WOULD UNLOCK JAIL DOORS

Judge Estelle Threatens Move if Prisoners Aren't Aided. UNBEARABLE HEAT IS TROUBLE. Jurist Declares Awnings Must Be Placed on Long Windows to Protect Inmates or He Will Act—Council Doesn't Act. Judge Estelle threatens to unlock the doors of the county jail and turn every prisoner out if they are not given a little more humane treatment and the west windows of the jail provided with awnings. Sheriff Bralley says awnings are the one thing really needed at the jail. From 1 o'clock in the afternoon until sunset, he says, the heat inside the jail becomes intense. The sun beats down through the row of long windows for hours at a time and it is only a question of humanity, in the mind of Judge Estelle, whether they should be given the protection of a few awnings or whether lines should be compelled to endure the heat. John Grant of the Board of County Commissioners intends to bring the matter before the board and do all he can to secure the passage of a resolution authorizing the purchase of awnings. Some time ago the sheriff wrote to the council asking that awnings be furnished, but his request was not granted. A resolution was passed by the board authorizing the installation of the ice water tanks at the jail, one for each floor. Brandeis' Sons Announce They Will Furnish Ice—Many Other Contributions. J. L. Brandeis' sons have announced that they will supply the Open Air Camp for Babies which the Visiting Nurses association has established at Eighth and Bancroft streets with the needed ice this summer; that is, they will meet the expense of keeping the camp supplied. Love Causes Suicide Threat

Two Men and Woman Arrested Following One Admirer's Desperate Actions with Bottle.

Possible murder and suicide was prevented and three arrests were made by Policemen Fahey and Lahey after a hurry call in the patrol wagon to 721 South Eighteenth street last night. "Come quick, there's going to be murder here," was the message over the telephone that brought the police. It was "the eternal triangle" of melodramatic love that caused the climax, as the police discovered. Otto E. Tague and Herbert R. Scott, the police learned, were opposed to each other in relation to the attentions of Mrs. Edith Holsclaw. The trio were arrested and permitted to tell their story at the police station. Tague had threatened to fall dead at the feet of Mrs. Holsclaw when he confronted her and Scott after following them in a mysterious walk. It was explained. A bottle of formaldehyde was found in Tague's pockets at the station, indicating the intentions he had had. Tague and the woman had come to Omaha some time ago, after Mrs. Holsclaw obtained a divorce from her husband. They lived for a time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Scott at 1309 South Twenty-fifth street. Tague grew jealous of Scott's attentions to the woman, and also trouble between Scott and his wife transpired, according to Tague. Scott telephoned the police while Tague was smearing his threats at suicide. Both Tague and Scott were fined $1 and costs when they appeared before Judge Cockrell in police court Friday morning.

Corpses is Positively Identified by the Town Marshal of Florence. Marshal A. Marr of Florence visited Council Bluffs Friday and positively identified the body of the man found near Lake Manawa as that of Amus Roysiter of Florence. Roysiter was assistant engineer at the Brandeis building at Omaha. He leaves a wife and two children. There seems to be no doubt but that the man was overcome with heat and thus lost his life.

NO FINES COME TO MAHONEY

Clerk of Police Spent Gets Grouchy Because No One Has Money to Pay. "I am going to worry a whole lot about paying Judge Cockrell for services in the absence of Judge Crawford if he can't help bring in the cash," exclaimed J. J. Mahoney, clerk of the police court, Friday morning after the criminal mill had ground out the day's work. "A poorer bunch I have never seen, why there were thirty-seven names on the books, and here it is 11 o'clock and I haven't been paid a single cent for fines. Almost every one is a vag or drunk and absolutely broke; the only remedy I can see for it is to say that business is poor, mighty poor, and just close up the shop."

PROWLER ARRESTED IN ACT

Police Capture Michael Nolan Attempting to Enter House Without Shoes. Caught prowling around the house of E. P. Myers, 2315 South Thirty-second avenue last night by Officers Lahey and Fahey, Michael Nolan, who gave his address as South Omaha, will have to answer the charge today of being a suspicious character. The Myers are at present at their ranch in Wyoming and the appearance of Nolan at the place led a neighbor to inform the police. His coat and boots were found on the front porch.
