The corn market is weak and the dissosition to sell continues as weather contitions are very favorable. Farmers are willing sellers even at these levels.

Wheat was safe and values eased back again from yesterday's late buige. The market was over sold and values quickly recovered from the low point and closing values were slightly better than yesterday.

Normal temperature for today, wugst.

Mercantile Paper.

NEW YORK, May 20.—As a tribute of respect to the memory of the king of England and during the funeral services of that monarch, the stock exchange did not begin its session today until noon. The week's lapse into staghtat conditions and the added consideration of the two hours total cessation today probably induced some departures from the city until Monday next.

The estimates of the week's currency movement indicate that large shipments have been coming into New York from other points and the subtreasury, also by reason of the monthly penesion payments, has made large contributions of cash to the banks. The gain in that item promises, in consequence, to reach as much as $12,000,000. The caseer tendency for money rates, both for call and time loans, is explained by this development.

Notwithstanding the accumulation of cash, the banks manifest but little desposition to purchase mercantile paper, the rates on prime grades of which ranged from $4 to 54. These rates are considered out of line with the low rates prevailing for time loans.
