

To the Strains of Lohengrin

Any woman who marched up the center aisle to the music from "Lohengrin" will find her heart warm to that page in the JUNE number of THE DELINEATOR where Erman J. Ridgway writes anent "WEDDING BELLS."

Here is a man with a fresh view-point and a singular talent for touching human hearts. A man who sees common things through uncommon eyes, and finds them vivid, beautiful, worth while. He is well worth listening to. If you will turn to his page, which he whimsically calls "CONVERSAZIONE," you will be well repaid.

THE DELINEATOR of this month carries an amazing number of other good things, but this one page possesses so unique a charm that it deserves a special consideration for itself alone.

John L. Webster will make the first address, following the invocation and the opening remarks by Dr. Davidson, and W. J. Bryan will follow shortly after, discussing the campaign for world peace from the standpoint of one who has been a participant in the official conferences held at The Hague, where delegates from all nations meet.

Dodge Viaduct Being Pushed

Accident of Saturday Night to Be Used by City Officials as a Reason.

The suit now pending in court in which the Missouri Pacific road seeks to restrain the city from compelling the construction of the Dodge street viaduct, was to have been heard in the United States district court Monday morning. The city was ready but the railroad company asked for further delay and was given until Thursday next to file some affidavits. Then the city will have to be given time to answer with other affidavits, among them one setting out the accident of last Saturday evening, as the spot where the city wants the viaduct built. Assistant City Attorney Dunn expects now the case will go to hearing next Monday. "The city will be on hand and ready anyway," said Mr. Dunn, "and the sooner we reach a settlement the better. It has been proved there is danger there sometimes."

WOMAN FAINTS IN COURT

Lively Session in Juvenile Branch, with Several Cases Heard.

BOY HELPS TO FIND A FATHER

One Father Insists that He Provides Meat Every Day, but May Not Always Have Pie on Table.

Mrs. Angeferose Scalzo fainted away in juvenile court when her son, Arthur Scalzo, was sentenced to Kearney, and she remained unconscious for ten minutes. While physicians were working over her, the guardian of her son, Vincent Chiodo, was pleading with Judge Sutton to give the boy another chance. The combined forces prevailed and the court ordered the matter suspended until Wednesday.

Mrs. Antonio Mercurio's boy escaped with a short stay in the detention home. He, like the Scalzo boy was incorrigibly truant, the despair of teachers, probation and truant officers. "Myself hitta them a lick," said Mrs. Mercurio, "and da teach, she hitta lick, but it no good."

The real feature of the Monday session of juvenile court was a little colored boy, 4 years of age, Albert Hall by name. His mother is dead, the victim of a blow from her husband, who is in jail pending trial in district court. The child has been in the detention home since the tragedy, and Mrs. Heiler, superintendent of the home, brought him with her to court.

Hunts Parents for Himself.

The little boy has learned that an effort will be made to get some one to adopt him and he started out on his own account finding new parents.

"You want a nice boy?" he inquired of first one man and then another in the court room. Were the child white instead of colored it would be an easy enough matter finding adopted parents for him. Before the morning ended young Albert Hall had caused some confusion by saying "Hello, papa," and "Hello, mamma," to various men and women attending court.

Theodore and Samuel Cahn were up for repeated truancy. There was a hint made by one witness that the Cahn family board is not too ample, and Mr. Cahn, sire of the truant, denied this with heated fluency.

"They get meat every day," said he emphatically. "They get plenty to eat, though no swell food every day like pie."

Myrtle Decker, a young girl who has been in court previously, was ordered to Geneva. She and Violet Duval were arrested Saturday night in a restaurant, where they were drinking beer with men.

Tony Minardi, proprietor of a restaurant at Fourteenth and Leavenworth streets, Pet. Cialomina, a Canadian, who was arrested while entertaining the two 16-year-old girls with a spread of lunch and liquor, were fined $25 and costs each. The men were charged with aiding young girls in delinquency in the hearing before Judge Crawford.

If such is the case you may place the fullest confidence in the Raincoats we offer; or, if you have been misled into buying a Raincoat that is not WATERPROOF, then it's even more important that you have your confidence restored, by means of a "Nebraska" Rainproof Raincoat.

Unbidden Guest Lost Ranchman

Man, Obviously Demented, Finds Way Into Surprised Household—Proves to Be Charles Lears.

A stranger walked into the home of Charles N. Bullis, near Linn, Saturday afternoon, and got some one to adopt him and he started out on his own account finding new parents.

