I submit herewith my answer to the Baby Piano Contest, subject to all the rules and conditions of the contest.

WHY EVERY HOME SHOULD HAVE A SEGERSTROM PIANO.

Other contest we have conducted have proven so successful that manufacturers whom we represent are very eager to co-operate with us in another one of these great advertising projects and distribution of prizes.

It not only brings the name of the pianos prominently before thousands and thousands of homes and makes glad the heart of every prize winner, but it opens the way for many homes to purchase a piano at one-third to one-half less than the regular price.

Some piano dealers decry our methods, and why? Because we have revolutionized the piano business, making it possible for thousands of homes to own a good piano that otherwise could not afford one, and enabling us to sell a dozen pianos at a small profit on each, where the old method piano house sells one at a large profit.

While some unscrupulous piano dealers misuse the contest plan of selling, we wish to say that we have put forth every effort to make this a straight-from-the-shoulder business proposition and all "strings" and misrepresentation left out.

We stake our reputation on the fairness of this contest and intend to make good to the letter.

It will be well to remember that every contestant falling to win one of the highest prizes also has an opportunity to secure an award from the manufacturers, which is payable through the Segerstrom Piano Mfg. Co.

The fairness of our offer appeals to everyone from the fact that our instruments are priced at the lowest possible figure for which they can be sold, and the same low price to every buyer.

Read carefully every word of this advertisement and then decide that you are going to win one of the big prizes.

BABY HELD FOR TEN DOLLARS

Mother Can't Get Back Child for Lack of Money.

COST OF SUIT OUT OF REACH

Mrs. McCabe Unable to Bring Habeas Corpus Action Against Folks Who Are Holding Infant for Debt.

The sum of $10 stands between Mrs. Katherine McCabe and possession of her 2-year-old son. Ten dollars is owed for the boy's board to a Benson family and according to Mrs. McCabe these people refuse to let her have the baby until she settles the account.

Mrs. McCabe has thought to invoke the law and with this in view has visited County Attorney English, Deputy County Attorney Magney, County Judge Leslie and at least one firm of attorneys.

But inability to pay the costs of filing suit for a writ of habeas corpus has prevented legal action being begun and matters are apparently at a deadlock.

Mrs. McCabe is separated from her husband and it is said the latter agreed to pay the $5 monthly for the boy's board when he was placed with the Bensons. The husband did not settle and the mother after two months had elapsed went to Benson and demanded her son. The people holding the youngster said the child would not be given up until the account had been settled.

Friends hoped that Mrs. McCabe's father and mother, who are moderately well-to-do, would come to the rescue, but Mrs. McCabe has told attorneys and officials that this is out of the question.

Mrs. McCabe also sought the aid of juvenile court and an investigation Probation Officer Bernstein decided there is no move to be made in the matter.

"The boy is in a good home now," said he, "and since Mrs. McCabe has her daughter with her now and earns, according to her own account, only $6 a week, it is difficult to see how she can support another child, even if the court could interfere."

Mrs. Ellen Kosman is Found Dead in Her Bath Room

Indications Are that She Died Alone from the Effects of a Hemorrhage.

Dead in the bath at her home the body of Mrs. Ellen Kosman, wife of Henry Kosman, chief inspector for the Union Pacific, was found Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Charles Metz, her sister. Mrs. Kosman had not been seen since the day before and anxiety about her condition led to the investigation that ended when she was found dead. Hemorrhage from the lungs is thought to have been the cause of death.

Mrs. Kosman had lunched with a friend, Mrs. John C. Drexel, 3530 South Tenth street, at noon on Monday, and departed at 1 o'clock, saying that she was going to consult a physician. She was suffering from a severe cold in the lungs. She was not seen alive after that time.

Mrs. Kosman went to her home, 124 South Tenth street; she died there in the bath tub probably about 2 o'clock Monday afternoon. There was no one else about the house. Mr. Kosman is on his way home from a tour of Europe.

