BEE TELEPHONE TYLER-1000

New Private Exchange for Bee Publishing Company.

MORE PHONES, BETTER SERVICE

After 6 P. M. Editorial Rooms are Tyler 1,000; Business Office, Tyler 1,001; Managing Editor, Tyler 1,002.

The telephone number of The Bee has been changed. One general number, "Tyler 1000," now calls the newspaper, exchanges in editorial and business departments having been replaced by a private branch exchange. Patrons giving the old call, as some are bound to do for a time, will get the central operator, who will give the person or department desired.

After 6 p. m. calls should be made as follows: For editorial department ask for Tyler 1000.

For circulation and advertising departments, ask for Tyler 1001.

For news editor, ask for Tyler 1002.

The four trunk lines and twenty stations have been installed for service in the private branch exchange, which will be a speedier method of establishing connections than by the old double system.

The index "Tyler" which has been given The Bee and a number of other telephones, marks a certain portion of the Douglas boards in the general offices of the Nebraska Telephone company. At present the Tyler exchange is not large, but it is expected to add to it in the future. Relieving the load on the Douglas switchboards will make for better service all around, because the heaviest traffic by far is on the Douglas exchange, including all the big downtown business houses which use the telephone most often.

Within The Bee building and the annex are twenty intercommunicating phones for the use of the different departments of The Bee Publishing company. A majority of these phones also have outside connections.

Schultz Again Drives an Auto

Protest is Made to the Chief, Who Says He is Powerless to Stop Him.

While Al Schultz, charged with having caused the death of William Krug in an auto accident, was being arraigned in police court Friday morning, a committee of autoists waited upon the chief of police in an additional charge against the man. The auto owners and drivers rose up in arms over the news and the sight of Schultz again driving a big touring car, the indignation being to the effect that he was not a fit person to be allowed the privilege of driving through the city. The committee asked Chief Donahue if he might not forbid Schultz from driving a car. The chief replied that he could not, from the fact that the law does not make the privilege of auto driving one requiring a license. Schultz waived his preliminary hearing on the charge of manslaughter and his bond was fixed at $5,000.

Miss Anheuser Contests Suit

CHICAGO, July 8.—Miss Nellie Anheuser of the wealthy St. Louis family of that name arrived in Chicago today to contest the suit of Dr. Robert Good, a dentist, for $500 for work done for the defendant. The hearing was set for this afternoon. While Miss Anheuser was here for the grand opera last winter the gowns which she had expected to wear were attached at the instance of the dentist. The defendant has refused to pay the bill on the grounds that the rate of $5 an hour charged by Dr. Good is excessive.

HAVELOCK PROMISES TO PRESERVE ORDER

Business Men Pledge that No Serious Results Will Follow Efforts of Strikers.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)
LINCOLN, Neb., July 8.—(Special Telegram.)—A mass meeting of the business men of Havelock was held today and resolutions addressed to Vice President Byram of the Burlington railroad were adopted, assuring the Burlington officials that the officers of the town would protect the employees of the Burlington and would pledge themselves to see to it that there would be no riots or other disturbances. These resolutions grew out of the strike of the boiler-makers and the trouble which recently occurred at Wymore.

Mr. Byram passed through Havelock today and it was expected that he would stop, when the resolutions were to have been presented to him. They will be sent to Chicago.

NO POSTAL BANKS THIS YEAR

Postmaster General Hitchcock Says It Will Be Necessary to Wait Till January First.

CHICAGO, July 8.—Postmaster General Hitchcock, who was in the city today, expressed the opinion that no postal savings bank could be established before January 1, 1911.

CROPS REPORTED SAFE NOW

Railroads Issue News that Most of State Has Had Rain.

PLENTY IN THE NORTHWEST

Union Pacific, Burlington and Northwestern Report Winter Wheat, Oats and Potatoes Vastly Improved.