"Good evening," said the stranger, who was a man about 55 years of age.

"Good evening," replied Mr. and Mrs. Bullis in polite response.

"I have come to make my home with you," said the stranger. Mr. and Mrs. Bullis thought it over and Sunday had the stranger conveyed to Millard, whence Deputy Sheriff Mead brought him to the Douglas county jail on an insanity complaint.

The man proves to be Charles Lears, now a Colorado ranchman and formerly an Omaha business man. How he came to be in this part of the country is yet a mystery. Letters and papers found in his possession show Lears to have gained considerable wealth since he went to Colorado.

Broken Head Pays for Broken Heart

Defendant in Police Court Pleads Guilty to Squaring Scores with Fist.

"He broke my heart and I broke his head, your honor." In these words Clarence Givins, a negro, pleaded guilty to the charge of disturbing the peace, in Judge Crawford's court Monday morning.

Will Price, another negro, appeared with a swath of bandages about his head in corroboration of the defendant's story. The two negroes gave an account of their trouble centering upon the affairs of Givins' family.

The negro explained he had fought through a not encounter with the interloper and was winning when Policeman Egan arrived on the scene.

Judge Crawford discharged both men.

SEEK ARTIFICIAL BEDROCK

Union Pacific Engineers Meet with Unforeseen Difficulties in Foundation for New Headquarters.

A pile foundation may yet be the solution of the difficulty the Union Pacific engineers are meeting with on the site at Fifteenth and Dodge. The borings are now down over 100 feet and no solid bottom has yet been found.

It is now understood that piles will be driven at this great distance below the street level, and will be cut off just below the water line. Then concrete will be tamped in freely and an artificial bedrock be thus established for the splendid structure that has been planned.

In spite of all the unforeseen difficulties met with on the site, the railroad's engineers are not in any way discouraged. They always have a trick or two up their sleeves for just such emergencies.

BIDS FOR NEW PLATTE BRIDGE

Canton Bridge Company is Low—Plumbing Bids for Court House Canvassed Friday.

A committee of the Board of County Commissioners has filed a report on the bids for a new steel structure over the Platte. The committee finds that the Canton Bridge company "is the lowest and best bidder" and recommends that the contract be thus awarded. The Canton company offers to build two spans for $12,628, and the next lowest bidder is the Standard Bridge company, which is about $612 higher. Other bidders were the Western Bridge, Empire Monarch Engineering, Iowa Bridge and Midland companies.

The bids for the court house plumbing and heating will be canvassed at a meeting of the committee of the whole Friday afternoon.

Your Nerves

Your nerves must be fed with pure, rich blood, or there will be trouble. Poorly fed nerves are weak nerves; and weak nerves mean nervousness, neuralgia, headaches, debility. Weak nerves need good food, fresh air, and Ayer's non-alcoholic Sarsaparilla.

BURGLAR WOULD JOIN FORCE

Man Who Applied for Police Job is Arrested.

PART OF SCHEME BY GANG

Officers Believe that Morton and the Eight Accomplices Under Arrest Laid Plot to Aid Their Operations.

In the person of Ray Morton, one of the nine men taken in the round-up of burglar suspects Sunday, the police think they have one of the cleverest rogues ever caught in this city. Broad shouldered, intelligent and honest in appearance, Morton made application a week ago to join the police force. In the light of his arrest as a burglar connected with a band which gathered in thousands of dollars worth of loot during the space of a month, the police believe Morton had planned unique deceptions under the guise of being a police officer.

Captain Mostyn, acting chief, explained Monday morning the half dozen different expedients a treacherous policeman might use to gain his outlaw ends, all of which it appeared Morton had intended using.

"The perfidious officer after swearing to give his life to protect life and property," said Chief Mostyn, "could have access to the important reports of the department. He could keep his pals in close touch with the action of the police on all burglaries and other criminal deeds. He could betray those who trusted him in the daily traveling of his beat. He would find it comparatively easy to enter certain business places and houses on his beat for a thieving purpose, which otherwise he could not enter."

A Union Pacific ambulance carrying two nurses and a physician to St. Joseph hospital was struck in rear-end collision by a street car at Twenty-fourth and Indiana avenue at 8 o'clock Monday morning. None of the occupants of either the car or the ambulance were injured.

The street car men claim that the track was rendered treacherous by a coating of moisture from the heavy mist and fog which enshrouded the city Monday morning. The impact of the car was barely sufficient to crush the rear step of the ambulance.
