Pullman Losses—Maurice Meyer recovered a verdict of $30 against the Pullman company in county court Monday. Meyer sued for the loss of an overcoat. He swore that the porter admitted having given the coat to another passenger, who kept it. Park Board Meets Friday—A regular meeting of the Omaha Park board will be held Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Nothing out of the ordinary routine is on the schedule to be acted on. On June 8 the board will open bids before the grading to be done this season on the boulevards. First Phone Installed—The South Omaha station of the Independent Telephone company has been completed and telephones are first being installed in homes and business houses in the city. The first telephone put in was in the home of F. A. Broadway, former clerk of the district court. Woman Naturalized—Miss Anna Jacobson, nurse in the family of Dr. A. P. Condon, was about to go back to Scandinavia for a visit and to show that she has become a good American applied in district court for the first papers of naturalization. Miss Hannah Swenson is another girl who asked for first papers. Most women who apply," said Deputy District Clerk Axel Store, "seek to be naturalized so that they can take up homestead claims." Knights of Columbus to Lincoln—Fifty members of Omaha council, Knights of Columbus, went to Lincoln Sunday to witness the initiation of a class of fifty-six candidates into Fitzgerald council. The exemplification of the third degree was in charge of State Deputy Arthur F. Miller and staff, assisted by C. G. Keefe of Sioux City. Following the degree work there was a banquet at the Lincoln hotel, at which 400 were seated. Scarcity of Flowers—From present indications there is going to be a very significant scarcity of flowers for decoration day purposes. Floral and American are usually in the height of bloom at this season are practically destitute of flowers just now. There may be a few of the snowball and bridal wreath flowers and a few peonies, but the prospect for an abundance of flowers is very remote.

Infuriated Negro Shoots Engineer

Laborer Discharged from Work Tries to Kill Engineer on Cudahy Plant Construction.

Arthur Standish, an engineer employed on construction at the Cudahy packing plant in South Omaha, was shot three times and dangerously wounded in the breast at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon by William Bailey, negro, a discharged laborer. Standish probably will recover. Bailey escaped from the scene of the shooting, but was soon caught near Sippy Mill. Bailey, a laborer, was discharged by his employer, Frank Burnham, contractor erecting the new hog house at the Cudahy plant, at noon Monday. The negro held Standish responsible for the dismissal and an hour later at the time of resuming work on the job walked up to him and fired. Two shots took effect in the breast, while a third struck Standish in the hand. The wounded man was taken to the office of Dr. O'Riley, a Cudahy company physician, where his wounds were given emergency treatment. Apparently the bullets had only caused deep flesh wounds, but Dr. O'Riley had Standish taken to the South Omaha hospital.

ALONG THE RAILROAD RUN

Station at Thermopolis is Open for Freight Business—Vice President. Burnham to Visit Omaha. George W. Holdrege, general manager of the Burlington, announces that he has opened the Thermopolis station in the Big Horn basin for freight business and that on June 13 the station will be opened for passenger service. The sidetrack at Lucerne, five miles south of Kirby, will be a prepaid station for freight business only. Effective May 29 the Burlington will run a standard sleeper on the Colorado limited which leaves Omaha for Denver at 11:35 p. m. The car will be opened for passengers at 9:30 o'clock. The Great Western has ordered fifty new locomotives to be soon put in service over the company's lines. The Rock Island and the Burlington have placed big orders for new steel to be used for bridges. C. G. Burnham, vice president of the Burlington, in charge of traffic, is expected to visit the local headquarters this week. He will be joined by Conrad E. Spens, general freight agent, on a trip to Denver. Western Union private car Chicago passed through Omaha Sunday while en route for San Francisco. The car was occupied by General Superintendent Cook. An Omaha wholesale and retail establishment of years' standing, doing a business of $300,000 annually, and the largest and strongest concern of its kind between Chicago and the coast, is willing to sell ten thousand dollars' worth of its treasury stock, which pays bigger dividends than and is every bit as safe as any bank. This is done in order to handle a greater volume of business, which may easily be had. Only a few representative investors are desired. Address 713, care Bee.

