the celebrated government factory at Beauvais and involved several years work. It is considered one of the handsomest pieces turned out by the factory in a generation.

The smallest crowd that has been present since the trial opened was in the court room this morning. About a hundred persons were present.

Special Prosecutor Reed first took the witness through a long series of uninteresting questions regarding her charts and then took up the illness of Margaret Swope. Until a few minutes before Miss Swope was seized with a convulsion on December 13, she said, the girl was bright and cheerful.

Twyman Orders Medicine Destroyed. The state attempted to get into evidence the orders that were given by Dr. Twyman regarding the administering of medicine at the house during the typhoid epidemic. Strenuous objection by the defense caused the court to send the jury in its room while the point was argued.

Nurse Declares He Used Infected Water in Hypodermic.

SHE DID NOT MAKE PROTEST

Profession Has Ironbound Rule Never to Criticize Attending Physician—Twyman Ordered Medicine Destroyed.

KANSAS CITY, April 26.—There was plenty of testimony in the Hyde murder trial today. Two of Mrs. Hyde's sisters, Lucy Lee and Sarah Swope, were witnesses. Neither recognized Mrs. Hyde. She made no attempt to speak to them.

Lucy Lee Swope said Dr. Hyde gave her a drink of water while coming home on a train from New York with him on December 14. She admitted she took some of the "yarb" man's (Jordan) remedies on the train and she was ill before she reached home. Typhoid fever developed in four days after her arrival in Independence, Sarah Swope, who is but 14 years old, was on the stand only a few minutes and was asked only one question by the defense.

"I would as soon drink poison as the clean water on this place," Miss Nora Bell Dickson, a second cousin of Mrs. Logan O. Swope, testified Mrs. Hyde told her last fall in speaking of the water on the Swope premises. Miss Dickson also said she noticed the drinking water at the Swope house was bitter last November 27. Christian Swope and Stewart Fleming noted the same thing, she said. All were attacked by typhoid in a few days.

Hyde and Wife Laugh. Dr. Hyde and his wife laughed quietly when Miss Swope answered at least twenty of Attorney Walsh's questions with "I don't remember."

After hearing Miss Dickson's testimony regarding her illness, Judge Latsch ordered it stricken out, as he did not regard it as relevant to the case.

Mrs. Swope cried today when Mrs. Mae Pierce, a nurse, testified that in his last hours, probably in a delirium, the nurse thought, Christian Swope beseeched his caretakers to bring his mother to him, as he knew he was going to die and wanted to make his will.

Miss Rose Churchill, a nurse, was the only other witness today. The trial of Cheesing Hatred Chase Jordan on a charge of practicing medicine in Kansas City without a license was set today for May 3. On account of the Hyde trial the handling of Robert Davis, which was to have taken place next Friday in the jail across a corridor from the court room, was today postponed at the order of Governor Hadley until May 22.

Remain Lost Papers. Had Judge Latsch known last week so much about the disappearance of the grand jury notes as he now knows, the documents would not have fallen into the hands of the Hyde attorneys, he said today.

But nothing was said by Judge Latsch about the lost papers until after Dr. Hyde's counsel had cleared them.

As a result of the matter coming to his attention, Judge Latsch had decided to let Professor Conking conduct the investigation and do whatever he liked in the matter.

Three men, whose names are not given, are said to be suspected by the prosecutor of stealing the papers.

Prosecutor Conking has asked the local bar association to help solve the mystery and offered to reward a surprise to that effect in any way to blame for the loss of the papers.

Miss Rose Churchill and Miss Elizabeth Gordon were the only two witnesses before the court during the morning session. Both went to the Swope house on December 13 and remained during the typhoid epidemic. Their evidence was similar to that of other nurses who have testified.

Dirty Water in Hypodermic. The state resumed its examination of Miss Elizabeth Gordon, a nurse who worked in the Swope home, at the opening of the Hyde trial today.

Miss Gordon was on the stand about an hour at the close of court yesterday. Her statement that she saw Dr. Hyde use dirty water in giving Chairman Swope a hypodermic injection, came as a surprise to both the state and the defense, as the nurse had never spoken of the alleged occurrence before.

Court was convened promptly at 9 o'clock this morning in keeping with the longer session system announced by Judge Latsch yesterday. Hereafter at least seven and one-half hours of court will be held every day.

The smallest crowd that has been present since the trial opened was in the court room this morning. About a hundred persons were present.

Special Prosecutor Reed first took the witness through a long series of uninteresting questions regarding her charts and then took up the illness of Margaret Swope. Until a few minutes before Miss Swope was seized with a convulsion on December 13, she said, the girl was bright and cheerful.

Twyman Orders Medicine Destroyed. The state attempted to get into evidence the orders that were given by Dr. Twyman regarding the administering of medicine at the house during the typhoid epidemic. Strenuous objection by the defense caused the court to send the jury in its room while the point was argued.

The court held that the testimony might be introduced and Miss Gordon said Dr. Twyman ordered that no more of the medicine than in the house be given to the patient. All of the medicine in the house was destroyed on December 15 and new remedies purchased, testified the witness. "Did Dr. Hyde leave the house on December 17?" asked Mr. Reed. "He did," Miss Gordon
