Council Bluffs

MEANING OF "DISORDERLY"

Authorities Decide to Establish it Definitely by Ordinance.

COMES FROM SERIES OF ARRESTS

Careful Review of Ordinances Shows There is No Definite Punishment to Fit This Offense.

A raid was made early yesterday morning on the Metcalf roadhouse on West Broadway as a result of numerous complaints that have been lodged with the police by west end residents.

Mrs. Emma Metcalf, the owner, Mary Johnson, Anna Johnson, Susie Johnson, George F. Stoney and John Thomas were taken to the police station in the patrol wagon and booked as "disorderlies."

Something less than a million other prisoners have gone through the police mill under the same charge in the last quarter of a century of the department's history, but for the first time the question was brought out yesterday what kind of a criminal charge can be legally sustained by the accusation of "disorderly."

A careful review of the ordinances enacted by the city and state statutes failed to disclose anything defining and punishing such an offense. It was therefore no misdemeanor under either city or state laws. It was decided however, to hold Mrs. Metcalf upon a charge of keeping a disorderly house and an information to that effect was prepared by City Attorney Kimball.

It was further agreed that the city solicitor should prepare an ordinance covering the term disorderly, and submit it for approval of the city council at the next meeting.

Mrs. Metcalf had put up a bond of $50 and the others $10 for their appearance in police court yesterday morning.

All failed to appear and the bonds were declared forfeited.

Anti-Spitting Crusade.

Necessity of making a few arrests to emphasize the determination of the police department that the anti-spitting ordinance will be vigorously enforced, resulted in the appearance in police court yesterday morning of Tinley Nolan, a clean-looking, well-dressed young man.

While leaning comfortably against the railing surrounding the Illinois Central depot grounds on Broadway talking to a companion he spit many times on the cement sidewalk.

The last few times unconsciously in the sight of an approaching police officer.

When the officer reprimanded him Nolan took it as a personal affront and responded with earnest advice to the officer minding his own business.

The result was a trip to the police station. Nolan was permitted to go on his own recognizance for a hearing later.

Chief Froom has given orders to the patrolmen to make arrests of all persons detected in violating the ordinance.

GILBERT C. TAYLOR RETURNS FROM CANADA

Glad, Indeed, is He that He Still Owns His Home in Old Iowa.

Gilbert C. Taylor, many years a resident of Council Bluffs and once city street superintendent, has returned from Canada, a beautiful trip that he did not find a buy last spring for his comfortable home at 708 East Pierce street.

In February Mr. Taylor purchased 100 acres of land in the Alberta province for $20 an acre.

He left here in the early part of March to improve his land. On the last of April he sold it for $90 an acre, making a profit of $70 on less than two months.

He immediately invested his profit and original capital in two quarter sections, and then took a conspicuous part in the work of building up the country.

He is a carpenter and easily made $5 or more a day in his trade and had sufficient work in eight to last a year.

Throughout April the country continued to boom in the most remarkable manner, with thousands of houses being erected by the new American settlers, and mechanics in the building trades receiving almost any price asked for their work.

But the boom suddenly collapsed about the last of June. Not a drop of rain had fallen since April.

The government and private irrigating ditches ceased to irrigate and by the last of July there was not a green thing. Taylor says, in a territory of hundreds of miles extent. All the crops were a complete failure.

People of limited resources began leaving the country in June, and when Taylor left, about July 1, he said the exodus was becoming almost a panic.

"If they have a hard winter those who could not get away except by walking or wagon will have a serious time," said Mr. Taylor.

"I kept enough of my wages out of my land investment to pay my way home, but there were thousands who did not and many were in a pitiable condition when I left. They say they have had the worst drought there that has been known and it is feared that much of the farm stock will perish by starvation.

But I still have faith in the country and I believe fortune will be made by taking over the holdings of settlers who are forced to leave the country to escape starvation.

The flight from Canada this summer, and which has just now commenced, will be one of the historic phenomena of the year."
