A child so white in appearance that no one could distinguish her from white children in general has been denied admission to a public school for whites in the District of Columbia on the ground, as Justice Wright says, that complexion does not decide one's color. After a hard fight with the Board of Education, Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, super-intendent of schools of Chicago, has succeeded in having adopted a rule that hereafter all applicants for principalships must be college graduates. In defending the new order, Mrs. Young said: "There are many principals, who are among the best we have and yet are not college graduates, but there is growing a broader demand for better trained principals and teachers."

OLD RAIL DEBT SETTLED BY STOCK SUBSCRIBERS

Judgment Confessed by Firm that Took $1,200 in Shares in Omaha & Nebraska Central.

The old Omaha & Nebraska Central rallway case was revived this morning when Chaplain & Higgins of Schuyler, confessed judgment in the sum of $160 in the case made out against them by Prosecutor Dickinson. They were prosecuted as sharereceiver, there being nearly 100 defendants to the suit.

When the company was floated Chaplain & Higgins took twelve shares at $1,200, making a payment of $300 and leaving $900 due. The judgment confessed is one-ninth of their indebtedness and it is probable that other defendants will settle at practically the same rate, now Chaplain & Higgins have started the ball rolling.

Hines, Characterized "The Virginian," Meets Old Friends in City.

Affording a big surprise for many friends the city, "Missu" Hines, the picturesque character said to be the original of "The Virginian," arrived in Omaha yesterday. Mr. Hines was illusive to interviewers, but had a hearty handclasp and cheery greeting for those of his acquaintances he encountered in his old haunts. The visitor makes his home in Colorado, the scene of many escapades and adventures attributed to him in stories. He is known over the country not only as the man Owen Wister had in mind when the author wrote his famous book and play, but as a notable ranchman and cattle ralser.

up to now quite unimpeached. His broth er-in-law was quite willing to return to America, leaving matters as they stood but Tonnesen suddenly complicates the situation by seeking to marry a girl who has grown up in Bernick's home, the daughter of that actress whose name Bernick had let Tonnesen share instead of himself. Another suitor throws the situation a little more awry by denouncing Ton nesen to the girl. Promptly he calls upor Bernick to clear him. To get rid of him Bernick plans to let him go to sea in a vessel supposed to be repaired at his own shippard and known to him to be quite unseaworthy.

The tensest moment in the drama comes when Bernick thinks Tonnesen has gone on this vessel and then learns also that his own son has become a stowaway upon this ship. Following this agony, everything is made to work out with remarkable smoothness. The boy's own mother having watched him, snatches him away from the ship's hold, the vesel is delayed in sailing Bernick confesses all to everyone.

Mr. Blinn is afforded opportunity for powerful acting throughout the drama and his visualization of Bernick's feeling, when he learns that he has doomed his own son to death is a wonderful piece of work, a veritable tour de force. It is a sun-clear exposition he gives of the character, a man whose like is to be found many times, able, energetic, somewhat unscrupulous, persuading himself that he is in the grip of circumstances and that he may do good for a whole community by wreaking evil on an individual or two.

Mrs. Fiske's own acting is of cours superb, unerring, accurate in every line and detail. Her Lona Hessel is leading an attack upon social pharisaism, but its holders of a company now in the hands of primary accent is an effort in behalf of one man, Bernick, the love of her youth. Of the other players, particular excel lence was shown last_night by Sheldon Lewis doing a character part as an old shipyard foreman, by Henry Stephenson, as Dr. Rorlund, a smug and pictistic schoolmaster, and by Cyril Chadwick, as

Do you realize that the medicine you are taking may be doing you harm instead of good? Have you noticed that the more you take the more you require to get relief? STOP AND THINK. Are you using the same caution in the selection of the medicines you are taking for the protection of your health that you would exercise in selecting a trustee for the protection of your cash? A woman's allments are delicate subjects to discuss, and she will ofttimes bear the most torturing pains without confiding her trouble to her closest friend, or even her family doctor This natural feminine modesty makes many a suffering woman the innocent victim of merciless and avaricious manufacturers of advertised, but worthless, "cure all" nostrums. If your ailment is serious you should see your family physician at once, but when this is impossible do the next best thing-take that your druggist would recommend to his friends or give to a member of his family suffering from such ailments, and is the best ready-made remedy you can get. A. D. S. PELVITONE is compounded by the most experienced and intelligent pharmacists. It has been approved as the very best by the A. D. S. National Formula Committee, representing 12,000 of the leading druggists of the United States, who constitute the American Druggists Syndicate, and who know its true value. Does it not look reasonable that these men should select the very best remedy known and sell it under honest representation? Get it at any A. D. S. drug store.

"Gas Service" Mutual Responsibility:-

We are responsible to the citizens of Omaha for their gas service.

We accept that responsibility without reserve and we are constantly striving to make this service perfect. The difficulties we encounter in serving nearly one hundred and fifty thousand people are of interest only to us—the result alone is interesting to our consumers. But in the effort to obtain perfect service there is a mutuality-our consumers are partially responsible.

Their responsibility lies in making known to us promptly any point wherein they feel that we have not fully done our part.

Omaha Gas Company

We do not shirk and trust our consumers will not.
