HASTINGS WOMAN CLAIMS
CAESAR AS LONG LOST DOG

Sends Photos and Clipping to Substantiate Her Claim of Ownership.

The collection of several hundred donations for the Wise Memorial fair and bazaar was begun this morning, five volunteers being started out in the down-town district. These donations are of such a varied assortment that when collected and placed in the Krug theater, where the fair will be opened Sunday night with a stereo concert, the interior will resemble a big department store. The last few days have brought in so many gifts that the committee has kept a force of clerks working until late at night classifying and tagging them for the fair.

Business at Kelley & Hayden's, where 30 per cent of the gross receipts for the balance of this week is to be given to the fair funds, was enlivened when notice of the donation was announced. Several young ladies were present to welcome the visitors and assist their business "for street charity."

A woman of Hastings believes that Caesar, the white bull terrier owned by the anonymous friend a few days ago, is her long lost puppy. She has written to the hospital committee to say that her dog, a photograph of which, together with a clipping from The Bee, she enclosed with her letter, disappeared a month ago and has not been seen since, and asks the committee to investigate the matter. Mrs.
Sonnenberg, however, declares the donor has been located and she refuses to believe that Caesar came into his possession except in a most legitimate manner.

AFTER SUFFERING
ONE YEAR

Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Milwaukee, Wis.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me a well woman, and I would like to tell the whole world of it. I suffered from female trouble and fearful pains in my back. I had the best doctors and they all decided that I had a tumor in addition to my female trouble, and advised an operation. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound made me a well woman and I have no more backache. I hope I can help others by telling them what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me."
—Mrs. Emma Fox, 333 First St., Milwaukee, Wis.

The above is only one of the thousands of grateful letters which are constantly being received by the Pinkham Medicine Company of Lynn, Mass., which prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, actually does cure these obstinate diseases of women after all other means have failed, and that every suffering woman owes it to herself to at-least give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial before submitting to an operation, or giving up hope of recovery.

Mrs. Pinkham, of Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health and her advice is free.

POLICEMAN DON'T USE SLEEP

Officer King Suspended for Discovering Perpetual Motion.

REFUSES TO LEAVE HIS BEAT

Works Three Hours Overtime, Reporting from All Over Omaha, While Being Pursued by Special Detail.

Suspended for working overtime! The tale of Patrolman D. J. King was on a par with that of the man who was arrested Monday for absolutely nothing. Both dealt with a volume of argument that there was no justice in the world; that they had been penalized absolutely without a grain of merit, a far-fetched hint of cause.

King worked three hours overtime, attending assiduously to the duty of walking his beat and the beats of three other policemen, reporting every hour and a few times extra, and King was suspended Thursday morning.

To intercept Patrolman King from his beat-walking and reporting to the station, the ingenuity of a telephone operator, Captain Mostyn, a sergeant and two patrolmen. When King was interrupted he was caught and physically detained from plunging madly around his beat and reporting.

"An outrage," expostulated King.
"Sure it is," remarked Captain Mostyn, when the prisoner gave his ideas. "What do you think the other policeman could do toward earning their money with you butting into their beats? Do you want to fill the job of every man on the force?"

King first came to notice when the telephone operator received his call at 3 o'clock, an hour after the man was understood to have completed his day's work.
"Is Officer King on duty?" the operator inquired of the desk sergeant.

"No, King's been off for an hour," said Sergeant Dillon. "He works from 12 to 3 o'clock."

"Say, you must be wrong on King," announced the operator again, an hour later.
"He's reporting again."

A conference between Sergeant Dillon and Captain Mostyn resulted.
"What does he think this is, a merry-go-round?" commented the captain. The latter then dispatched Sergeant Samuelson and the officers of two beats on which King had reported, to hunt the patrolman up.

"Tell him he's got sick if he doesn't look at his watch," said the captain. "Explain to him he isn't a moving picture, and this isn't a marathon race he's in."

King was captured in the act of making for a patrol.
"Lemme alone," he snapped. "I got to report."

King's star is at the station and King is out on a vacation.