According to reports received in the offices of the Union Pacific, Burlington and Northwestern railroads the rain of Thursday saved a large per cent of the crops of winter wheat, oats and potatoes, but will have little effect on the corn. On the Union Pacific lines rain was reported heavy as far west as Grand Island and the soil in fine condition after the soaking. North and south of Grand Island the rain was general, but farther west where it rained a little last week, this later rain did not touch.

Between Omaha and Lincoln the crops were becoming in very bad condition, especially the hay and oats crops, and the potatoes were drying up, but the rain came just in time. It was too late to help winter wheat much, but the majority of this crop was in fairly good condition before this week. In the southeastern corner of Nebraska the ground was hard and baked from lack of moisture, and the rain will save the farmers from 20 to 30 per cent of their crops.

The downpour around O'Neill and Long Pine was so heavy that the people in that locality think more rain will do more harm than good, as their crops, although somewhat dry, were, in the case of the wheat, ready to harvest and the corn needed no rain. The soil in that region is in very good condition as light showers fell there during the last two weeks.

Omaha grain men are more enthusiastic about crop prospects than they were, particularly with respect to corn. As concerns this grain, dealers of the Omaha Grain exchange take a more hopeful attitude than do some of the railroads.

"We ought to have at least 200,000,000 bushels of corn this year," said A. H. Bewsher, "and oats are looking better than a while ago, although the crop is spotted."
C. C. Crowell, Jr., of the Crowell company declared that corn along the Albion line of the Northwestern and from Fairfax to Norfolk "is looking splendid. Oats will do better than expected, and we need no rain for awhile. The fields are remarkably clean."

S. P. Mason of the Nye-Schneider company said that "corn is not hurt in the north territory, but they are all afraid of what may happen."

POLICE CLEAR SIDEWALKS

B. McCaffrey and James Allman, While Advocating Socialism, Draw Obnoxious Crowd.

The police have resumed their perennial campaign against the obstruction of the sidewalks of Douglas street and as a result B. McCaffrey, 129 Pierce street and James Allman, who gave his address as Lincoln, were arrested by Sergeant Madson last night and taken to the station. The pair were engaged in advocating it is stated, the principles of socialism at the corner of Fifteenth and Douglas streets and no sooner was McCaffrey sent in than his place was taken by Allman. This particular part of the street is a favorite rostrum.

Firemen May Reach Decision to Locate Here

Timothy Shea, Vice President of Brotherhood, Says Omaha Has Chance for Headquarters.

Omaha has a good chance to secure the home and general offices of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, according to Timothy Shea, first vice president of that organization, who was in Omaha yesterday and who remains over today for a general meeting of all locomotive firemen at bright hall this evening at 8:30, to which all union and non-union, are invited.

Mr. Shea came to Omaha from Chicago, where he was on the board which secured the readjustment of wages for the engine men on fifty of the leading roads of the west, in which they receive an increase amounting to about $2,500,000 a year.

"Our brotherhood has decided to build a general headquarters building and the matter is now up to the board of directors," said Mr. Shea. "Omaha is making a strong bid for the location and is in the running."

"All is now peace and harmony between our organization and the railroads and we hope to continue these friendly relations. We have at present over 7,000 men in our brotherhood."

Mr. Shea met with the local union Friday evening and tonight will meet all firemen of this section.

DESPERATE PRISONER FOILED IN PLAN TO STAB OFFICER

Search Made of Person of George Smith and Glass Dagger Found Upon Him.

HARLAN, Ia., July 8.—(Special.)—George Smith, the 32-year-old burglar, who is in the county jail here awaiting the action of the September grand jury, was foiled in an attempt to stab Deputy Sheriff McMahon this morning. Smith had made a dagger out of glass taken from the window pane in his cell and filed it off on the bars of the cell until it was as sharp as a knife. He found the end of it in cloth for a handle and tied his shoestring around it to hold it. Smith told one of the other inmates in the jail of his plan to stab McMahon when he brought in his dinner, but the trusty prisoner told McMahon and they searched Smith and took the weapon away from him. Smith confessed that he had said he would kill the first person who came to his cell so that he could make his escape. As Smith is a desperate man, Judge Green will call a special session of the grand jury, have him indicted and sentence him to the state reformatory at once.

