Cafes Take Sides On Shirtsleeves South Omaha Restaurant Hangs Out Sign Inviting Them—Y. M. C. A. Stands Fast. Following on the heels of the agitation over the removing of coats by men in restaurants a South Omaha restaurant has hung out a sign in front inviting its male patrons to come in and hang up their coats. The sign reads: "Gentlemen may leave off their coats, and ladies may leave on their hats." The Merchant's hotel in Omaha has announced that gentlemen must divest themselves of their coats in the hotel dining room. Mrs. Baker, superintendent of the Young Men's Christian association, says that the rule against shirtsleeves for men still holds good at the association restaurant. She states that the rule is a long established one and that the Young Men's Christian association doesn't wish to be the first public dining room in Omaha to disregard it. Speaking of the rule which prohibits men from eating in the dining room without their coats, she said: "It is a foolish rule, an inhuman rule, I didn't make it, but it is really in effect, and I am here to enforce it. Whenever a gentleman appears in our dining room without his coat, it is my pleasure to speak to him and acquaint him with the general association with regard to eating in our dining room without his coat. If all of the men of Omaha got together and decided to change the rule, they could do it, no doubt, but while it is recognized it will be enforced here."

MONEY MUST BE REGISTERED

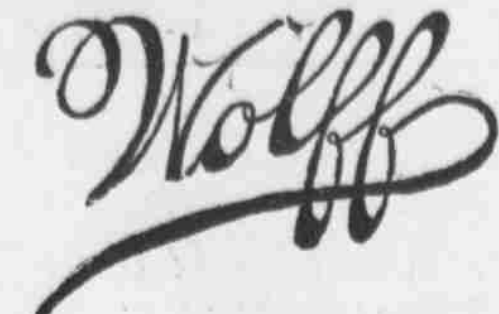

Greek Authorities Will Levy Fine When Coin is Not Protected. THOMAS THINKS WELL OF IT Says that Large Sums of Money in an Envelope Not Registered is Too Big a Temptation to Clerks of the Department. Greeks of Omaha and other cities of this country will have to stop the practice of sending money to their native land in letters and packets that are not registered. The postal administration of Greece has proclaimed that the practice of sending money through the mails, unprotected, must stop, and has so notified Joseph Stewart, second assistant postmaster general at Washington. The address in cases where money is thus sent will be liable to a fine. More than $10,000 per annum is sent in this manner through the Omaha postoffice by Greek laborers, and it is estimated that a large percentage of the amount is intercepted on the way and the one to whom it is sent does not receive it. The amounts that are sent in letters without protection range from $25 to $100. Many of the senders prefer to take a chance on the money going through safely than to pay the charges for a money order on a registered letter. Postmaster Thomas is in favor of the Greek law and thinks it should be adopted in the United States. "I believe that this country should enact a similar law. A large amount of money is sent through the United States mails every year and the percentage that does not reach its destination is great. Such a number is only a temptation to the large number of employes who have the money in their hands, and the contents of which are obvious. The charge for a registered letter or a money order is exceedingly small when the protection these methods of transporting money across the continent is taken into consideration."