Twins Sustain

Same Injuries

Paul and Page Nickerson Are Hurt in Identically Same Way While Spinning Tops.

J. B. Nickerson, deputy United States marshal, has a pair of twin boys, Paul and Page, aged 7 years.

Christmas day Mr. Nickerson presented the boys each with a patent top, which operates by a small coil spring. About a month ago Paul's top went to pieces while he was spinning it and the coil spring flew out, the sharp end of the spring penetrating his right hand between the thumb and forefinger, cutting through the palm of his hand and coiled itself up under the cuff. A surgical operation was necessary to remove the spring. Paul has since recovered from his injury.

Last evening, Page, twin brother of Paul, met with identically the same kind of an accident with his spring top, the spring coiling itself up under the cuff of his right hand, producing a painful wound.

Page was put under the influence of anæsthetics to permit the removal of the spring, and a second operation became necessary Thursday morning to prevent any possibility of tetanus ensuing. The coil springs in each instance were nearly two inches in length.

Will Not Collect

for Joy Rides

Judge Crawford Tells Chauffeur He Must Collect His Own Fares.

Charged with having used an automobile and the services of its chauffeur for seven hours on the proposed to buy the machine, a man who gave his name as John N.
Smith was found not guilty by Judge Crawford Thursday morning. The evidence against Smith was to the effect that he had practiced the system of representing himself as a prospective purchaser and taking joy rides in the machines of business seeking auto men.

H. G. Schultz, the complaining witness, told of a harrowing time in which he suffered two headaches and the loss of a pair of shoes in displaying the virtues of his car to Smith and the latter's friends.
He contended Smith had indicated a willingness to pay a regular rental rate for the diversion. The court decided Schultz would have to collect his fare through another channel than the police court.

Elephant Herd Raids City, Small Houses Bowled Over

DANVILLE, Ill., April 28.—Several persons were injured and property damaged to the amount of several thousand dollars when eight bulls and one female elephant of the Ringling show stampeded here yesterday. As the pachyderms were being unloaded after several hours' ride from Chicago one of the bulls made a break for liberty, howling over the keeper and escaping. He was followed by seven bulls.
Later, while the entire force of trainers and keepers were engaged in the unusual sport of hunting elephants in automobiles, the female escaped. For several hours the elephants were at large, despite the fact that the entire force of police reserves was called into action and gave chase.

After escaping, the elephants moved for some time in a bunch, then separated.
They stopped for nothing except brick and stone buildings. Small frame structures, coal sheds, fences and trees in their path were pushed aside, turned over, uprooted or thrown to one side.

At the home of William Miller, three elephants found there was not sufficient

Three Couple

Are United in District Court

Little Misunderstandings Are Adjusted by Judge Estelle After Hearings.

Mr. and Mrs. George S. Marks walked out of district court Thursday morning a happy and reunited couple. The action against Marks for wife abandonment is dismissed and the troubles of the couple settled over.

Judge Estelle also presided at the reuniting of Mr. and Mrs. Luciano Melito, though Mrs. Melito did not attend in person the dismissal of the charge against her husband. To Melito the court addressed a few remarks.

"If you don't take care of your wife and children," said Judge Estelle, "and come up here again you will be bumped hard.
Deserting his wife and children is the meanest thing a man can do."

It is believed that the court misunderstood a little in referring to Melito's children, for Melito is alleged to have deserted his wife an hour after the wedding ceremony, when his father-in-law refused to come across with the dowry or portion.

George Marks, the other husband of the morning session, would never have been in jail if Mrs. Edna Marks had better understood criminal procedure. Mrs. Marks, it appears, had the idea that following complaint against her husband he would be immediately released back to her. Instead, Marks had to stay in jail for some time, or until his arraignment and hearing had come in due order.

Trade Boomers

Carrying Long
List of Calls

Excursionists Plan to Leave Their Cards with 185,000 People in South Dakota and Nebraska.

The Omaha trade excursionists are going to leave their calling cards with a lot of people in the ten days they are on the trip through South Dakota and northern Nebraska.