DYNAMITE FOR TOM DENNISON

Infernal Machine Placed on His Porch is Discovered.

FRANK ERDMAN UNDER ARREST

Man Who Threatened Life of the Intended Victim of Device Held by the Police—Explosive is Found by Girl.

An infernal machine, charged with twenty-four sticks of dynamite, was found on the porch of Tom Dennison's home, 1507 North Eighteenth street, Sunday evening. Frank Erdman, 423 North Eighteenth street, who claims to be an agent of Elmer Thomas, attorney for the Anti-Saloon league, was arrested later in the evening when Dennison made a statement to the police that Erdman had threatened his life. Erdman has been identified by a workman in the Union Pacific shops, but whose name the police say is Ole Olson, as being an escaped convict from the Colorado state prison at Canon City. Nordine visited Erdman in jail and, shaking hands, held a conversation with him. "He was at Canon City under the name of Brinkmann. He was No. 5660," said Nordine. Erdman makes a stout denial of having served in the Colorado prison and insists that he had no connection with the placing of the machine on Dennison's porch. Chief Donahue has received the following telegram in reply to a message sent to Canon City Monday morning: CANON CITY, Colo., May 23, 1910.—John J. Donahue, Chief of Police, Hold Brinkman, 1910. Am sending photo and description today. THOMAS J. TIENEN. Warden, Colorado State Prison. Erdman has made an unenviable name for himself by his operations in Omaha during the last year. He has several times pulled one or two revolvers in saloons, and once he "stuck up" a saloon in East Omaha, single handed, while he pretended to search for gambling devices. He has proclaimed himself as the man who is to break up "crooked gambling," and a few days ago was the chief witness in a police court case, alleging a charge of keeping a gambling house against the owners of the Budweiser saloon. The case was dismissed by Judge Crawford. Chief of Police Donahue has tried on several occasions to get Erdman to desist from his peculiar operations, but without avail. Erdman has also figured in the anti-saloon crusade throughout the state, and was concerned in the recent upheaval at Crawford.

Lilly M. Strong

New Secretary of the Y. W. C. A.

Well Known Association Worker is Secured to Head the Omaha Institution. Miss Lilly M. Strong of Michigan has accepted the call of the directors of the Young Women's Christian association to succeed Mrs. Emma Byers as general secretary and will arrive in Omaha to assume her new duties the first of September. Miss Strong at the time the Omaha association offer reached her was considering a call from the city association of Detroit to be its general secretary, and also one from the national board asking her to be city worker in the new territorial department of which Mrs. Byers is to be the executive. Miss Strong chose the position of general secretary of the second largest city association in the country, Omaha. Speaking of Miss Strong's acceptance, Mrs. Byers was most emphatic in saying that Miss Strong was her choice for the position. "Her acceptance makes me very happy and also gives me a secure feeling as to the association. She is a very able worker, well posted, conservative and a woman of wide experience."

Stone Cutter is Crushed to Death

John Rhine Meets with Fatal Accident in Stone Yards Monday Morning. John Rhine, a stonecutter, living at Sixth and Popple streets, was crushed to death this morning by being caught under a 3,000 pound stone he was lifting with a derrick at the yards of A. Schall company at Sixth and Jones streets. The huge stone was being hoisted at the stone-cutting plant of the firm, but in some way it slipped from its carrier and Rhine was crushed beneath its weight. The accident happened at 7:40 this morning.

SWIFT TYPEWRITER ARTIST

IN OMAHA FOR CONVENTION Comes from New York and Has Trick of Writing 100 Words Minute While Talking at Same Time.

By way of advance guard of the Commercial Teachers' convention which assembles in Omaha at the Boyles' building Thursday of this week, Raymond P. Kelley, manager of the school department of the Remington Typewriter company, arrived in Omaha this morning, accompanied by Ernest G. Weise of New York. Miss Rose Fritz, world's champion typist, also of New York, is expected to arrive tomorrow, and Lewis and Coombes, the Canadian champion, will probably reach Omaha Tuesday night. While Mr. Weise is not the champion typist of the world, he is nevertheless able to "go some," and at a private demonstration before pupils in the Boyles school this morning he clocked off all the way from 100 to 110 words per minute, writing from a book. The most astonishing feat, however, was the writing of 101 words per minute, while at the same time he conducted an animated conversation with one of the Boyles teachers. All the while he had one eye on the book from which he copied, for it was new matter to him. Weise, a modest young man, had the distinction last March of giving a typewriter speed demonstration before the clerical force in the White House at Washington. He will remain here through the convention, and will divide honors with Miss Fritz and Mr. Coombes.