Gets Heavy Shock; Lives J. Stinehl, Lineman, Receives 2,300 Volts of Electricity from Live Wire and Survives. J. Stinehl, an employe of the Omaha Electric Light and Power company, still lives after having 2,300 volts of electricity pass through his body. Stinehl, who lives at the Glover block, Sixteenth and Chicago streets, was working on an electric light pole at Fourteenth and Nicholas streets Saturday morning, when he came in contact with a live wire charged with 2,300 volts, which caught him on the back of the neck. The shock knocked him unconscious and his body relaxed, but was held at the top of the pole by the straps with which he was fastened. He hung there in mid air until rescued by his companions. When taken down it was found that Stinehl was burned about the neck and legs. He soon regained consciousness, and when attended by Police Surgeon Harris soon recovered and started to walk around. He refused to be taken to the station and soon left for his home in company with some friends. TO LAY TEMPLE CORNERSTONE New Synagogue Will Be Put Under Construction with Elaborate Ceremony Sunday. PROMINENT OMAHA CITIZENS WITH MAYOR DAHLMAN Visit and Investigate the Neal Three Day Drink Habit Cure at 1502 South Tenth Street, Omaha, Nebraska, and His Honor, OMAHA'S POPULAR MAYOR Makes Public Report Over His Own Signature, Which Every Reader of This Paper Should Read and Carefully Consider: CITY OF OMAHA, EXECUTIVE OFFICE; James C. Dahlman, Mayor, June 12, 1910.—To Whom It May Concern: A short time after the Neal Institute company had started operation here in Omaha on South Tenth street last February, they undertook to "demonstrate" the Neal Three Day Liquor Habit Cure for me by treating a man that I had known for years, and knew him to be almost a complete wreck from the drink habit, and, as it seemed to me, a hopeless case. I saw the man personally the day he was taken to the institute, and his condition was indeed pitiable and deplorable. On the invitation of Senator Bruce of Atlantic, Ia., president and treasurer of the Neal Institute company of Omaha, and in company with some other gentlemen, I called on this patient referred to at said institute on the day that he was discharged as cured. The change in his mental and physical condition was most remarkable, and, had I not seen and talked with him personally, I would not have believed it possible. He then told me that he had no desire whatever to drink, and when liquor was offered him in my presence, he could not and would not try it, and the sight or smell of it seemed to make him sick. I also met and talked with other patients at the institute at the same time, and the results of the treatment, as they told me, were substantially the same. Since leaving the institute, this man has gone to work and is filling quite a responsible position, and he is certainly looking fine and tells me that he never felt better in his life. From what I have seen in this particular case and what I saw and heard on my visit to the institute, I have no hesitancy in saying that I believe the Neal Institute company will cure any case they get a chance at. (Signed) JAMES C. DAHLMAN, Mayor. The facts regarding the patient referred to by Mayor Dahlman in above statement tell a story which every reader of this paper ought to know. The patient, a professional man of high standing, formerly held a public office in Nebraska, and, as he writes: "I had an honorable and paying position in the state of Nebraska and this, in connection with my professional business, enabled me to take good care of my family and acquire some property. I contracted the drink habit, got worse each year, and, as a result, finally lost my position, my business, my property, and, worst of all, my wife and children were compelled to leave me."

T. R. SENDS HIS REGRETS

Indicates He Will Accept No Political Engagements of Any Kind. MAY COME HERE IN THE FALL Ak-Sar-Ben Still Hopes to Have Him Stop on His Return from the Frontier Day Celebration at Cheyenne. Judging from a letter just received by the president of the Central Republican club it appears to be extremely doubtful that Colonel Roosevelt will accept any sort of political invitation anywhere in the country for some time to come. In his letter to the Omaha organization the former president says: "I wish I could accept, but it is a simple impossibility. You have no conception of the multitude of requests to speak and invitations to attend banquets and reunions which I have received. "It is physically impossible for me to accept even one in a hundred. I am deeply touched by the courtesy shown to me in asking me to go to these banquets and reunions and make these speeches, but I could not possibly accept more than a relatively small proportion, unless I absolutely abandoned all thought of doing anything else of any kind or sort, and I mention this as applying to the invitations which I should really like to accept." From the tone of former letters to the Central Republican club it is known that Colonel Roosevelt wanted to come to Omaha if at all possible, and it is easy to read between the lines that, since the demand for his presence has become so universal throughout the country, he has decided to shelve every invitation of the sort. The letter just received bears the Outlook business heading, with the words underlined, "Office of Theodore Roosevelt," and is signed in the Rough Rider chieftain's own hand. An effort is still being made to get Mr. Roosevelt to accept an invitation to stop at Omaha on his return from the Frontier day celebration at Cheyenne. Manslaughter is Schultz's Charge Chauffeur Who Ran Down and Killed William Krug is Arraigned and Pleads Not Guilty. Al Schultz, the chauffeur of the car which killed William Krug Tuesday morning, was arraigned before Judge Crawford Saturday morning and charged with manslaughter. He pleaded not guilty, and demanded a preliminary hearing, which was set for Wednesday, June 29. The amount of Schultz's bond has not been made as yet, and he is now in charge of the sheriff at the county jail. The complaint for Schultz's arrest was issued over the signature of Captain P. Mostyn of the police department by the county attorney. Schultz stated that he has engaged Attorney Fred Noble to handle his case. His physical condition is greatly improved and walked about the court room without pain. VETERANS' WEEK AT FLORENCE Douglas County Veterans' Association to Hold Encampment at Beautiful Suburb. The Douglas County Veterans' association has decided to hold its annual encampment in Florence this year, and has selected the week of August 13 as the most suitable. The veterans met in Florence last year and after getting proposals from other places, decided to try it there another year. The committee of Florence citizens, which has the encampment in hand, is composed of Mayor F. S. Tucker, chairman; R. F. Golden, L. E. Imm, W. B. Parks, Henry Anderson and E. L. Platz, the same committee that handled the affairs so successfully last year. It is the intention of the committee not to have any concessions on the encampment grounds, but to make a midway of one of the streets and make the town ring for the week.