It has been estimated that at least 185,000 persons will be recipients of visits from the boomers—not personal afternoon calls—but that many will see the boomers and that many will be seen by the boomers in the ten days that the special train scours the western and northern communities. This will average about 18,500 per day. This looks like a big task and Chairman Hayward and his crowd of workers on the committee have measured off a big job. Those who have responded to the understanding and those who will be equal to the task.

The first four days over the Milwaukee road will be strenuous. Friday will be easy, because the party spends half a day at Deadwood, and Saturday will not be hard, for half a day will be spent at Lead, with only four other towns through that part of the country to be visited on that day on the trip over the Burlington to Hot Springs. Sunday will be a day of rest, and the Omaha trade excursionists will be in the Northwestern at the start of the return trip.

It was found necessary for the transportation committee to add another compartment car to the train. On checking the reservations for state rooms it was found that eighteen reservations had been made, with only ten available.

Rev. N. M. Mann

Leaves the Pulpit

Retiring Pastor of Unity Church to Engage Exclusively in Literary Work—Offers Resignation.

Rev. Newton M. Mann, pastor of Unity church for twenty-one years, the one Unitarian church of Omaha, tendered his resignation at the annual meeting of the church board held Wednesday night. He will remain in the pulpit here at least until September 1, when his resignation is proposed to be accepted. He has been a member of the board since 1907. Dr. Mann's pastor emeritus at a nominal salary was introduced at the meeting, but at his suggestion action was deferred.

Dr. Mann resigns to devote his time to literary work. He is second in age among the pastors of Omaha.

"I am not certain what I shall do about the proposition to make me pastor emeritus," said Dr. Mann. "That would necessitate my staying in Omaha, and I am yet undecided about that. The matter has been left for the time to the trustees of the church. I gave notice of my coming resignation at the meeting held a year ago."

Dr. Mann was for eighteen years pastor of the Unitarian church at Rochester, N. Y.

On Roosevelt's

Anarchists Vigorously Watched in Paris and Former President is Under Careful Guard.

PARIS, April 28.—The visit of former President Roosevelt and his family to Paris was concluded tonight with a gala dinner by the minister of foreign affairs. Other guests were Ambassadors and Mrs. Bacon, Colonel General and Mrs. Woodson, ex-President and Mrs. Loubet, Premier Brand, ex-premier Clemenceau, Jules Cambon, the French ambassador at Berlin; M. Jusserand the French ambassador to the United States, and Mme. Jusserand and other distinguished personages. Toasts were omitted.

It is reported that the French authorities have been considerably alarmed for Colonel Roosevelt's safety. According to an evening newspaper the police were advised from Naples that American anarchists were following him and a most rigorous surveillance has been instituted here.

The ex-president has been accompanied everywhere by two inspectors of the Anarchist brigade in plain clothes. The American ambassador has been guarded day and night by six inspectors, in reliefs of six hours, aided by police officers. Several suspects have been shadowed constantly. There is no official confirmation, however, of these reports.

And Kermit Roosevelt, who enjoyed the novel experience of an aeroplane flight this afternoon. Accompanied by Baroness d'Estournelles de Constant they visited Count de Lambert, who after a preliminary flight invited them for a sail through the air. Both accepted joyfully and each in turn climbed into the seat beside the pilot, who took them for a spin around the field at a height of about 100 feet. Kermit remarked that it was the finest experience of his life.

FRIENDS TOAST W. L. PARK

Banquet to Former Union Pacific Official at Omaha Club.

BRAKEMAN TO VICE PRESIDENT

Former Co-Laborer with Present Illinois Central Official Recall Memories of Service on Overland Road.

Vice-President William L. Park of the Illinois Central railroad was banqueted Wednesday night at the Omaha club by his former associates of the Union Pacific and was seated at the head table, who grew up with the great Overland route, starting as a boy freight brakeman and ending as the general superintendent.

The banquet room was beautifully decorated with carnations and palms, and directly over the place at the head table, where Mr. Park was seated, were two American flags hanging from a buffalo's head. The menu cards were elaborate with a photograph of the former general superintendent on the front and a picture of the Union Pacific station at North Platte on the back cover, representing the place where Mr. Park first went to work for the Harriman system.