COUNTY TAX TO BE INCREASED

Indications Are that Assessors Have Missed So Many Others Must Make Up the Difference.

The county tax levy is likely to be increased by the Board of Equalization when that body meets. It is now almost certain that hundreds and even thousands of personal taxpayers of last year will escape this time through having been missed by the precinct assessors. But one week remains for them to work, and the total is still many thousands of schedules less than in 1909. This means that if the same amount of revenue is to be returned, the levy must be larger. Last year the levy was 50 mills and this year it is likely to go to 75 or 80, if as much revenue is to be raised. There will be some loud groans from taxpayers if the board does raise the levy, for the same men and women have to pay an increase in the city levy of 15.3 mills above the rate in 1909. It is the opinion that business men and others will demand in loud tones a change in the law regarding election of precinct assessors, because as matters now stand some are sure to escape paying taxes at all, and those who do will pay more, probably.

NO PROOF AGAINST ERDMAN

Police Have Not Connected Suspect with Attempt. Through a searching examination of their prisoner, the police Monday morning failed to get any definite evidence that Frank Erdman had placed the infernal machine on the porch of Thomas Dennison's home Sunday, a crime for which the man was arrested a few minutes after the discovery of the dynamite plant. Erdman freely admitted he had many times advocated the assassination of gamblers, including Dennison. However, the suspect was earnest in his denial that he had placed the plot to destroy Dennison Sunday. A statement was gained from P. R. Allen, conductor of a Sherman avenue street car that he had seen a man carrying a suitcase get off his car at the Yates' street

STRIKE STOPS BRICK PAVING

Not a Paving Brick is Being Shipped Into Omaha.

ASPHALT IS NOW BEING LAID

Contractors Improve the Time in Placing Concrete Base, to Be Ready for the Brick When it Comes.

Not a paving brick is being brought into Omaha these days, because of the strike of brick loaders at the Purlington brick yards in Galesburg, Ill. While Hugh Murphy has some brick on hand, the amount is very small, Colonel Charles E. Fanning and other contractors have absolutely none of the Purlington brick and cannot get any now. "While we are laying concrete on some of the streets we have under contract," said Colonel Fanning, "we are doing it simply to be prepared when the strike begins to arrive. The lack of paving brick is costing me a large amount of money every week, but apparently there is nothing to be done. A man from the Galesburg plant was to have arrived in Omaha today, but I am unable to see that his coming will do us any good." City Engineer Craig and the local contractors understand the Galesburg plant is choked with brick ready for shipment, but the company hesitates to bring in strike-breakers to load the made-up article. The local men concerned also say the question that has tied up the Galesburg yards is not one affecting wages, but relates solely to the open shop. The brick loaders insist that the yards shall be unionized throughout and the company is contending for an open shop so far as brick loaders are concerned. The strike has now been on for about three months. Pending a settlement of the trouble at Galesburg, Contractor Murphy and the Bryant, Ford & McLaughlin firm are going ahead with whatever asphalt paving they have under contract. Colonel Fanning takes contracts for brick paving only.

Three Thousand for Two Ear Drums

Fred Niece is Given a Verdict for Injuries Received by an Explosion.