Uses Cleaver on Officer.
PREMONT, Neb., July 8.—(Special.)—Marshall Worwood of Dodge had a lively experience with A. Viasak, a butcher at that town. Viasak accumulated a load of house and was brought before a justice of the peace and fined $10 and costs. The marshal accompanied him to his shop to get the money. When they got there Viasak seized a cleaver and started after the marshal, who was not expecting anything of the kind and consequently left the butcher in his shop. The next morning Viasak was sober and very anxious to fix things up, but the marshal was not so inclined. A prosecution for assault with a deadly weapon may be filed against him.

M. P. SEEKS FURTHER DELAY

Wishes to Postpone Building of the Dodge Street Viaduct.

WILL AMEND OR APPEAL CASE

Attorneys Say They Will Ask Court for Permission to Amend Their Petition to Reopen the Case.

"Even though the decision of the federal court was in our favor, the city is not likely to get a viaduct built over the Missouri Pacific tracks at Forty-fifth and Dodge for some time," says City Attorney Burnam, "because the railroad is planning further litigation."

"I have been informed that it is the intention of the legal advisers of the Missouri Pacific to ask the court's permission to amend their bill and that will mean a reopening of the case. Our proofs on file will not have to be gone over again, but part of the contentions will be raised again and the Missouri Pacific believes some of the elements of the argument have been overlooked and they will be emphasized."

Francis A. Brogan, who has been working on the railroad side of the case, states that no definite steps have been taken toward reopening the litigation. An appeal to a higher court on or amendment of

MATRIMONIAL LARCENY CHARGED BY THE ATTORNEY

Crane Claims Expression to Suit Himself in Arguing Cronk Case.

Attorney T. D. Crane has stepped into the Jack London class and has coined a new expression. Opening the argument for the plaintiff in the Cronk divorce case he accused Mrs. Cronk of "matrimonial larceny"—stealing George P. Cronk from his former wife. Mr. Crane argued that to the plaintiff the events prior to his marriage with the present Mrs. Cronk would be as a sealed book, but that the defense had made the first move toward going into Cronk's past.

The introduction of evidence was concluded about 11:30 o'clock Friday morning and arguments were commenced. Attorney Crane went over letters received by Mrs. Cronk from Jessie Laird in Chicago and argued that they showed intrigue and deceit. He took up the visit of A. Baumgardner to the home of Mrs. Cronk during the absence of Mr. Cronk and scored Mrs. Cronk for her unworthy conduct. Argument will likely not be concluded until Saturday morning.

At the Theaters

Summer Vaudeville at the Gayety.

Quite pretentious is the twenty-minute sketch played by Louise Buckley and Harry Hamilton in the new bill for the last half of the week at the Gayety. It is entitled "The World of Strife" and tells the story of a strike in the steel mills at Carnegie. Mr. Hamilton is seen as the whole-souled foreman of the steel workers endeavoring to persuade the daughter of the steel magnate to use her good influence with her father to end the strike. He has many witty lines and delivers them with telling effect. Miss Hamilton plays the millionaire's daughter and finds it impossible to see the serious side of the question presented by the uncouth foreman. The sketch contains many laughs and is presented with special scenery.

Hattie Wade Mack, an Irish comedienne of no mean ability, won favor with her "barney" songs and talk.

Colonel Roosevelt is again prominent in the motion picture program, this time being shown during his receptions in various cities in Denmark. A couple of dramatic subjects and three very funny comedy subjects are shown which, with Harry Lyon's song, bring to a close a most enjoyable program which will continue today and tomorrow, a new bill being prepared for the first half of next week, starting Sunday afternoon.
