REAL ESTATE
FARM AND RANCH LAND FOR SALE
 Nebraska—Continued.

What is Land Worth?

Good corn land in Nebraska, Iowa and Illinois is selling at $100 to $150 per acre. Optimistic people say it will go higher. The average yield of corn per acre on this land is less than 30 bushels to the acre. Corn at 50c per bushel and 50 bushels to the acre—$25 per acre. Compare this with the price of the land.

Scott's Bluff Irrigated Land

One Scott's Bluff farmer who has 25 acres of alfalfa says he NETS over $2 per acre for his crop. Another tells of a NET of $200 for his alfalfa. Sugar beets produce from 15 to 25 tons per acre and the price is fixed at $3 per ton. Taking the low figure an average, it is three times as profitable as corn growing. Once under irrigation will produce double the crop raised in the corn belt.

A Few Items of Interest to the Women Folks

I saw an exquisite frock recently in combination of black lace and ivory white chiffon cloth. It made me think of the possibilities two black lace scarfs have.

The entire gown was of white, with a panel overdress in black lace. Now with two scarfs at a woman's disposal the first could be cut in two evenly and arranged to fall from the bust, one strip on either side of the center front, the border coming at the lower edge. The strip in the back would be single and longer than those in the front. A jet belt could be added and the panels held down at intervals with small jet ornaments. The lace cut from the second scarf could form the sleeve drapery.

The newest neck ruff is so simple to construct that any person who can sew can make a duplicate. The effect is flat rather than round, and one of the prettiest as well as the most practical models in this style is of black and white maline. Knife pleated frills five or seven inches wide used three rows, the white coming between the two black.

All are the same width and are headed with a twist of black ribbon velvet which forms ties or may be left flowing as preferred. This accessory will harmonize with any color dress, but, of course, these ruffs are worn to match the shade of the gown if so desired.

Lovely scarfs are fashioned from the Persian bordered chiffons and marquisettes combined with maribou. The tones known as natural and the white feathery stuff combine prettily with the fragile fabrics.

In using the printed materials only a border of the maribou is necessary for good effect, while when a solid color forms the foundation a third strip must be added through the center of the scarf. Otherwise the little wrap may look skimpy and lack character.

Another pretty idea in scarfs is to place two different colors over each other and then edge all around with the maribou.

The "umbrella" is the newest fad in shoulder shawls. These are circular in shape and of a generous size, though extremely light in weight because the wool is fine and the design of the crochet is light and lacy. They are serviceable as a light protection for the shoulders when staying in the mountains or strolling on the beach.

They come in black, white, cardinal and the chintilla grays, at $2.50 each, but orders will be taken for any color combinations.
