DR. MARSHALL MAY DECLINE

Minneapolis Man's Acceptance of Seminary Presidency in Doubt.

PROTEST TO GENERAL ASSEMBLY

Students, Alumni and Trustees Object to Methods, Not Man, and Election is Advised by Assembly Committee.

Dr. A. B. Marshall of Minneapolis, elected to succeed Dr. M. B. Lowrie as president of the Omaha Theological seminary, has not yet accepted the office.

Alumni, students, some trustees and others united in a protest to certain methods employed by the board in procuring the presidency. They presented a remonstrance to general assembly, the highest court of the Presbyterian church, through Rev. C. W. Weyer of Hastings, a seminary trustee, alumnus and president of the Alumni association and the seminary committee of the assembly, decided to advise Dr. Marshall not to accept the presidency until he had secured a meeting of the whole board of trustees and obtained a complete review of the matters. This committee, on which was a brother of Dr. Lowrie, the retiring president, adopted the seminary trustees' report only on condition of Dr. Marshall's complying with its recommendation.

The protest was not personal or aimed at Dr. Marshall, but, as Mr. Weyer stated to assembly, against methods employed in his election. It was so emphatic that undergraduate students have declared they will not return next fall unless things change.

Points in Protest.

Mr. Weyer and his side based their protest on these points, chiefly:

First—That the full board of trustees was not notified of a meeting to elect a president, that only eighteen of the thirty-nine trustees and that but twelve were present at the election, eight voting for Dr. Marshall.

Second—That certain correspondence, which trustees averred influenced them to elect Dr. Marshall, was never disclosed to the entire faculty, although addressed to it; that the faculty, as a whole, had no until called into the election, one by one, and asked the question, "Will you work under the plan of Dr. Marshall as president?"

Third—That two trustees in this meeting pleaded to defer the election until a full board could be summoned and were overrudden.

Fourth—That the nominating committee forced the hand of the board—those members not otherwise informed by bringing in one nomination with the statement that it was concurred in by all of the executive committee, when one member of that committee strongly opposed it.

Criticism of the Procedure.

The assembly committee severely criticized this procedure.

Dr. Marshall, before assembly met, was informed by letter and in person—a pro-posal of the remonstrance. Some of his friends believe he is not the man to accept the place under the circumstances. He has been president of the board for some years.

The students, alumni and protesting trustees favor Dr. D. E. Jenkins of the chair of systematic theology for the presidency, declaring him to be the only logical man, because of his ten years service there, his vigor and progressiveness and national reputation as a theologian. Members of the board who voted for Dr. Marshall had repeatedly declared that Dr. Jenkins was the man when Dr. Lowrie resigned.

It is the belief that matters will be adjusted and Dr. Lowrie will consent to be re-elected for another year as acting president, by which time his successor will be elected. Dr. Lowrie is now in Europe.

State Institute Held at Farm

Two Hundred Enrolled at Lincoln with Other States Well Represented.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LINCOLN, June 3.—The Nebraska State Institute closed today with a program at the University farm. The secretary's records show that about 200 were enrolled in this institute. Of this number fifty were county superintendents, 100 city superintendents and twenty-five school officers.

Superintendents from other states present and taking part in the program were E. T. Fairchild of Kansas, W. E. Harmon of Montana, C. G. Schultz of Minnesota, John W. Zeller of Ohio, A. C. Nelson of Utah, N. P. Swanson of South Dakota, John P. Riggs of Iowa and Harlan Undergraff of the United States bureau of education.

The sectional meetings closed with a joint session of county superintendents, junior normal, normal training and institute instructors. At this session the consolidation of school districts was presented by Ben F. Robinson, who is principal of the Sholes consolidated district of Wayne county. This district now employs three teachers and the work offered extends to the tenth grade. The district includes fifteen sections, with a school population of about 100.

Mr. Robinson maintained that the tendency now is toward the centralized school, that consolidation is cheaper eventually than the one-room district and believes that it is only a matter of time until the little one-room school house will, in the more thickly settled localities be a thing of the past.

R. W. Eaton, superintendent of the Geneva city schools, read a paper on play grounds. Mr. Eaton said that many public schools in this state, as well as in the United States, make no provision for the child at play, and that it is wrong to rob a child of his childhood. Mention was made of what has been done in the matter of play grounds in other states.

Superintendent Bishop gave a talk on the work of the boys and girls and announced that there are now 3,500 boys and girls taking a definite line of industrial work in Nebraska.

At 4:30 p. m. at the Home Economics building, University farm, an informal tea was given to all members of the state institute.

We Sell the Most Clothing in Omaha.....

The enormous quantity of clothes we sell allows us an advantage no other store in Omaha possesses—namely—a perpetual variety of new styles and patterns. Most stores buy their season's variety and quantities early. They have to rely on the makers' suggestion as to what is going to be popular—what their patrons will require for the entire season. Our advanced methods of buying and business strategy brings to us "something new every day." You don't see the same patterns here from one season's end to the other—as in most places. There's "something doing" here all the time in fresh and snappy supplies—and this is only possible with a store like this that sells such great amounts of clothing.

Swell suits at $10, $12, $15 and $18.

The most sought after are $20, $22.50 and $25.

The best "what is" $28, $30, $32.50 and $35.

Come in and feel at home. There's not a "grouch" in our employ.

JUDGMENT FOR WIFE'S LOVE

Jury Gives Phelps Verdict for $16,666.67 Against Bergers.

REACHED ON TWO BALLOTS

Eleven Men Take Average of Estimates of the Value of Affection in Deciding the Amount of Damages.

John W. Bergers must pay Frank N. Phelps $16,666.67. An award of this amount is given Phelps by the district court jury which heard the alienation of affection suit. A verdict for the plaintiff was reached on the second ballot and the amount determined on a third.

The first ballot stood ten to one in favor of Phelps. There were only eleven jurors considering the case, for one of the original twelve, Henry Olson, was excused on account of illness shortly after the hearing began.

When the eleven had voted that they thought Phelps ought to recover each juror wrote down the amount and the total was figured and divided by eleven. In this way the sum of $16,666.67 was reached. It is declared that one or two jurors favored giving Phelps the whole amount asked for, while some were considerably below the amount reached. The plaintiff asked $25,000. The verdict is a record breaker in Douglas county in a case of the kind. Neither Phelps nor Bergers was in the court room when the verdict was read.
