"LINCOLN, NEW JERUSALEM"
 Mayor Love Draws Word Picture of Future Capital City.
HOW HE HOPES IT WILL APPEAR
 Charter Committee Busy Now Upon Draft of New Instrument to Be Presented to the Next Legislature.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
 LINCOLN, May 4.—(Special).—Lincoln, the New Jerusalem. Such is the dream of Mayor Love. He believes such a city was in the mind of the Prophet, when he said: "Behold the New Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven," as the city has passed the stage of the "Holy City" and of the "City of Pious Love," and has stepped out on the last leg of its journey to the ideal.
 Mayor Love quoted the Prophet in an address delivered last night to the Federation Brotherhood, at which meeting several other prominent and progressive citizens talked of plans for the future Lincoln. Among the speakers were Dr. George E. Howard, of the state university; Jasper L. McBrien, head of the university extension department; and Rev. T. M. Shepherd, pastor of the First Congregational church.

Mayor Love discussed problems, which confront the executive board of the city, under the light of the plan, and discussed the proposed charter, now under construction for presentation to the next legislature. This charter provides for the commission form of government.
 He closed with this picture of the future Lincoln:
 A prosperous city. A city which preserves and administers its public utilities for the benefit of all—instead of allowing them to be exploited by a few. A city which furnishes to each citizen, not only as cheaply as possible, but also as plentifully as possible, the best of water, light, transportation, communication, parks, playgrounds, books, music, school, art galleries, churches, hospitals and many other things not now dreamed of, until it will be more fortunate to be a poor man in such a city than a millionaire in the average city of today. Think of it. A dream of the vision of it take hold of your imaginations and then tell me if that is not what the prophet meant, when he said: "Behold the New Jerusalem coming down out of heaven."

Clearing Sidewalks.
 Mayor Love, members of the city council and the numerous clubs of the city are striving hard to make Lincoln the ideal place pictured by the mayor and their efforts have begun to bear fruit. Only Monday night the council passed a resolution authorizing the street commissioner to carry out its orders issued something like a year ago to remove the show cases from the sidewalks in front of the stores.

This success has inspired Secretary Whitten of the Commercial club and he got busy, writing a note to the governor asking that the rubbish be removed from the state house grounds.

Mr. Whitten has not yet got around to have some half a hundred vinegar barrels removed from the sidewalk on Pattee near the Burlington depot, nor a large platform which adorns half of the walk across the street from the cigar barrels.

In his talk about the future of Lincoln Mayor Love told of the charter committee, which is now at work for the benefit of the people of this city. The new charter will provide for the election of five councilmen and the mayor, who will have authority to appoint and the help necessary to carry on the work of the government. This charter has a long road to travel, however, before it becomes effective. After leaving the original committee it must be passed on by the other clubs of the city and then it must pass muster at the hands of the state legislature. A charter drafted under similar conditions last year was defeated by the legislature regardless of the fact that the entire Lancaster delegation favored it. Many business men, headed by former Mayor Brown, killed that charter. The business men do not object to the various organizations taking part in the work of the ideal, but when it comes to trying out their ideas on the city there is usually vicarious protest. So there will be a fight before the next legislature when that charter makes its appearance.

Metcalfe's Little Boom.
 The meeting at Tecumseh last night may mean further complications in the already badly split democratic party. In that it may have some bearing on the senatorial situation. Dr. Fitzsimmons, toastmaster, presented the name of Rich L. Metcalfe as the candidate of southeast Nebraska for the democratic nomination for United States senator. In doing this the toastmaster told of the splendid service to the party rendered by the Communist editor upon the presentation of the name the audience applauded vociferously. Mr. Bryan and Governor Shallenberger even giving formal applause. That is, according to one present, they gently tapped their hands to the music without making much noise. Metcalfe was looking at them and they had to do something.

After the banquet Mr. Bryan and the governor were joking Metcalfe about his boom and both commended on the fact that he had not put away the king's crown.
 "I wasn't raised in that political school where my instructor taught me to put away the crown," he answered.

For many weeks democrats have been urging Mr. Metcalfe to get into the senatorial race, but so far the associate editor of the Commoner has not encouraged the sentiment for him to any great extent. His friends have taken his backwash about coming forward to mean there might be a chance that Mr. Bryan will get into the race, while others believe he would not run against his old-time employer, G. M. Hitchcock. Did the democrats here believe that only Hitchcock's candidacy prevented Metcalfe getting into the race there is no question but the name of Metcalfe would be filed, for the $50 would soon be raised.
