Laboring Men
Ask More Pay
Street Workers of City Join in Request that More Money Be Granted Them.
 Employees of the city, not the men who hold elective or appointive offices, but the laborers who work on the streets, have petitioned the city council for an increase of pay. They base their plea on the present high cost of living. The request will be expected, to be considered at the meeting of the committee of the whole of the city council to which it was referred, to be held this morning. At present the men working on the streets, who are termed "stovelers," receive $1.50 a day. They ask that this wage be increased to $2.00 a day. Men with teams are paid $3.00 a day and they ask that their pay be made $4 a day.
 The laborers employed by the city work eight hours a day, Saturdays included, and, coupled with their petition for increased pay is a request that they be permitted to work nine hours a day and have Saturday afternoons off. Mayor Maloney is in favor of granting both requests of the laboring men provided the condition of the streets and alleys fund will warrant the increase in wage.
WOMAN WANTED AT ST. JOE HERE
 Mrs. Edith Blaine Will Be Taken Back to Testify.
 Mrs. Edith Blaine, a young woman who was the complaining witness against a negro charged with attacking her, was taken into custody at an early hour yesterday morning by the police of this city at the instance of the authorities of St. Joseph, Mo., where the assault was alleged to have been committed.
 Mrs. Blaine was found at the Blue Front restaurant on West Broadway near the Northwestern tracks, where she had occupied a room since Sunday. On her way to the station the young woman succeeded in swallowing a number of arsenic tablets and on reaching police headquarters was taken violently ill. City Physician Tubbs was summoned and the woman was taken to Mercy hospital. The fact that she swallowed so many of the poisonous tablets as to cause nausea, Dr. Tubbs said, saved the young woman's life.
 When notified by the police here to arrest Mrs. Blaine, the St. Joseph authorities said she was wanted on a charge of compounding a felony and that a warrant had been filed against her when she left St. Joseph to avoid appearing against the negro.
 Detective J. W. Wilson of St. Joseph, who arrived last evening to take the woman back, said Mrs. Blaine had appeared against the negro at the preliminary hearing and that as a result of her story St. Joseph came near witnessing a lynching.
 Mrs. Blaine then disappeared from St. Joseph, but was traced to this city by a telegram which she sent to a friend asking for money. She was too sick to accompany Detective Wilson back last night, but it is expected she will be sufficiently recovered to travel today.
 Mrs. Blaine, who is said to have been deserted by her husband and been forced to work as a domestic, brought a 5-year-old son with her to Council Bluffs and Monday placed the boy in the Christian home.

WEBSTER CITY—The conference of the Evangelical Lutheran synod of Iowa will be held in Webster City Wednesday and Thursday of this week. Prominent speakers of the denomination will take part in the program.
DENISON—A. H. Herring, one of the wealthy German citizens of Denison, was buried today at Wall Lake, his former home. He was engaged in the private banking business at Wall Lake for many years, and was succeeded in active management by his sons. He had received a bulk of his fortune and was making the property the handsomest in the city. Some two months ago, cancer developed and his decline was rapid. The Masonic order gave him full honors.
LOWA CITY—John R. Donovan and William Donovan, his brother, were arrested Monday, charged with complicity in the series of fires which destroyed the Hayes hotel during the winter. Both brothers claim they are victims of personal enmity. They have given bonds in the sum of $3,000 each.
PANAMA—Ralph A. Kirkpatrick, principal of the Panama school, who was appointed census enumerator, was probably fatally injured Monday when his horse slipped and fell and then rolled upon him. The leg was broken and he was hurt internally.
LOWA CITY—Two little girls 12 years of age were run over by an automobile today driven by H. A. Knease. They were Helen Hayes, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Samuel Hayes and Mary Hayes. Helen Hayes was the most badly injured. They were returning from school and stopped out of the way of the big touring car.
COLUMBIAN JUNCTION—Robert J. Davis, the man from Bellingham, Wash., who so mysteriously disappeared from a Burlington train, at Ottumwa, while en route to Frodo, Ill., to visit a man who caused the Burlington officials so much worry, is thought to have been found here. The man, a middle-aged man answering Davis' description, and who seems to be suffering from some mental trouble, he could give no account of how he arrived here, but says he was en route to Sterling, Ill., to visit relatives.
VILLASCA—A fund of $3,000 has been raised by the financial committee of the Villasca fire department, to have the expenses of the Southwestern Iowa Fireman's tournament, to be held there July 4 and 5. Tyler's park has been leased for the two days for entertainment and work is now progressing on the track. Putting it in the "good condition," for that occasion. The Fifth Regimental band of Clarinda, having a state reputation, will be had to furnish the music, and Villascas are leaving nothing undone to insure a successful tournament.

IOWA MEN ATTACK TARIFF
Cummins and Dolliver Go After Bill and Framer.
ADDRESSES MADE AT DES MOINES
Ten Thousand Progressives Gather to Hear State Leaders—Rotho Island Senator Mails Target.
