Cotton Market.

NEW YORK, June 7.—COTTON—Market opened steady at an advance of 1677 points on the strong Liverpool cables, big English spot sales and continued covering of near months shorts. The big buils seemed to be letting go of a little of their cotton around 15.30c for July and fluctuations right after the call were irregular, as there was also some selling of new crop months by the south on the good weather reports. But Wall street was a buyer of both near and late positions. Liverpool bought the near months and the market during the middle of the morning ruled about $220 points net higher.

trade was a little quiet, but traders soon got down to business and anything useful in the way of beef steers sold at figures fully steady with those of yesterday.

The proportion of cows and helfers was none too large, only about twenty-five or thirty loads of this class of stock being included in the run. Both local and outside butchers bought freely from the opening and the big bulk of offerings sold in good season. Prices ruled a shade higher on all classes, the bulk of sales appearing to be fully steady to a little higher than those of yesterday. Veal calves are in usual good demand and are selling at figures fully as high as last Friday, while there is little notable change in bulls, stags and rough stock generally.

Despite the fact that there were only a rough stock generally.

Despite the fact that there were only a few loads of stock cattie included in the rate will and the read of the inquiry from yard traders and country buyers was rather dull and trade quiet throughout. With the volume of business naturally small, the situation as a whole experienced no change of consequence, but the trend of prices was, if anything, a little lower, several early sales showing dime declines.
