ANOTHER THEORY IS ADVANCED

Prof. McHugh Believes Old Tail Was Forced Away by Electrical Explosion Caused by the Sun Spots.

CHICAGO, May 21.—The theory that Halley's comet has lost its old tail, which is still floating in space in the eastern sky and is now generating a new one was advanced by the student of astronomy, Professor of astronomy at DePaul university, today. The old tail was forced away from the comet by the force of unusual electrical repulsion caused by the sun spots which were so prominent Wednesday, he thinks.

"It is my opinion," said Prof. McHugh, "that the comet lost its tail some time Wednesday night. There are records of its having done the same thing in 1835 and it is also believed that its tail was lost in March of that year. I believe that there is not the slightest chance of the earth coming in contact with the tail on this visit."

Morhouse Questions Theory.
DES MOINES, Ia., May 21.—Prof. D. W. Morhouse, the Drake university astronomer, doubts the theory of Prof. McHugh that Halley's comet has lost its tail. The Morhouse comet, discovered by and named after the astronomer, first observed it in the west through a four-inch telescope at 8:40. At 8 o'clock the phenomenon was visible to the naked eye and remained so until it became lost behind a cloud bank at 8:35. It set at 9 o'clock.

Comet Seen in West.
YERKES OBSERVATORY, Williams Bay, May 20.—Halley's comet was under observation here from 7:30 to 8:35 o'clock tonight. Astronomers first observed it in the west through a four-inch telescope at 8:40. At 8 o'clock the phenomenon was visible to the naked eye and remained so until it became lost behind a cloud bank at 8:35. It set at 9 o'clock.

The comet appeared as the brightness of a star of magnitude 3.5, said Prof. Edwin Frost. "No tail was observed. The exposures of the spectrum showed a continuous spectrum, which means it is chiefly due to reflected sunlight. The gaseous constituents were less conspicuous than when the comet was in the morning sky and appeared faint. It was not seen."

"The comet should be visible to the naked eye tomorrow night from 8 till 9 o'clock in spite of a bright moon. Whether it will appear without the tail remains to be seen."

My dollie is just getting over the measles," said little Elsie. "Hias, you had 'em yet?"

"No," replied small Margie, "but she's awfully fractious about her teeth and I'm going to give her some polygoric."

Little Joe—Mamma, I wish you would lend me 50 cents.

Mamma—What do you want it for, dear?

Little Joe—Uncle Tom is going to give me a bird dog and I want to buy a cage for him.

Minnie, aged 5, was spending a week in the country and heard her grandma say the hens were not laying as well as they had been doing.

"Well, don't worry, grandma," said Minnie, "if I pose they got tired of laying and thought they would stand awhile."

"What does ferment mean?" asked the teacher of the juvenile class.

"That's right," answered Freddy.

"That's right," said the teacher. "Now, Tommy, you must give a sentence on your slate containing the word."

A few minutes later Tommy handed up the following: "Tramps don't like to ferment."

Y. M. C. A. Notes.
The boys' minstrel troupe here go to Millard Saturday, May 23, to give a performance.

Mr. Denison, superintendent of the boys' department, will address a meeting for boys at Trinity cathedral Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The fifth annual boys' camp will be conducted from June 23 to July 2 at King's lake, about three miles south of Valley. The program will include baseball, tennis, tennis courts, tables, chairs, kitchen utensils and a cook. Several men will be in charge of the camp, adjusting any difficulties that might arise and supervising the boys in fishing, hiking and general life of the camp.

Owing to the success that attended the orchestra program recently at the Young Men's Christian association under the direction of Henry Cox, the violinist director, he has been engaged to present the following program of violin solos at the Young Men's Christian association Sunday, May 22, beginning at 8:30 o'clock:

"Nocturne" by Chopin-Sarasate, "Minuet," in B, Bolchini-Cox, "Aase's Death," from "Peer Gynt Suite," "Lullaby," "Canzonetta," D'Ambrosio, "Serenade," Moszkowski, "The Bee," Schubert, "To a Wild Rose," MacDowell-Cox.

At the close of the violin program George Wallace, president of the Nebraska Sunday school association, will deliver an address. The entire service will be given in the lobby.

Tangled Up Again.
Mr. Makinbrakes was expressing his gratification that a respectable family had moved into the house next to his.

"You may not like it at first, Mr. Newcomb," he said, "for our street has kind of run down, and nobody that amounts to a pinch of snuff ever comes here to live any more—that is—I mean, that's the way they talk about our street, but it isn't exactly true, for we have had sometimes just as good citizens as you'll find anywhere, the family that were exceptionally nice people, and we were sorry to see them move away, because they were so good."

"People will come next, you know, because the cheapest kind of skates, you see, aren't speaking of anybody being ally—or, rather, I am—for one is likely to be too polite to—'m—perfect strangers, and—'m—speaking of borrow things when you go by—the way, Mr. Newcomb, do you think the Cubs stand any chance of winning the championship this year?"—Chicago News.

GROWING CHILDREN

The Period When the Nervous Activity is at its Greatest.

