W. E. Lowe of Saline County For Governor

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, June 22.—(Special.)—William E. Lowe of Saline county has filed his name as a candidate for the republican nomination for governor. Mr. Lowe is a farmer, an artist and a former office holder. While in the state house he inspected the office of the governor and criticized the freighting and mail money which would have that changed.
"Have you ever held office?" was asked Mr. Lowe.
"Yes, sir, I have," was the reply. "I was road overseer in my district for six years."
"Did you use the King road drag?" he was asked.
"I used main strength and awkwardness drag," was the reply, "and I made such good roads that I was elected for six years in a district that is democratic."
"How long have you lived in Saline county?"
"I moved to near Weston the year the B. & M. extended its line on to Tobias. I fought this year, but I guess it was about twenty-five years ago. Any way, I am 49 years old and was born on February 12, the day Abraham Lincoln was born. If you will look up the same you will find that the stars were the same in the year he was born as they were when I was born."
"Are you for or against county option?" a bystander inquired.
"Well, no one down our way that I have talked to is in favor of county option. I am a republican. I believe the party is smarter than I am and I will make the race on any platform the party adopts."
Mr. Lowe has been considered among the race for governor for some time and he recently wrote to Miss Winifred Knapp, stenographer to Judge Ross, whose home is at Weston, asking her "What of the political situation." The new candidate is well known in Western. He is married and drives a gray team to town.
Mr. Lowe met a fellow countryman, Senator Bartos, in the office of the governor, but he would not promise to appoint the senator on his staff of colonels if elected. "I know Senator Bartos and he is a good friend of mine, having been my lawyer on several occasions, but if we both were in Lincoln there would sure be some fights and they would come often. He is too much of a democrat for me."

Warm Weather Good for Crops

Small Grain and Corn Generally Profiting by Heat and Showing Progress.
SHELTON, Neb., June 22.—(Special.)—The warm weather of the last week has done much to ripen the fall wheat crop and before the end of June the harvest will be commenced and present prospects are for one of the best crops of wheat in this immediate vicinity which has been harvested for several years. Conservative estimates place the yield at about twenty bushels to the acre and it will be good in quality.
YORK, Neb., June 22.—(Special.)—Five days of warm weather has been the means of causing the wheat to ripen a greater degree than was made this season. Corn is as far advanced at this time as in years past, and only for the fact that the stand is not quite as good York county has a good prospect for a great yield and a better quality, as farmers were more careful in selection of seed. The campaign made for better corn and greater yield has awakened a greater interest in corn growing. Already farmers have cultivated twice and are ready to cultivate the third time. Many declare that they will plow their corn four and possibly five times, realizing that they will increase the yield at least five bushels to the acre.

NEW BUILDINGS AT HOLDREGE

Burlington Spending Goodly Sum of Money in Phelps County City.
HOLDREGE, Neb., June 22.—(Special.)—Work on the new $20,000 Burlington coal chutes at this place is nearly completed and it will be only a short time until the structure will be in use. The new chutes are being covered with galvanized iron, the lack of which or a similar protection having caused the company to lose structures as large as the present one on two previous occasions.
Following the work on the coal chutes the depot ground will be cleared for the erection of the new depot. The present water tank, pumping station, express office and five wholesale houses now located on the Burlington right-of-way will be moved to make room for the new edifice. Notice of thirty days as required has already been given the owners and preparations are being made to comply with the orders at once.
At the same time the Burlington is making its improvements, the county will be spending in the neighborhood of $100,000 for the erection of a new court house, the contract for which has just been let and on which the work of excavating has begun. Recent assurances from Washington indicate that it is probable that the new post-office will follow the other buildings closely and before the year is over will be well on toward completion.

Did He Beat Pullman Man?
Joe Boehler told a Pullman conductor where to "get off" last night and went to bed in a berth on route from Oxford to Lincoln, feeling that he had done the world a service. He waked up at Ashland this morning, having gone through Lincoln without being called, wondering "what's the use." Boehler is a deputy game warden and had done some business for his department at Oxford or had been to one of his farms, and started home. He went into the Pullman at Oxford.
"Two dollars for a berth to Lincoln," said the Pullman conductor.
"Not much, young fellow," replied Boehler, who has traveled some since becoming a state officer. "The fare is $1.50."
"Come on down, pay the $2," was the reply of the magnate.
"Here's your $2," said Boehler, "and don't blame me when the railway commission jumps onto your company."
"With that the conductor concluded he had been discussing the fare to Omaha, so Boehler got the berth for the $1.50. He went to bed smiling. He waked up smiling. He poked his head out of his berth and demanded to know how long it would be before he reached the holy city.
"We passed there long ago," said the porter. "This is Ashland."
Boehler came back on the first train.
"Anyhow I didn't let that Pullman conductor hold me up, even if they did neglect to wake me at Lincoln."
