FOURTH INFANTRY ARRIVES

New Regiment for Fort Crook Fresh from Philippine Islands.

COLONEL BOLTON IS DELIGHTED

Is Struck at Once with the Appearance of His New Post and is Glad to Be Stationed Near Omaha.

Colonel Edwin B. Bolton, commander of the Fourth United States infantry regiment, arrived, with his officers and men, at Fort Crook, Friday morning at 11:05 o'clock. The new commanding officer expressed himself as being greatly pleased with the appearance of the post, and said that he was glad to be in Nebraska.

"I'm sure," said Colonel Bolton, "that I shall like Fort Crook. After traveling through the desert plains from San Francisco, this pretty spot seems like a paradise. The grounds are beautiful and everything about the post is in splendid shape. Colonel Gardner deserves great credit for keeping things in such first-class condition, and I will feel happy if I can manage to do as well as he has done. The post is a large and important one and it gives me great pleasure to be so near Omaha. Of course, I have been so busy since my arrival that I haven't had time to see half of the beauties of Fort Crook, and I know that new delights are in store for me."

The first section of troops arrived at the fort at 2:15 and the second section reached the place at 2:30. The regiment is divided into two battalions, which have come direct from the Philippines, where they were stationed at Camp Jessiman on Gymaras island, which is about twenty-six by twelve miles, and lies directly opposite Iloilo. They went to the Philippines April 1, 1908, and April 11 relieved the Eighth infantry. During January and February of the present year the troops were at Manila.

The regiment consists of two battalions, eight companies and a band. The third battalion, under the command of Lieutenant Colonel William Lassiter, is stationed at Fort Logan H. Root, Little Rock, Ark., where it went to relieve a battalion of the Sixteenth infantry. Among the new officers who arrived Friday, is Second Lieutenant Raymond D. Smith, in command of Company D, who is a son of General F. A. Smith, in command of the department of the Missouri. The officers of both the Fourth and Sixteenth infantry have been invited to attend a social at the Elks' club tonight.

Colonel Bolton, the new commander, is an old soldier, well known in military circles. He has been connected with the United States army for thirty-nine years, and during the last twelve years has seen seven years of foreign service. He was graduated from West Point in 1871. In 1888 he went to the Philippines and served four years in the Philippine war. He went to Alaska in 1890, where he remained a year and then went back to the Philippines for two years. He is popular with the officers and men, and is an expert in military tactics.

When the transport trains arrived in South Omaha Friday morning over the Rock Island they were transferred to the Burlington and taken direct to Fort Crook. The men remained in the cars and took breakfast there. After breakfast they disembarked and began to unload. Tents were pitched near the barracks and the new arrivals will remain in camp under canvas until the Sixteenth infantry vacates the comfortable houses of the post.

Exodus to All Parts of the Country Has Begun—Teachers Draw Their Pay.

Principals of the public schools began to troop into the city hall before the elevators were fairly started Friday morning, carrying to Superintendent Davidson's office their reports and taking away from Secretary Burgess' office their monthly warrants. Good byes were said and wishes extended for a profitable summer vacation.

Pupils went to the schools this morning to get their examination cards, but no regular sessions were held. School is "out."

Jury Secured in Mullen Murder Trial and Beginning of Evidence Results.

MULLEN, Neb., June 17.—The jury was secured in the McIntyre murder trial today and the taking of testimony begun, following an outline of the case by the prosecution and defense. H. G. McIntyre is accused of killing O. F. Hamilton, an aged lawyer and land agent whose body was found several months following his disappearance, in a sand dune near the town of Mullen. Hamilton, it has been alleged, aroused the enmity of many people in this section by turning government reformer in land fraud cases in western Nebraska. The prosecution in its statement said it was prepared to prove that McIntyre killed Hamilton in a saloon, by striking him over the head with a revolver; that two witnesses were present at the killing, and under threats helped bury the body. The allegation of the defense is that McIntyre was not present at the killing, but that Frank Clevenger, who confessed he was present, and informed on McIntyre, was the actual slayer. The testimony today was limited to the story of the finding of the body and the nature of the wounds on Hamilton's head. Former supreme court commissioner, W. D. Oldham, is assisting in the prosecution and former Chief Justice J. J. Sullivan has been retained by the defense.

ROME, June 17.—Details of the escape of a party of American Baptist clergymen from the hands of a superstitious mob at Avellino, at the time of the recent earthquake were laid before Premier Luzzatti today by James P. Stuart of St. Louis, who was sent by the American Board of Baptist missions to Italy to investigate the Baptist mission in this country and who returned a few days ago from the province of Avellino. Mr. Stuart reported to the premier that the situation in the district was serious owing to the struggle between Catholics and Baptists. On the night of the earthquake he and his companions, he said, were brutally attacked. The populace seemed to attribute the earthquake to the presence of the Baptists and a crowd, numbering into the thousands set upon the Americans with the avowed intention of hanging them. Premier Luzzatti urged upon Mr. Stuart the advisability of avoiding any retaliatory measures or any demonstration which would be apt to disturb the peace. He expressed the opinion that the action of the Italians was due more to their panic-stricken condition because of the earthquakes than to any enmity against the Americans.