IRRIGATION IN IDAHO BRINGS STATE TO FRONT

S. J. Callan Says Western State is Thriving Wonderfully Under Spell of Water. S. J. Callan of Dayton, Idaho, was in South Omaha Friday with five loads of cattle. He is one of the prominent stockmen of southeastern Idaho. His cattle struck a dull market and he was not quite as jubilant as he might have been; but he was still full of enthusiasm for the west. He said Idaho was one of the great states. The subject of dry farming was a matter he was conversant with, and he said he feared that the present dry season in the west would give the industry a setback. "The dry season has already done considerable damage. The rains have been so light that the best theories of dry farming can not keep the crops from suffering. Ordinarily, however, the crops would be excellent and they have been excellent for several seasons. "The irrigation projects in Idaho are rapidly developing and the state is bound to have one of the greatest systems of irrigation in the world. About Boise City the irrigated crops are excellent and in the northern part of the state many new ditches and reservoirs are being constructed. "Most of the good land has been taken up, but here and there new projects will be developed which will open some land to settlement, and two or three more reservations are to be opened before many years. "The good financial conditions of the west were especially pleasing to Mr. Callan, who shows that he is up-to-date on banking and finance. He thought the new postal banks provided by the latest act of congress, would be of great benefit. "Our western bankers, far from the gambling centers, know little of the caution which is now displayed by the eastern banker. In the west the banker is reasonably sure the money loaned will be used in legitimate development of business and manufacture, but in the east the bankers are often lipped by the speculative evil. The last panic showed that the western banker is actually turned while the eastern bankers went to the wall. There is a good reason for it."

HEARD IN OMAHA HOTELS

Omaha Smelter Pays All the Expense for a Big Mountain Mine—Otis Beats South Dakota. L. W. Chapman, who is registered at the Henshaw from Great Falls, Mont., is here on business for the Anaconda Mining company. Besides the copper interests of the Butte and Great Falls mines which Mr. Chapman represents, the company is sending to the Omaha smelter almost enough gold and silver by-products to cover its monthly pay roll of $130,000. "The town of Great Falls is rapidly developing into a manufacturing center," said Mr. Chapman, "because of the immense water power that is contained in a new power house or $5,000 horsepower besides the one of 12,000 horsepower which runs the mining interests has just been finished and in a few months the sole power in the town will be electricity. Real estate is booming and great prospects are in view in mining schemes south of the Anaconda holdings." As Mr. Chapman came through Nebraska on the Burlington he said that he noticed the crops from Lincoln to Omaha were in much better condition than any others he had seen on his whole trip. G. M. Otis, the president of the Otis Land company of Blunt, S. D., is stopping at the Merchants hotel and will be in Omaha on business during the week. Mr. Otis reports that in the central part of South Dakota where his interests are, there has been plenty of rain lately and that the outlook is for the biggest year of crops the state ever had. Three railroads will soon be coming into Blunt and land in that district is being boomed by the real estate men of South Dakota. Mr. Otis is accompanied by his wife, who takes this opportunity to visit old Omaha friends. Mrs. George Austin and Miss Pearl Howland are guests of the Merchants from North Platte. Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Logan of Lincoln are guests of the Merchants for a few days. Mack Kerns of Auburn is a guest of the Henshaw. Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Williams and family, Mr. H. A. Ensign and family and Miss Ethel Hallingworth are stopping at the Henshaw on their way through Omaha from Lincoln. George Rieder of St. Edward is at the Murray hotel and will be in Omaha for a part of this week. J. C. Drew of Burlington, Ia., is at the Murray hotel and will be in Omaha for some time. J. C. McCord of Atlantic, Ia., is registered at the Murray hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Heber Ford are at the Paxton for a visit in Omaha. Mr. Ford is a prominent cattle man of Central City and he gives hope that next season the cattle and hog raising in the state will have increased so that the cost of meat will be materially reduced. Julius Theis of West Point is at the Millard for a few days. Edward J. Ruher of Plattsmouth is a guest of the Henshaw this week. B. T. Anking, a prominent merchant of Memphis, is at the Paxton. T. F. Cromwell of Auburn is at the Murray.

BURLINGTON ASKS FOR BIDS

Will Soon Start Work on Its New, Modern Freight Depot in Omaha. Working plans are out for the new Burlington freight house and bids are asked for about half of the work. The estimated total cost of the building will be about a million dollars and arrangements are being made to erect buildings to the amount of $500,000 at once. The plans are in the hands of the contractors, who are figuring for bids.
