Rain Interferes with Plans for Outdoor Social Events

Nature's generous downpour of rain last evening upset the plans for a number of motoring picnics today, and instead many informal supper and bridge parties will be given either at home or at the country club.

The formal opening of the Rod and Gun club, the largest athletic club of the city, takes place this afternoon and evening. The new dining pavilion has been completed and the floor will accommodate about 200.

For the Future

Events of Interest That Are On The Local Social Calendar That Promise Much of Pleasure.

Mrs. Walter T. Page will entertain Friday afternoon at her home in honor of Mrs. Joseph Page of Victor, Colo., and on Saturday afternoon Mrs. Page will give an informal tea.

At the Country Club. The largest dinner party this evening at the Country club will be given by Lieutenant and Mrs. William N. Haskell in honor of Miss Martin Connell and Mr. Isaac Raymond and their wedding party.

Aids to Housekeepers. Every housekeeper experiences from time to time annoyance in finding stains on delicate fabrics. There is a way to use the sun and moisture in removing such stains.

Perpetual Youth

A YOUNG heart is the secret of perpetual youth. The truth of the statement has not been contested, yet the secret remains a secret still! How win the young heart? Possibly there is an answer in the philosophy of Mrs. Charles M. Oelrichs.

then rinse with hot soda water. The acid must be removed the moment it has done its work. To prevent beds from creaking: If you can trace the sound to the place where it is made, oil that place. If it is not possible to trace the noise to its source, oil all the joints in the bed, even places where one piece of wood might rub upon another.

BACK TO A LONG SLEEP

Remarkable Case of Sleeping Sickness Doubtfuls Brooklyn Neurologist.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hodcs of No. 94 Blake avenue, Brooklyn, who has been the victim of a baffling sleeping sickness for eighteen months, returned into a state of narcolepsy Sunday, after she had been awake for fifty hours. The woman lapsed into unconsciousness at a time when her husband and her two sons were making every effort to keep her awake.

Dr. Quackenbos advised the removal of Mrs. Hodcs from her home to a neurological institute, where the case could be made a subject of further study. The woman gave a complete history of the case before she gave way to drowsiness.

In her sleep Mrs. Hodcs appeared like a dead person. Her body was rigid and her jaws were set like a vise. A pallor spread over her features and respiration was almost imperceptible. She would respond to the crude methods used by her husband and sons in their efforts to awaken her.

It is a horrible sensation. I can feel the muscles of my feet, my arms and my face set tightly. Then a convulsion overpowers my sense of thought, and I know nothing more until some weird dream arouses me. I leap from my bed as that dream reaches its climax, and slowly I realize that I have been in a deep sleep for perhaps two or five days.

To Brighten a Carpet. Potent water is excellent for brightening up shabby or faded carpets. First of all, the carpet should be well beaten and brushed. Then take half a dozen good sized potatoes and grate them as finely as possible into a bucket of warm water.

AFFAIRS AT SOUTH OMAHA

Memorial Day Observed by Veterans at City Churches.

EXERCISES BY THE METHODISTS

Sermon Delivered by Rev. J. M. Bothwell—Judge E. M. Bartlett Talks at the Presbyterian Church.

Fifty or more veterans of the civil war, comprising the majority of the members of the Grand Army of the Republic residing in South Omaha attended the Sunday morning services at the Methodist church.

Old residents of the city declared that the attendance of the veterans was the largest in years and that the service was enjoyed by more people than on former occasions of the kind.

The exercises consisted of two special numbers by the choir, both being patriotic and commemorative of the occasion. The sermon was delivered by Rev. J. M. Bothwell.

Among the things emphasized were three distinct phases of human thought, and attitude toward life, liberty and happiness, which have prevailed in the United States at different periods. The first phase was that in which the people supported the principle that they should not submit to oppression, neither would they.

Judge E. M. Bartlett's Address. Judge E. M. Bartlett of Omaha addressed the Presbyterian congregation Sunday evening on the general topic of Memorial day.

He gave this address under the auspices of the Presbyterian Brotherhood, the president of which organization introduced him. The service preliminary to the address consisted of scripture and prayer by Dr. K. L. Wheeler and music by a male quartet.
