This, because I hate fishermen that happens to appear. The to see sham battles, I doubt not at all war against the allens who have been performing all sorts of mischief in the neigh-

The situation became acute and the community rose up in its white heat of ire Tuesday when it became known that the last party of introding fishermen had gone so far as to insuit little children. It was reported that an outfit of the fishermen, little ones formed quickly in a posse to overtake the fishermen, but were too late to do so.

The farmers took their grievance first to the sheriff of Washington county, asking to be appointed deputies to arrest the outlaw marauders. They explained how the law had been broken by thefts of chickens, destruction of property and littering of the roads with beer bottles by the strangers. The sheriff, however, declined to take the responsibility of giving power of officers to a crew of enraged farmers. The farmers declare now they will take the law in their own hands. The vigilance committee plans to keep watch for the next fishing outfit, and upon the first sign of impropriety, to give them a drubbing.

No Sham Battles. OMAHA, June 15 .- To the Editor of The Hee: Of course I recognize that a contest before the requblican primaries is no affair of mine, but I wish to say just a word of commendation for the attitude of Friend Blackburn in his challenge to Judge Excitement runs high among the farmers Sutton and to express the hope that the while a vigitance committee is forming to Blackburn is trying to make that of the farmers banded themselves together in a that Judge Sutton will come back at Blackborn with an answer that will put him equally on record, and though it may not make Blackburn sorry that he spoke, will show at least that there will be a real contest upon principle for the republican omination. That is as it should be.

Now, in my unobtrusive, modest way, I have been trying to force my opponents for the democratic nomination to congress to mounted in a huge brewery wagon, had be equally as frank as I have been in passed along the country road toward the giving to the people a straightforward lake, and upon overtaking a group of declaration as to where they stand upon the school girls, had cast indecent remarks great issues of our day, but up to date upon them. Fathers and brothers of the they have not said a word. Personally, one of them remarked to me that he was "for everybody," and I have since been wondering if he stands the same way upon the vital public issues, upon which the people are thinking so seriously. I don't like sham

Now, should Tom Blackburn keep up the gait he has set, showing how true a standpatter he is, I acknowledge that I will have real foe for the election, should be be the republican nominee for congress at the primaries August 16, as the democratic nominee I certainly shall be. Tom and I will show the people of this district a real, up-to-date, ask-no-quarter-and-takenone fight for election-he for the old rock-ribbed, stand-pat brand of republicanism and I for democratic democracy.

LYNCH TALKS ON PLUMBING Tells Why Lead Pipe is Substituted

for Iron and What the Additional Cost Will Be. City Plumbing Inspector Lynch, taking

note of certain objections to the new plumbing ordinance among those who have not studied its provisions, says; "The new ordinance to govern the plumbing work hereafter to be done in Omaha is simply bringing our rules and has been appointed cierk at Panama. regulations in line with the most approved provisions in other large cities. In the matter of providing for the use of lead pipe, over which some people appear to be worried, the cost will not amount to more than $1 for the ordinary house built, and in the end it will be a saving. Lead pipe is much better than fron pipe, because acids, very much in use today, especially in buildings where physicians and other professional men are located, corrode the iron, and it has been found the average life of an iron pipe is about nine years, while a lead pipe is practically indestructible

"Another thing, lead pipe is provided for only under basins and drains, and the three feet, unless in exceptional cases, This and other features of the ordinance have been threshed over for months, and we have answered all questions asked openly and often, in committee meeting and before the council. The ordinance s a distinct advance, it is generally agreed, and will wrong nobody; nor is it drawn in the interest of anybody other than the general citizenship.

Oust Suspicious Spectators from Bribery Hearing

Chicago Politician and Man Who Voiced Opinion Ordered from Court During Brome Trial.

CHICAGO, June 15 .- The expulsion of two spectators from the trial of Lee O'Neill Browne yesterday gave emphasis to quantity used will hardly ever exceed State's Attorney Wyman's declaration that he will take no chance of undue influences reaching the jury.

The men removed were Ernest Krulewich, a West Side politician, and Henry Wagner. The latter owes his embarassment to haring made audible expression in the belief in the guilt of the defendant. Mr. Wayman said he had not seen Krulewich do anything wrong, but that during the trial of "Skinny" Madden, a labor leader, charged with extortion, Krulewich had brought suspicion upon himself by shaking hands with Madden in front of the jury. The subject of the ejectment was, in addition, subpoensed before the grand jury tomorrow. During the cross examination of Representative Charles E. Brown, who alleged Browne paid him $1,000 to vote for William Lorimer for United States senator, the defense began an attack on the character of White with the usual ultimate design, it is said, of charging that the present allegations grew out of an unsuccessful blackmailing scheme of White's. Wishing to introduce some of White's defendant's counsel, ran against a snag Browne legal battery, but finally two letters were identified.

The assessed value of Douglas county property for 1910 is $1,201,400 more than that for 1909. A great part of the increase can be accounted for by the fact that the waterworks was included, its assessed value being $700,000, although it will be hardly possible to levy a tax upon it this year, owing to the recent court decision giving the city the plant.

Other increases were due to the formation of two new banks, Corn Exchange and City National, and the increase placed on valuation by the street railway company and the electric light company.