Fred Niece was given a verdict of $3,000 against the Farmers Co-operative Creamery company by a jury in the district court Monday morning. The verdict was sealed. Niece sued for the loss of his ear drums, which were destroyed by an explosion in a trap at the plant of the company. Mrs. William A. Hedrick and Mrs. W. B. Millard are in charge of the Dolly Varden dolls, a group of little girls who furnish one of the especially pretty features of "The Toy Shop," the children's opera, which is to be given at the Brandeis theater Friday evening and Saturday afternoon and evening for the benefit of the Child Saving institute. This dance, which was evolved by Miss Margaret Martin from a children's dance given at a large bazaar in London, is making its western debut. The little girls wear the quaint Dolly Varden costume, pointed basques, flowered polonaise over the short, plain skirts, large poke bonnet tied with large coquettish streamers. The dance is an animated waltz, composed of pinnettes, glides and poses. The leaders in the dance are Misses Mildred House, Adelle Fogg, and the other dancers are Misses Mildred Ganett, Lucy Garven, Mildred Stafford, Gretchen Swaboda, and Dorothy Cavanaugh.

CHANGES AT THE POSTOFFICE

General Delivery Department Moved to North Corner, with Four Instead of Two Windows.

The general delivery department of the Omaha postoffice has been changed from the location it has occupied since the building was completed at the northeast corner of the main corridor of the sixteenth street front to the north corridor immediately facing the Capitol Avenue entrance. The change went into effect Monday morning. There are now four general delivery windows, from A to E, F to K, L to Q and R to Z, thus greatly facilitating handling the general delivery mail. Formerly there were but two windows, and in rush hours these windows were always more or less crowded and congested.

Sociology Class from Y. W. C. A. at Juvenile Court

Present at an Interesting Session Before Judge Sutton Monday—Several Cases Heard.

If Mrs. Theo Wilson's sociological class from the Young Women's Christian association was in search of thrills it secured them in juvenile court Monday when the cast of Rosa Liberatti was called. The little girl, 15 years of age, had been brought in because her screams aroused neighbors who told probation officers her father was beating her most cruelly. A glance at the black and blue marks extending onto her wrists from the ends of her sleeves showed beyond any doubt that the child had suffered. The father, Edward Liberatti, who had been brought in by an officer, admitted that he punished the girl with a strap. The black and blue marks were not confined to the arms, but extended across the body and over the knees. Judge Sutton at first said he would send the man to jail and then concluded that to take the child away from him forever would be more drastic punishment for the man and better for the girl. A new home will be found for her. The sociologizing visitors saw two boys sent to the Detention school as punishment for use of bricks as weapons. One of these was John Cronion of Thirty-second and S streets, South Omaha. His offense was throwing at a peddler, a practice, Judge Sutton announces, he will break up if every offender has to go to Kearney. The other brick, which figured in the morning's proceedings, was declared to have been in the hand of Sam Wiseman, a newsboy. Wiseman smote "Tubby" Lorman, rival paper vendor in the mouth and dislodged two incisors. James Hall, prisoner awaiting trial for the death of his wife, was brought into court in regard to the disposition of his son, Albert, a boy of 4 years. Hall asked to have the child placed in a charge of a colored woman whose circumstances will be investigated. The grandmother of the little colored boy, on his father's side, lives in Texas. She sent a ticket here for his travel south, but the railroads will not carry a child of his years unaccompanied. The mother of the slain woman lives in Washington, and is said to be poor.

Mayor Dahlman Goes to Red Cloud

Will Open Base Ball Game and Also Talk Politics on the Same Day.

Mayor Dahlman left last evening for Red Cloud, Neb., where he will throw the first ball over the plate, or somewhere in the vicinity, Tuesday afternoon, at the opening game of the season in that town. The base ball opening is to be made an affair of some pretensions in Red Cloud, and the surrounding country is expected to turn out a large crowd. With this fact in view Red Cloud friends of the Omaha mayor have arranged for a meeting at the opera house in the evening, when Dahlman will deliver an address that is expected to be an amplification of his platform pronouncement. He will also very likely give some attention to the recent speech delivered in Omaha by W. J. Bryan. Mayor Dahlman takes the position, as he intimated today, that Nebraska, in town and country, is growing better all the time; that there is less drunkenness and less drinking today than ever before, and that therefore the need for a county local option law is less pressing than ever before. At the same time he will stick to his platform declaration that the proposed county option law is against all the traditions of his party, and so must be opposed on principle. "It is not a political question in any sense," asserts the mayor, "and everybody should oppose the effort to make it such." Bes Want Ads Are Business Boosters.
