Extraordinary Unloading Sale and the Reason for It

We are asking your attention today to a movement that is unmistakably the most powerful appeal ever made to the citizens of Omaha and the great west by any store. There's going to be a week of such merchandising of such tremendous values that the oldest inhabitant cannot recall a similar occasion.

What's the reason for it all, you ask. Think back just a few months; remember how weather conditions were completely revolutionized this year. Summer weather in March, winter storms in April. Big Eastern jobbers and manufacturers found business paralyzed. It called for immediate and drastic action. There have been reorganizations and readjustments of stocks, with prices dropping to the lowest level in a decade.

The entire Bennett buying organization was turned loose to profit by these conditions. Orders were given to each department head to make the most of his opportunities.

Here are the results of the united effort. We are presenting bargains now that most prudent families will know this to be the psychological time to spend their money to best advantage.

Every item mentioned in this great advertisement has been carefully and conservatively typed. There are thousands of offerings throughout the store at irresistible prices. More than this the goods are the very choicest and reflect the season's most exacting styles. These are good, old-fashioned bargains we are sure will fill the aisles to overflowing throughout the entire week.

Unloading tremendous stocks suits, lingerie dresses, coats, etc., more astonishing selling is not recorded in annals of western retailing

High grade makers, Wooltex of Cleveland, Hyman Cohn and Harry P. Belsinger, of New York, make unmerciful sacrifice to Bennett's

$20.00 Tailored Suits $5.00—The wonder of the suit trade. The maker pressed for cash was forced to accept the inevitable and sell at any cost. Season's most advanced styles, in all wool serge—black, navy and gray. Positively none to dealers—one suit to a customer—absolutely best $20.00 suits made; now for $5