General Solicitor N. B. Loomis acted as toastmaster and in paying a tribute to the new vice-president and head of the operating department of the Illinois Central, he said that Mr. Park had certainly made good in every sense of the word and what was the Union Pacific's loss was the Illinois Central's gain. He related the story of how the man entered the Overland service as a boy brakeman and at 19 was freight conductor, at 22 a passenger conductor, at 25 a division superintendent. In 1906 he was made superintendent of the Wyoming district and in 1908 was promoted to general superintendent.

Park Friend of His Men.
Mr. Loomis said that Mr. Park was loyal to the interests he represented and was a consistent friend and supporter immediate on the Union Pacific system.

The toastmaster paid a tribute to the man who rose from the ranks, saying that when the Illinois Central found it necessary to get a good man to introduce up-to-date methods on its road, it selected Mr. Park from hundreds of candidates.
This, he said, was both an honor to Mr.
Park and to the Union Pacific, where he received his training.

The guest of the evening spoke feeling of the regrets he had in leaving the Union Pacific and declared that he would ever have fond memories of his associates and former companions.

W. B. Scott of Chicago, assistant director of maintenance and operation and C. B. Seger, general auditor of the Harriman system, paid tribute to their former fellow worker in highly complimentary terms.

General Grenville M. Dodge of Council Bluffs, the original chief construction engineer, was toasted as the man who built the Union Pacific. In speaking, he paid a high tribute to Mr. Park for his efficiency and loyalty. He reviewed some of his earlier experiences on the Union Pacific, with which he was connected as early as 1863.

NEW POSTAL SUBSTATION

Postoffice Department to Have $25,- 000 Structure Here.

LOCATION IN THE DEPOT DISTRICT

Plant to Expedite Handling of Mails to Be Erected by Railway Company and Rented to the Government.

A new postoffice substation is to be built near the Tenth street passenger station in the near future to cost $25,000.

The exact location is not yet definitely decided upon, but it will be either on the vacant tract just north of the street railway switch at the south end of the Tenth street viaduct or directly across the Tenth street viaduct from the Union station. The building is to be of stone and brick, three stories high and will be thoroughly equipped for postoffice purposes, both as a general postoffice for the wholesale, retail, business and railway districts, and for the reception and care of the mails arriving on the 16 trains reaching and departing daily from Omaha.

Clyde McLeod, superintendent of railway adjustment; J. M. Marsten, superintendent of mail transportation; George L. VanDyke, representing the postmaster-general, and Postmaster B. F. Thomas of Omaha have been in conference with railway officials in reference to the matter for several days, and all that now remains is the selection of the location for the new postoffice. Proposals have been submitted to the officials of the Burlington station and the Union Pacific for a site for the new postoffice, which will be built by the railroad company submitting the best proposition and then rented to the government.

Elevator Fire

Awakens Again

Flames from Ruins of Nye-Schneider Plant Throw Victim Into Second Panic.

Flames rising from the smoldering ruins of the Nye-Schneider-Powell elevator Thursday noon, threw the district about Twenty-eighth and Oak street into panic the second time as the sequel of the $2,000-600 conflagration which wiped out the mill there on the night of April 2.

The smoking heaps of grain and wreckage were discovered again in flames by Mrs.
Ella Bond, whose home borders the fire-eaten district. She turned in an alarm and called out the neighbors to aid in the removal of several head of live stock housed in the Bond barn. The terror of the night of fire was awakened in the little homes along the bluff. The scenes of morning of April 3 were duplicated.

The flames got the blaze under control late in the afternoon. The fire will be the cause of considerable additional loss to grain salvage.

Woman's Club

Plants Its Ivy

After Mischief at the Public Library Women Decorate Congregational Church.

The ivy has been planted. So there!
This announcement, to be properly penetrated, must be accompanied by the stamp of a dainty little oxford on a polished floor.

The Woman's club delegation, which started to the public library to garland its walls with the twining green that drapes the classic walls of Windsor, only to meet with disappointment, has solved the problem of finding a home for the innocent little plants. The Woman's club has presented itself with the ivy and it