 DES MOINES, Ia., May 11.—Hanging denunciations of the tariff bill and the men who passed it, characterized the speeches of Senators Jonathan P. Dolliver and Albert B. Cummins, who opened the progressive campaign in Iowa last night at the Coliseum. Over 10,000 progressives attended the meeting.
 The meeting last night was preceded by district conferences throughout the day, at which steps were taken to reconstruct the old Cummins' organization and to organize the state by counties and precincts.
 Even President Taft did not escape the sarcastic shafts of the two Iowa senators, while Senator Aldrich was named as the leader of the corporations of greed and avarice. Senator Dolliver referred to the republican party as the "titular leader" of the republican party, which meant, he said, "a good man surrounded by people who know exactly what they wanted."
 Both senators declared that, if the republican party continued the policy advocated by the reactionary leaders, it would spell ruin to the party.
Shot at Aldrich.
 Among these leaders, Senator Aldrich was frequently mentioned as the man "ailed with the Guggenheims and the Ryans and Paul Morton in a mammoth trust, incorporated as a rubber company, which is allowed by the articles of incorporation to participate in any kind of business, anywhere on the face of the earth, and which is one of the holding companies in the Guggenheim syndicate for the control of the wealth of Alaska."
 "These are the men who are responsible for the tariff bill during the extraordinary session," declared Senator Dolliver. "The bill is only a scheme to rob the people, and to increase the holdings of such gigantic syndicates as I have mentioned."
 "The troubles in the republican party have come not because of what has been said, but of what has been done. It has been said that the tariff bill is a good law. In fact, we have it on high authority that it is the best tariff bill ever passed. But not only do I denounce such tariff legislation; I am not particularly enamored of those who passed it."
 "If a man protests against such a bill and is derided and ridiculed, what can be the moral status of such a pirate, who threatened congress, and who have become a nucleus around which the republican party is supposed to rally to preserve its solidarity."
Hot Fight Called.
 "The fight against such unfaithful leadership in the republican party is as hot in Massachusetts as it is in Iowa."
 "If I do not hear from the president, or to say unkind words against him, but I count it no reflection on him to state that I find it sometimes necessary to disagree with him and those surrounding him. Men have crowded to the front in his administration, who have not had the welfare of the party or of the country at heart."
 "I am going to have some trouble in keeping inside the breakfasts of the republican party, but I know something of its doctrines. I do not intend to retire from it, although I have been invited, and declined the invitation. I do not recognize Mr. Aldrich's invitation. He has come out here into the west to read men out of the republican party who were known before he was in it."
 The meeting was presided over by Harvey Ingham, editor of the Register and Leader, who was introduced by Robert Fleming, chairman of the progressive state headquarters. Senator Dolliver was the first speaker.
Mr. Dolliver's Address.
 The senator declared close scrutiny that "so far as the public is concerned, the tariff revision in fact carries rates as high, or higher, than the tariff which has been passed. Most articles of general use in their finished condition."
 "Most of the reductions," said the senator, "were so trivial as to be ridiculous and were either upon articles which we do not import to any extent, but, on the contrary, export in enormous quantities, or upon articles which we do not produce, but which we are forced to purchase from the manufacturer, especially by reducing the duties on raw materials."
 "In fact, a careful scrutiny of the particular items that were changed and the actual trifling change of rate in each case, shows how cunningly the reduction was arranged, indicating that duties have been increased by the tariff on articles which are used for the purpose of destroying the manufacturer, especially by reducing the duties on raw materials."
 "In fact, a careful scrutiny of the particular items that were changed and the actual trifling change of rate in each case, shows how cunningly the reduction was arranged, indicating that duties have been increased by the tariff on articles which are used for the purpose of destroying the manufacturer, especially by reducing the duties on raw materials."
Figures Deceptive.
 "This would indeed tend to prove a 'most substantial downward revision,' if the figures were accurate. Fortunately, the necessary statistics to render such an analysis comparatively easy are available in a document prepared under the direction of the finance committee by one of its employees. Such an analysis of the figures will soon convince anyone how deceptive and misleading this much quoted table really is."
 Taking up Schedule A—chemicals, oil and other products, Ingham asserted that two-thirds of the showing of reduction estimated at $123,669,834, was made from the consumption value of petroleum and its products not embraced in Schedule A of the present tariff or the old law, and used for the manifest purpose of padding the amount of the alleged tariff reductions.
Sugar Schedule Joke.
 Similar strictures were passed on the duties fixed for wood and its manufactures, while Senator Dolliver declared that their purported decrease rates on sugar, consumed by the amount of $309,955,543, was "too great a joke to receive serious attention." "The reduction was but 3 cents per 100 pounds and in order to derive a dollar's benefit from this change, even if the trust gave it to him, the consumer would have to eat a ton of sugar."
 The rates on agricultural products, the senator said, "were also cunningly revised to produce the appearance of a real and substantial downward revision," while examination shows the figures to be incorrect.
 The cotton manufacturers' schedule, Senator Dolliver stamped as "one of the most insidious and unscrupulous of the new tariff in which the rates were either advanced or unchanged on articles of a con-