"Against the practice of giving tea and coffee to children, we cannot speak too strongly. Childhood is the period when the nervous activity is at its greatest. The brain is ever busy receiving new impressions. Reflex action, co-ordination of muscles, and the special senses are all under a special course of training. The nervous system is pushed to its utmost capacity, and long in the list of victims that follow its over-stimulation. In these little people nothing but harm can come from the use of such cerebral stimulation as tea or coffee. Bad, then, as this practice is, let us as physicians be aggressive in its prohibition.

"Do not be satisfied by answering 'No' when asked as to their use, but let us teach the families with whom we come in contact that such practice is evil. We speak emphatically, because not only among the poor and uneducated, but among the rich, who should know better, this practice is marvellously prevalent."

The Home Doctor.

Children like a warm beverage for breakfast and it is well for them to have it if the drink is a food and not a drug. Postum is made to supply a rich nourishing liquid food with a crisp coffee taste for those who cannot and should not use coffee. Analysis shows it to contain about fourteen per cent of muscle forming elements and 6.11 per cent of energy and fat-producing elements, which go to nourish and sustain the delicate nerve centers throughout the body and from which the vital energy proceeds. The success of child or adult depends largely upon proper sustenance for the body. Children who depend upon the intelligence of their elders to furnish them with good food deserve our most careful attention and thought.

RUMOR OF NAVAL SCANDAL

Story that Cadets Were Marked Low to Keep Them Out of War.

TRAVELS OF ARMY OFFICERS

Expense of Frequent Moves is Illustrated by the Case of Lieutenant Colonel Taylor.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, May 21.—(Special.)—The president, the Navy department, Congress and the public generally were astounded on Monday last when the news was flashed from Annapolis that not a single member of the class graduated in 1898 from the naval academy had passed sufficiently high in the final examinations to entitle him to a commission as ensign. Never before in the history of the institution, which is the pride of the country, has such a result followed a two-years' course of midshipmen who were sent out following their graduation. It was learned from some of those in close touch with the middies that the examination was the most severe ever imposed, and it is very broadly hinted that officers higher up were responsible for what is said to be a deliberate attempt to "bilge" the class of '98 in order that they themselves may longer remain on the active list of the navy. Whether this is true or not the president and the secretary of the navy decided that the action of the examining board was altogether too drastic and in spite of the adverse reports received all of the middies will be commissioned as ensigns.

It is probable, too, that the Board of Examiners to the Naval Academy, which will examine that institution this summer, will go more carefully into the curriculum and that a reformation in the examination imposed upon the embryo commanders will be radically reformed. The history of the navy shows that the sturdy graduates do not, as a rule, turn out to be the ablest navigators, and seamen. There is many an old seaman in the service today who ranks high as a statesman and a navigator who would be stumped by a problem in calculus which would be pie for a high school boy, and it is argued with a great deal of force that after passing the rigid examination imposed every year there will be some of the right kind of stuff in the class of 100 sturdy American boys who have had four years of academic education and two years of sea duty, even though they are not able to satisfactorily explain the fourth dimension.

Lieutenant Colonel Charles W. Taylor of the general staff of his army has just been ordered to proceed to Denver to take on the duties of adjutant general of the department of Colorado.

World's Sunday School Day

Pupils in Bible Schools All Over the World Will Recite Same Service Tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The World's Sixth Sunday School convention reunited to meet in one great session today in Convention hall with president F. B. Meyer of London, in the chair.

Tomorrow, May 22, will be world's Sunday school day. In every Sunday school in the union, it will be observed. The little children in the missions in China will be reciting the same order of service as the Sunday school children in Washington.

Today before the conference of speakers, William N. Harshorn reported for the field in North America and Rev. S. D. Zwemer told of the needs of the Moslem world.

Robert E. Speer spoke of "The Needs of the Mission Work Among Our Nearest Neighbors." Mr. Speer is secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions. Marion Lawrence outlined the plans for the next convention.

HAILSTONES LARGE AS EGGS

Orchards, Crops and Farm Buildings in Harper County, Kansas, Destroyed.

BLUFF CITY, Kan., May 21.—A tornado with a fall of hail stones as large as eggs destroyed farm houses, barns, orchards and crops in the eastern part of Harper county last night. No lives were lost. Telephone and telegraph wires were blown down.

Y. W. C. A. Notes.
All class work in the association closes with the week ending May 23. Several of the departments closed class work last week and a number of picnics mark the closing exercises.

The out-of-door work in connection with the association will be carried on at Carter lake through the months of June, July, August and part of September. The physical director will be hostess of the camp through the summer period.

Monday evening at 8:30, the Bible department banquet will be held. The following program will be given: Short address by Mrs. Emma F. Myers on "What the Young Woman's Christian Association Stands for as a World's 'Lids' Movement." Readings by Mrs. Charles F. Ross; vocal and instrumental music.

The vesper service Sunday will be in the nature of a musical program. Most of the hour will be taken for special music. The program will consist of vocal, violin and piano solos. Edith Collins and Dr. A. D. Laird will furnish the music. Miss Theodora P. Wilson, religious work director, will give a short talk on "Abigail, the Peace-maker." Meeting at 4:30 o'clock.