"Mrs. Kosman had been in ill health for several years," said Mrs. Charles Metz. "A physician was called at once and gave it as his opinion that death was caused by a hemorrhage."

When Mrs. Kosman failed to appear about the house on Tuesday, neighbors became worried. Efforts to enter the house found all doors locked. Mrs. Metz was called and with Mrs. Olga Spilke, 1901 South Tenth street, broke into the locked bathroom.

Mr. Kosman left for Europe more than a month ago. He has not been located on his return journey and funeral arrangements have not been made.

Mrs. Kosman was formerly Miss Ida Pomy of Omaha. She was 43 years old and had been married for fifteen years.

An inquest is to be held by Willis C. Crosby, coroner.

Ryan Resigns Just in Time

Deputy Tax Assessor Quits When Shriver Makes Complaint on Work.

Henry Ryan, foreman for Charles Fandrich contractor, and incidentally deputy district tax assessor of the Third ward in South Omaha, has resigned from his purely incidental job.

The resignation came just after W. G. Shriver, county assessor, had made complaint to County Attorney English with a view to bringing a charge of neglect of duty against the deputy.

GET INTO CENSUS COUNT

Enumerators Are Making Their Last Call on Omaha Falls.

BUSINESS MEN ARE INTERESTED

Welfare of City Involved in Good Showing Figures Will Make Work Will Be Complete in June.

"Don't forget the census." This is the plea of the census enumerator and also of the business interests of this city, who want Omaha to make as good a showing as possible when the returns are all in. Many have been overlooked in the count and an effort is now being made to round up all these as fast as possible.

A large number of belated census schedules are being received at the office of Census Supervisor Charles L. Saunders by mail from parties whom the enumerators were unable to see because of absence from the city.

Many Use Best Slips. A great many of the small census memorandums clipped from The Bee are also being constantly received from persons who were missed by the enumerators. These people will be visited by special agents in order to secure complete schedules.

It is incidentally learned that the population of Omaha will make a much better showing under the regular census enumerators than is reported from the preliminary canvass under the direction of the Commercial club.

It is not probable that the official count will be given out before the middle of June. The supervisor's office is now busy arranging the schedules turned in by the enumerators for correction and verification, when they will be sent to the census bureau at Washington, from where the official announcement will be sent out when the schedules are properly tabulated.

CENTER STREET TO BE FIXED

Members of Council Have Promised County Commissioners They Will Repair Road.

Members of the city council have promised the Board of County Commissioners that something will be done toward fixing up Center street from Forty-second to the city limits. There is a stretch here about a mile in which the macadam is either cut clear through or heaped up in piles and the street suffers much by comparison with the condition of the county road. Farmers entering the city by this route have been frequent complainants to members of the county board. City Engineer Craig and Tom Flynn, street commissioner, were also in the party which went to inspect Center street.

Brailey Nabs His Man From Out Jury Box

Sheriff Arrests Charles O. Hart on Intoxication Charge Just as He Qualifies on Panel.

Charles O. Hart's services on a jury in district court was rudely interrupted by Sheriff Brailey Tuesday morning. The sheriff walked into court room No. 1, looking for Mr. Hart, just as Robert Smith, clerk of court, was calling names of veniremen for examination in the trial of the state against Henry Logan.

"C. O. Hart" was the first name the clerk called out. Mr. Hart rose from his seat in the back part of the room and walking forward took a seat in the jury box.

Sheriff Brailey retreated to collect his thoughts. He had in his possession a warrant for Mr. Hart on a charge of inebriety sworn to by Leslie Hart.

C. O. Hart passed successfully questions put to him by Deputy County Attorney Platt and C. G. McDonald for the defense and might have been in the box yet if the warrant had not been conveyed to the attorneys and Judge Estelle. Mr. Hart was excused at the noon hour and notified that the sheriff wanted to see him in his office.

Hatpin Assault Cause for Divorce

Mrs. Bessie Edwards with Using Her Husband with Using That Weapon.

Mallory Morgan and Mrs. Mabel Morgan have settled out of court their differences respecting the residence which the couple occupied before they became estranged. This will be conveyed to their children.

Mallory Morgan, who is an employe of the Omaha Printing company, will nevertheless continue his suit for $15,000 damages against Philip K. Young and Flora Young, his father and mother-in-law, who he charges with having alienated the affections of his wife.

Mrs. Bessie Edwards did not make use of the proverbial rolling pin, according to her husband's plea for divorce, she never employ, he swears, a weapon of the kind against which ordinance recently have been amended. Edwards, whose first name is Jesse, asserts that Mrs. Edwards "assaulted him with a hatpin." The couple, who have been living in South Omaha, were married in Council Bluffs last November.

Charles A. McDonald has filed suit for divorce from Laura McDonald, to whom he was married in Boston in 1909. Desertion is alleged.

BEACH CENSOR ON A LIMB

Councilman Sheldon Torn Between Art and—

SCHROEDER FOR "AU NATUREL"

Apollo-Like Alderman Makes Plea for Freedom in Bathing Costumes for Carter Lake Resorts.

Now that Councilman Sheldon has been appointed official censor of bathing costumes by the Omaha Rod and Gun club he feels that he may soon be in a worse situation than he was when two thugs attempted to hold him up.

Many suggestions already have been made to the Sixth ward councilman as to just what style of bathing costume should be given official endorsement, Judge Herko, a colleague in the council, has a strong leaning toward a comfortable, modest, shrouded in a baggy style of dress. "The water will reach the body, anyhow," says the judge, "and that is what people go in bathing for, primarily. Let the suit be decked with fineness or ribbons, if you will, but let it also be a complete cover for the shapeliness of outline that lies at the base of the censorship."

"But normals don't wear clothes," says Sheldon, "and I know from experience that the fewer clothes one has on the more joy there is in the water."

Councilman Schroeder, being constructed on Apollo-like lines, insists that bathing ought to be regarded just as any other healthy sport. "The human form entirely unadorned is perhaps objectionable to everybody but artists and physicians," said the handsome Seventh ward leader. "However, it is so easy to go to extremes that I have been advising Sheldon to seek the happy medium, that will at once make the human form a pleasant sight to see and still allow free play for the limbs. Conventional standards now permit a boy to have ever so much more freedom in the water than a girl, and there is a serious question if this is altogether right."

The Fewer the Better.

Flynn Suggests Smoked Glasses.

Street Commissioner Flynn has recommended that beach bathers be compelled to wear heavily smoked glasses. "And I would make that apply to women as well as to men. Such glasses have a deceptive quality equalled only by that of the man who carries a pocketful of votes that he will deliver if you can see him properly. I advocate the glasses in the light of the motto so dear to those who wear the garter and which England has taken for her own—like a good many other things. After all it is the viewpoint, not the clothes, and I know very few men who ever went to a bathing beach to see the suits worn there."

It is understood that Councilman Sheldon is already in receipt of a good many suggestions from women who seem to have given considerable thought to the proper apparel for water functions. "It is no longer de rigeur to hang your clothes on a limb of a tree," says Mr. Sheldon, "and just now such should be hung on the human limb I am seriously trying to figure out."

Engineer Gets Crushed Under His Locomotive

W. E. Renner Loses Leg When Freight Cars Bump Into Tender in Pacific Junction Yards.

W. E. Renner, engineer for the Burlington, lost his left leg when a string of freight cars was catapulted across the yards at Pacific Junction in making a flying switch, driving the engine under which he was working over his body.

Mr. Renner had drawn his engine on a siding and crawled underneath to make repairs to a brake shoe. The box cars escaped from a switching crew in the yards and dashed into the engine when released from the switching engine.

Mr. Renner was brought to Omaha and here his wife met the train coming from their home in Plattsmouth. Mrs. Renner displayed fortitude and assisted in caring for her husband on the way to the hospital.

Renner will have to undergo an operation for the amputation of his shattered leg. Other injuries which he received are not believed to be serious.
